Taylor University ranked #1 for Undergraduate Teaching by U.S. News & World Report

from Taylor University

For the second year in a row, U.S. News & World Report has ranked Taylor University the #1 College in the Midwest for Undergraduate Teaching, recognizing the University's exceptional commitment to student learning.

The distinction comes from the publication's annual Best Colleges list. To determine the ranking, U.S. News surveyed presidents, provosts (chief academic officers), and deans across the region, asking them to identify schools where faculty demonstrate outstanding dedication to baccalaureate education. Taylor received the highest number of nominations in its category.

"Taylor faculty view teaching as a calling," said Provost Dr. Jewerl Maxwell. "They invest deeply in students—bringing together rigorous academics, spiritual formation, and personal mentorship—so that every graduate is equipped to excel in their field and lead lives of purpose and impact."

This recognition reflects Taylor's ongoing investment in both students and faculty. Through the Bedi Center for Teaching and Learning Excellence, professors are equipped with seminars, workshops, and grants for innovative research and pedagogy. The result is a distinctive, Christ-centered approach to undergraduate education that produces measurable outcomes across disciplines.

Some outcomes of Taylor's dedication and investment include:

Health Sciences: For the last three years, 100% of Taylor graduates who successfully completed the University's pre-med advising program were accepted into medical schools across the country.

STEM Excellence: Taylor's Engineering program is ABET-accredited, aligning with rigorous industry standards. Meanwhile, Taylor is one of only 16 Christian colleges that has ACS (American Chemical Society) approved Chemistry and Biochemistry programs, providing students with

In addition to its #1 ranking for Undergraduate Teaching, US News named Taylor #4 overall among the 89 Midwest regional colleges included in its list, and #7 for Best Value. As Taylor enters its 180th year, the University continues to grow in equipping servant-leaders who are ready to meet the needs of the world with skill, creativity, and faith.

unparalleled access to resources.

Film & Media: Taylor's nationally recognized Film and Media program has won more than 1,200 external awards, including three consecutive first-place finishes in Documentary Programs from the Broadcast Education Association.

Expanding Programs: In the last five years, Taylor has launched more than 90 new majors, minors, concentrations, and certifications—from Artificial Intelligence/Machine Learning in Computer Science to Entrepreneurship & Economic Development and Military Science & Leadership—preparing graduates for impact in emerging fields.

Engineering professor and student working on project

Intercultural engagement is also a hallmark of a Taylor education. Each year, about 25% of Taylor's undergraduate student body participates in study abroad or service-learning opportunities around the world, preparing them to thrive in an increasingly global workforce.

Finally, the University is particularly proud of the moral discernment and character of its students. Taylor took 1st place last spring at the Midwest Ethics Bowl hosted by the University of Chicago, defeating teams from Harvard, Northwestern, and other top universities. That victory followed a third-place national finish in 2024, highlighting students' ability to engage today's toughest ethical questions with clarity and conviction.

Members of the Fairmount community to hold a revival Sunday evening

By Cathy Shouse

Sometimes a community Bible study turns into something more. That has been the case for Missy Musselman, Brennen Westerfield and a group of Fairmount area believers. Early in the summer, Westerfield started a women's Bible study at her Fairmount home. A couple of evenings a month, the women would gather to go through the Bible study, Seamless: Understanding the Bible as one complete story, by Angie Smith.

They've now put together a program Sunday evening, October 5, as the fruit of their efforts: Kingdom Unleashed Revival Night. From 6 p.m. 8 p.m., people are invited to gather at the Fairmount Campground. Pastor Brock Meyer will speak, and it will be a non-denominational event, free and open to the public.

Musselman explained how the idea came to her.

"What began as a dream has turned into a movement. In early June, I awoke from a vivid dream filled with the sounds of worship and the sight of people pouring in from every direction--lifting their hands and voices together in praise to God . . ." Musselman said. "I felt an overwhelming sense that what I experienced wasn't just for me--it was a call to action."

Musselman is a member of the Fairmount Friends Church's praise team, and as summer progressed, scheduling issues and other challenges caused her plans to evolve, and she secured a community venue.

"The urgency in my spirit remained, especially as I stood in my bathroom on the morning of September 11th, praying and asking God, 'What should I do? How do I prepare?'" She asked the ladies Bibles study to join her.

"The response was an overwhelming and enthusiastic YES--and just like that, Kingdom Unleashed Revival Night was born," she said. "What started as a conversation among a few women has grown into a full-scale, non-denominational worship event involving people from multiple churches, schools, and communities. . ."

The plan is to offer an evening of worship, prayer, testimony and connection. "It's a call back to the basics - to that moment you first fell in love with Jesus, or perhaps, just maybe it will be the first time you've ever met Him," she said. "The event will be focused on revival, the love of God, and a call to repentance." People may be baptized if they feel led.

Individuals and families are welcome. Children who would enjoy the service can come. There won't be child care.

An outpouring of support from local businesses and individuals has brought everything from banners and flyers, to t-shirts, candles, bracelets, and informational cards outlining the path to salvation through the "Roman Road."

worked tirelessly, as have some others, including having her mother, Jeryl Ricks, produce the T-shirts.

"The day that Missy asked the Bible study group about her dream was the exact same day I was approached by a community member about putting something together for the community," Westerfield said. "It was perfect timing."

Living...in a troubled world

Mysterious surgery: He removes the stony heart and replaces it with a heart of flesh

By Teresa LeNeave
leneave2@comcast.net

Whether its health or salvation, change always comes from the inside. To me, that is Jesus’ main message: “Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God” (John 3:3). That’s not where it ends. There is more: something beyond being born again. Although, being born again is the gateway, the Bible teaches there is much more than just believing. In fact, “the devils also believe, and tremble” (James 2:19). I’m reminded of a man named Nicodemus who was a devout Pharisee, a member of the Sanhedrin and a respected teacher of Jewish law. He had all the credentials for believing. He apparently, like all the other Jews of his time, was expecting a coming Messiah – a Messiah who would be King of the Jews. At the same time, Jesus, a Rabbi who was healing the sick and drawing huge crowds, captured the attention of Nicodemus, but he just couldn’t seem to connect all the dots. Nicodemus had lots of questions.

Because Nicodemus really did have a good heart toward God, and toward his fellowman, Jesus and His message, it was probably very enticing to Nicodemus. He was curious and wanted to know more about this mysterious man. Nicodemus being a highly educated man, was probably amazed at Jesus’ wisdom and his ability to perform great miracles. He was sure that only someone who had been sent from God could do these things. While Nicodemus would see him. He begins to question Jesus about the law. He even tells Jesus, “All you’re teaching - I’m doing”. After some the second time into his mother’s womb, and be reborn?”

This is where change comes from the inside: Jesus explains that a person who wants to follow God must be born two times. They must be born once in the natural and once in the spiritual. Jesus was explaining that no matter how much a person knows, or how much good they do, everyone needs to be changed on the inside.

Unfortunately, at this meeting, Nicodemus chooses not to join Jesus’ team. There were things he wasn’t, yet, willing to give up. In my heart, I believe Nicodemus finally does commit his life to Christ, although we can’t be sure of that. I also believe Nicodemus represents most all of us. We want change, but change is uncomfortable. And, being born again is hard to understand, but it simply means we have a new identity with a new purpose for living.

Only Jesus can perform this miraculous surgery: He removes a stony heart and replaces it with a heart of flesh. He changes us from the inside out. God says, “A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh” (Ezekiel 36:26). What a great promise! This surgery takes us beyond simply believing Jesus is real to believing He lives in our heart and has the power to mysteriously transform us into His likeness.

was fascinated by Jesus, the rest of the Sanhedrin were upset with Jesus. They were strongly against a law-defying, preacher turning the hearts of the people toward something they couldn’t understand. Because of the Sanhedrin’s opinion of Jesus, Nicodemus eventually arranges a secret meeting with Jesus in the darkness of night so no one conversation, Nicodemus admits he believes Jesus is truly the promised Redeemer since only a man sent from God could do what He was doing. Christ responds by saying, “...except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God”. Nicodemus was shocked and quickly asked, “How can a man be born when he is old? Can he enter

KNOW YOUR ENEMY

By Bro. Brandon G. Bramlett
Pastor - Bandana Baptist Church

Countless wars have been won following its principles, and countless more have been lost by ignoring them. Written over 2,400 years ago by a Chinese military strategist named Sun Tzu, The Art of War is essentially the Proverbs of conflict. Sun Tzu poured his greatest war wisdom into this treatise, and one of its most prominent principles is this: “Know the enemy and know yourself; in a hundred battles you will never be in peril. If ignorant both of your enemy and of yourself, you are certain in every battle to be in peril.”

This proverbial proposition is particularly pertinent in our struggle against the devil. Satan succeeds in seducing us when his schemes remain a secret. But our chances of triumphing over the Tempter increase when we recognize his tools, tactics, and tricks. “Knowing is half the battle,” as G.I. Joe used to say, and we can only craft a battle plan against Satan once we understand his. And the Bible reveals Satan’s playbook in Luke 4:1-13, where he employed three strategies to tempt Christ in the wilderness: doubt, deception, and distortion.

The devil first enticed Jesus to turn stones into bread, not to relieve His hunger, but to doubt the provision of His Father (v. 3). Satan was essentially insinuating, “What kind of God would starve His only begotten Son? You better make bread because your ‘God’ isn’t providing for you this time.” And his wicked whispers reach our ears, too: “What kind of loving God would allow your prayers to go unanswered? What kind of Father allows His children to go without?”

The slithering serpent also tried to lure Christ into temptation through deception (vv. 5-7). The father of lies claimed that all sovereignty and dominion belonged to him, and he could, therefore, grant Jesus the greatest empires of the world. But the truth is that all power, authority, and glory are the Lord’s (Matt. 6:13b).

Thus, Satan tells non-truths and half-truths but never the truth.

Lastly, the master of deceit used distortion to tempt the Lord Jesus (vv. 9-11). He twisted Psalm 91:11-12 to encourage Christ to leap from the temple roof to His death. The devil knows the Scripture and knows how to modify, misrepresent, and misuse it. He mixes lies with truth so that it is difficult to discern the difference. And this is not surprising since the first words uttered from his lying lips were, “Hath God said?” (Gen. 3:1a, KJV). And for each of these strategies, there is one proven defense: the word of God. Christ resisted every temptation by declaring, “It is written” (v. 4, 8, 12), and we must wield the sword of the Spirit in Satan’s face. A dusty Bible on our shelves will not help us, but the word of God stored upon the shelves of our soul certainly will. To vanquish Satan, you must know your enemy and know your Bible.

Freedom of speech is a God given right

By Dr. William F. Holland, Jr.

Each day we are seeing more division within our culture. There is only two sides, hate and love, and the separation is growing larger. Sadly, for those on the dark side, violence is becoming more acceptable. It’s obvious that insisting is not enough for those who now endorse terrorism. Today’s violence has a specific reason: it’s all about politics and religion, just like it’s been since time began. Destruction, death, and even wars have been fought simply because one side disagreed with what the other side believed. From attempts to murder the president to others being assassinated, one side hates the message and wants to silence the messenger. As these two sides become more recognizable, one side has a conscience and the other does not. It’s disturbing to see millions of people including even people we know, who are pleased with violence. How in the world could anyone in their right mind, especially someone who considers themselves a Christian, rejoice over people being killed, just because their worldviews are different? This is evidence that many are allowing hatred to control their minds, and this resentment has allowed a strong delusion to distort and blind their conscience. Political, religious, and social views are based on whether or not a person cares about what God demands. We know that millions of individuals have been murdered throughout the Old and New Testaments, because of their convictions. The number is too vast to know exactly how many have been silenced for their opinions, but only one side grieves because they know this is what Satan wants. The OpenDoors World Watch for 2024 reports that each day on average, more than 13 Christians are killed for their faith in Christ. This means that every two hours, a believer is murdered. From October 2023 to September 2024, nearly 300,000 Christians were forced to leave their homes, go into hiding, or flee their country of origin. Global persecution is real, and consistent, and yet we seldom think about how this brutality and suffering could one day be a reality for us. According to a recent survey by the American Psychological Association, nearly 75 percent of adults in the United States are stressed by mass shootings, and a third say this fear causes them to hesitate going to certain places and events. Arthur C. Evans Jr., PhD, and APA’s chief executive officer, says, “It’s clear that mass shootings are taking a toll on our mental health, and we don’t have to experience these events directly for them to have a negative impact on us.” Many people try to avoid thinking about how evil and persecution are increasing, but Christians are told to study the Bible to guide their faith as they obey His voice. Learning God’s will allows us to understand what is coming and how to develop confidence to speak boldly, and teach those who want to listen. Sadly, many who call themselves a follower of Jesus would rather hide in the closet. II Timothy chapter 3:1-5 is one of many passages that reveals the future and how we are to stand against sin. “This know also, that in the last days perilous times will come. For people will be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, arrogant, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, evil, unnatural perversion, back stabbers, false accusers, rebellious, fierce, haters of those who are good, traitors, conceited, highminded, lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God, and having a form of religion, but denying God’s power. Do not associate with these types of people.” Now is the hour to prepare and put on His armor, as verse 12 promises, “Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus will suffer persecution.” The end of the chapter encourages us to embrace what we have learned as His truth makes us wise unto salvation. As Christians, we are children of the light, and though we make mistakes and occasionally might fall into a lukewarm and discouraged state, we are saved by the grace of God! We are opposite from the dark side. We constantly pray and battle our flesh and the demonic attacks, so that we can live holy and pleasing unto the Lord. We will not hate the other side, we do not want to kill them, or destroy anything or anyone. We pray that we can live in His freedom and His peace. The world will know we are Christians because of our compassion, intercession, forgiveness, wisdom, discernment, faith, hope, and love. Please read II Corinthians chapter 4. Clean Water Saves Lives: Walk 4 Water Exceeds Goal– and Hope

By: Ryan Scherer
Preacher/Evangelist
Huntingburg Church of Christ

Here in Southern Indiana, it's easy to take things for granted, like instant access to clean, healthy drinking water right from our faucets. But for much of the world, especially in developing countries, that luxury doesn't exist.

That's why the Huntingburg Church of Christ hosted its 3rd annual Southern Indiana Walk 4 Water on Saturday, September 13th. In many villages across the globe, women and children walk up to four miles a day to fetch water for their families. Often, this water is contaminated, as it's the same water that animals use. The Huntingburg walk aimed to raise awareness and funds by having participants walk four miles, with the option of carrying water jugs of various weights.

Keatan Kibby, a 17-year-old from Jasper, carried a 50-pound jug for the entire four miles. The experience was eye-opening for him. He said, "It was heavy; it hurt! To do that every day is just insane to me. I have great respect for them." He added that he was very glad a new well would help people in need.

Leading up to the event, participants were encouraged to raise funds through asking friends and family for donations, bake sales, change cans in public places, and corporate sponsorships. The goal was to raise a minimum of $7,500, which is the cost of drilling a single, functioning well.

The 2024 walk successfully funded a well in Malawi, Africa. Ryan Scherer, the minister of the Huntingburg Church of Christ, shared a powerful moment: "When Healing Hands sent us a video of the first drops of water being pumped from a well that was recently dug, it was very moving. The entire village was present, and cheers rang out like they just won a championship soccer match. How can that not bring you to tears?" This reaction is consistent with every instance that a new well becomes operational.

This year, Regional Coordinator Paul Wisdom Jr. (while requesting a drumroll) announced that the church had raised over $8,900, exceeding the goal. With the extra funds, the organization Healing Hands will be able to repair wells that have fallen into disrepair.

Kaci Wehr, the church's Walk 4 Water organizer, concluded, "I am so honored to continue to be a part of hosting this program.

Our third year, 2025, was successful due to our church family and our beautiful, giving community. From corporate to individual donors, YOU helped change lives! We can be the hands and feet of Jesus. We can serve even those across the globe. This one event will spread hope and joy to an entire village. What a beautiful reminder Walk4Water is of Matthew 25:35. I am so grateful to all that supported spiritually and financially. Thank you!"

Trojans sweep MSFA weekly honors

UPLAND, Ind. – The Mid-States Football Association announced its Mid-east League Players of the Week on Monday, with RV Taylor sweeping the offensive, defensive and special teams awards following its 63-7 victory at Judson.

Nathan Parker was named the MSFA Mideast League Offensive Player of the Week for a third time this season after finding the end zone two more times and averaging 11.1 yards per carry for 122 rushing yards on the afternoon. The sophomore has had at least 95 yards rushing and one touchdown in each of TU's first four games and currently ranks No. 3 in the NAIA with 140.3 rushing yards per game and No. 3 with 10 rushing scores.

Caleb Ranzau was selected as the MSFA Mideast League Defensive Player of the Week following his three sack effort against the Eagles. The senior defensive end saw his trio of sacks result in a loss of 18 yards for Judson, as TU held Judson to minus-26 yards on the ground. With the three sacks, Ranzau now ranks No. 8 in the NAIA with 4.5 sacks this season.

Lucas Shilts earned his second MSFA Mideast League Special Teams Player-of-the-Week nod of the season by going seven-for-seven in point-after attempts and registering a trio of touchbacks on kickoffs. Shilts has opened the 2025 campaign 25-for-25 in point-after attempts, ranking No. 5 in the NAIA with 25 extra-points.

The MSFA weekly award is the third for Parker in his career, with all three coming this season, while Ranzau was honored for the first time in his career. Shilts garnered the weekly accolade for a sixth time in his career with the Purple and Gray.

Parker, Ranzau and Shilts joined Will Schuitema (men's golf) and Jaynie Halterman (women's cross country) in earning weekly awards from their conference on Monday, moving Taylor's total number of athlete-of-the-week honors from the fall to 16.

RV Taylor (3-1) will be back in action on Saturday, October 4, when it hosts RV Saint Francis (3-1) in a 1:00 pm start inside Turner Stadium.

Taylor University moves closer to Top-25 after 3rd straight win

UPLAND, Ind. – The Taylor football program inched closer to a Top-25 rating by moving up four spots in the receiving votes portion of the national poll announced on Monday.

The Trojans hauled in 38 points in the new ratings, doubling their total from the previous poll and climbing from the 32nd-highest total to the 28th.

TU moved up following a 63-7 thrashing of Judson on September 27, a win that saw the Trojans produce season-bests with 63 points, 641 total yards of offense, 258 passing yards and 383 rushing yards. Taylor also turned in its best defensive showing of the young season, allowing just seven points on 164 yards, while limiting JU to negative-26 yards on the ground and piling up seven sacks and 13 hits for lost yardage.

Taylor has opened the season with four-straight outings of at least 42 points for the first time in program history, and enters the season's fifth week ranking No. 2 in the NAIA with 303.5 rushing yards per game, No. 3 with 48.0 points per game and No. 9 with 478.0 total yards of offense per game.

RV Taylor (3-1) will look to extend its three-game win streak when it hosts RV Saint Francis (3-1) for Homecoming on Saturday, October 4 at 1:00 pm.

Indiana Arts Commission Awards $2.4 M in Grants to 345 Organizations Statewide

(INDIANAPOLIS) Recently, the Indiana Arts Commission (IAC) announced it has awarded $2,438,998 to 345 nonprofit and public entities to fund arts projects and organizations around the state through the Fiscal Year 2026 Arts Organization Support and FY26 Spring Arts Project Support grant programs.

During its July Quarterly Business Meeting, the Commission approved the funding recommendations for the two grant programs. Applications were evaluated by 133 external grant reviewers from around the state and country with expertise in the arts, community development, and nonprofit management. Generations was awarded a $3100 grant to develop an Art Activity Booklet for Caregivers and Care Recipients and host ten sample sessions for them across the 6 counties they serve. The booklet and sessions focus on joyful activities that Caregivers and Care Recipients can engage in together to create positive, memorable experiences.

Arts Organization Support grants provide funding to Indiana nonprofit organizations and public entities for a specific arts project or arts activity(ies). The Arts Project Support and Arts Organization Support programs are facilitated in partnership with the IAC Regional Arts Partners, who work alongside the agency to promote and expand participation in the arts in Indiana. Between both programs, 345 applications out of 545 received were recommended for funding, and 80 of Indiana’s 92 counties will receive direct investment through a funded arts organization or arts project.

“This is an exciting time for our state and for the many organizations selected and their communities,” said Dave Haist, Chair of the Indiana Arts Commission. “Each of our Commissioners believe deeply in the critical importance of the arts in making Indiana a place for all to want to live and work and for those not within our state to consider Indiana as a place to locate their families and businesses and invest in Indiana’s future.”

Art Project Support grants are offered twice per fiscal year. Applications for the Fall cycle of the program are currently open and will be accepted through September 30th at 11:59PM ET.

“Art and creativity create stronger, more connected Hoosier communities,” said Miah Michaelson, Executive Director of the Indiana Arts Commission. “Across Indiana, public funding for arts and creativity continually proves to be a high-return investment that improves the quality of life of Hoosiers and drives economic development within our state. We are proud to support organizations and projects that develop connections, foster the entrepreneurial spirit of communities, and create the kinds of places where people want to live, work, study, and stay.”

VU invests $33.9M in new health sciences education center

By: SIBR news

VINCENNES – Vincennes University’s new center for healthcare education is just months from completion and represents a significant investment in the future of healthcare training.

The new Center for Health Sciences and Innovative Learning will transform and elevate the future of education and healthcare training. The $33.9 million facility is the single largest building project in VU history, made possible through state funding.

The new Center for Health Sciences and Innovative Learning is nearly double the size of the current College of Health Sciences and Human Performance at VU. (Photo courtesy VU)

At more than 72,000 square feet, the two-story center nearly doubles the size of the current College of Health Sciences and Human Performance building. It provides smart classrooms, academic and administrative offices, active learning spaces that will be utilized by all colleges on campus, and study and lounge areas. Key highlights are the ultra-modern clinical simulation labs — including high-fidelity manikins, virtual reality simulators, and video recording systems — that immerse students in lifelike healthcare environments.

“This center will provide essential classroom and lab spaces, inspiring the growth of skilled professionals dedicated to enhancing Indiana communities and making a positive impact,” said College of Health Sciences and Human Performance Dean Michelle Cummins.

Environmental sustainability is at the forefront of the design. Expansive glass, natural daylighting strategies, outdoor terraces, and an inviting plaza overlooking the Updike Fountain create a healthy, energizing environment for learning and collaboration.

Opening in January 2026, the center will be home to programs in Nursing, Health Information Management, Surgical Technology, Physical Therapist Assistant, Pharmacy Technology, and Funeral Service Education.

The Kingsmen, The Riddells in concert at Epworth Church

Epworth Church, 105 W 8th St, Matthews, Indiana is pleased to announce The Kingsmen Quartet with The Riddells in concert on Saturday, October 11, 2025! Doors open at 6 PM, Concert starts at 7 PM. Tickets are $15. Also, a love offering will be received. Limited seating, To guarantee your seats, please purchase tickets in advance online at epworthworship.com/ kingsmen or call/text 765-667-0842.

So what more can you do when you possess a mammoth legacy such as that of the Kingsmen? The answer...keep singing and ministering the gospel, and keep releasing music with lyrics relevant to the lives of the listeners. The same drive and work ethic that brought the Kingsmen to incredible heights more than a half century ago, secures the Kingsmen's continued place among the top male quartets in Christian music today.

The year was 1956, when a group of brothers in western NC joined together in forming the Kingsmen

Quartet. This team of young men likely had no idea what they were beginning. By the early 1970s, the Kingsmen had ascended to the peak of the gospel music industry with their Dove Award-winning record, Big and Live. Since then, the momentum has never stopped. Just since 2015, the quartet has placed six more songs atop the southern gospel radio charts, received two more GMA Dove Award nominations, as well as a #1 album on the Billboard Chart.

More than seven decades of continued success has granted the Kingsmen some of Christian music's most prestigious achievements. In 2000 they were inducted into the Gospel Music Hall of Fame, the Christian Music Hall of Fame in 2008, and nine of the quartet's prestigious alumni are members of the Southern Gospel Music Hall of Fame. In 1977 they performed on the south lawn of the White House for President Jimmy Carter, and in 1982 they performed at the opening ceremony of the World's Fair in Knoxville, TN which was broadcast on local and regional TV.

with President Ronald Reagan present to open the fair. The Kingsmen was also the first group to film and record a live performance at the famous Grand Ole Opry in Nashville in 1986. They have received more than 50 group and individual Singing News Fan Awards, including Favorite Group, Favorite Male Quartet, as well as both Favorite Song and Album for their signature performance, "Wish You Were Here"

Among their extensive list of hits include some of gospel music's most legendary classics...songs like “Saints Will Rise”, “The Judgement”, “Glory Road”, “Look for Me at Jesus’ Feet”, “Is That the Old Ship of Zion”, “He’s All I Need”, “The Next Cloud”, “I Can’t Even Walk Without You Holding My Hand”, “Battle Cry”, and “When God Ran” are but a few of the more than 100 charted classics in the career of the Kingsmen.

After nearly six decades anchoring the quartet as their award-winning bass vocalist, Ray Dean Reese, now in his 80s, cheers the next generation of this iconic name from the sidelines.

as their prestigious owner and CEO. “The Kingsmen tour year in and year out to spread our music to people across the country,” Reese shares, “Our music has a message, the message of Christ. Every night we work to bring His message to our audience. Our goal is to see people saved through Jesus Christ whether we’re singing indoors, outdoors, in an auditorium, church or studio recordings.” Joining Reese are his son and road manager Brandon Reese, with the quartet’s youngest stage team in more than forty years... baritone & emcee Alan Kendall, tenor Harold Reed, lead Cole Watson, and bass/pianist Brady Jones.

The Riddells are a family trio consisting of Sonja and her children Justin and Kayla. They have been in the ministry since 2001. Each member brings their own unique style to the group. The Riddells are a mix of Bluegrass, Contemporary, and Soul tied together with a Southern Gospel bow. They have had many experiences along the way and have found God to be ever faithful. In their years of traveling, they have sang in 19 states, as well as Jamaica. This family truly loves life on the road, but to them it is not a hobby, a pastime, or an occupation. It is a calling.

The Power of Delayed Castration

Research has shown that bull calves gain and develop faster and more efficiently than steer calves castrated soon after birth. This approach avoids the use of synthetic hormone implants, qualifying cattle for the premium natural beef programs.

Surgical castration of bull calves and yearlings causes stress from blood loss and physical changes to the body. With Callicrate Banders, stress is reduced.

Castration Made Easy!

The Callicrate Bander is a humane banding system that makes castrating bulls safe, easy, and stress-free for both you and your cattle. You can castrate bulls at any time of year without losing gains.

The bottom line is that high-tension banding is faster, easier, and less traumatic for the animal than surgical castration.”
