Local McDonald’s manager Morgan Puckett, named among Top 1% worldwide

BENTON, KY – Local McDonald’s manager Morgan Puckett, manager of the McDonald’s restaurant in Benton, has been selected as a Ray Kroc Award recipient, placing her among the top 1% of McDonald’s Restaurant Managers worldwide. Only 137 managers across the United States earned the award this year. The Ray Kroc Award recognizes outstanding leadership, dedication to customer service, and positive impact on restaurant teams and communities. Named after McDonald’s founder Ray Kroc, the award honors managers who uphold his vision of teamwork and hospitality. Local franchise owners Conrad Love and Michael Love Jr., along with McDonald’s long-time icon Mike Love hosted a surprise celebration for Puckett on Thursday, Nov. 10, at 9:30 a.m. at the Benton McDonald’s. Puckett will also be recognized next year at McDonald’s Worldwide Convention.

Former Miss Kentucky Basketball, Mary Taylor Cowles inducted into WKU Athletic Hall Of Fame

By: WKUSPORTS.com

Three great names in the history of Western Kentucky University Athletics were inducted as the 34th class into the WKU Athletic Hall of Fame this fall in ceremonies set for Homecoming on Saturday, Nov. 1. The 2025 Hall of Fame class includes Mary Taylor Cowles (Women’s Basketball coach and athlete), William “Jelly” Green (Football, Track and Field), and Walt Heath (Football). The induction of the 2025 class brought a number of former WKU athletes and coaches to earn berths in the school’s Athletic Hall of Fame to 176 since its founding in 1991. The 2025 class were inducted in a ceremony highlighting the annual W-Club Homecoming Brunch, set for 9:30 a.m. CT on Saturday, Nov. 1, on the main floor (John Oldham Court) in E.A. Diddle Arena on the WKU campus in Bowling Green. Now, more about the members of the 2025 WKU Athletic Hall of Fame class:

Walt Heath / Football, 4 letters (1965-68) – A four-year starter as a defensive lineman for the Hilltoppers, Heath earned All-America honors as a senior in 1968. Also a two-time first-team pick on the All-OVC Team (1967 and 1968), he started at defensive tackle four straight years, ranking in the top three on the club in tackles every season. He earned a reputation as “the most dependable defensive lineman in the OVC.” Heath narrowly missed league Defensive Player of the Year honors as a junior, finishing a close second in the balloting. He recorded 93 tackles (49 main stops/44 assists) as a freshman, 66 (44/25) as a sophomore, 69 (40/29) as a junior and 78 (53/25) his senior season, totaling 306 tackles for his career (183 main tackles/123 assists). His freshman-dominated team struggled in 1965, improved considerably in 1966 and then enjoyed outstanding seasons his last two years, going 7-1-1 (5-1-1 in the OVC) in 1967 and 7-2-1 (5-2 in the league) in 1968 – 14-3-2 overall and 10-3-1 in the OVC. He captained the Toppers as a senior.

Mary Taylor Cowles / Basketball, 4 letters (1988-91); Assistant Coach (1994-01); Head Coach (2002-12) – Cowles was a part of Lady Topper basketball for a record 21 seasons – four as an outstanding player, seven as an assistant coach and 10 as head coach. Those teams posted 19 winning seasons, including 15 20-win years (seven in her 10 years as head coach). She represented WKU in 664 games and was a part of 447 Lady Topper victories, both numbers the most ever for anyone affiliated with the program, and including 199 wins as head coach (Second only to Hall of Fame Coach Paul Sanderford). Her teams made 18 postseason tournament appearances – 13 in the NCAA (three as a player, eight as an Assistant Coach and two as Head Coach), plus five in the WNIT. Her teams won eight Sun Belt regular-season crowns and six league tourney titles. She earned SBC Coach of the Year honors three times (2003, 2006 and 2008). She completed her playing career on The Hill as the 16th Lady Topper to score 1,000 points (1,072) and ranked in the top 10 in four stat categories, including rebounding and blocked shots. She was an SBC All-Tournament pick in both 1988 and in 1991 when she was elected the event’s Most Outstanding Player. She was a one of 15 named to the All-Time Lady Topper Team selected as a part of WKU’s Centennial Celebration in 2006.

Walt Heath / Football, 4 letters (1965-68) – A four-year starter as a defensive lineman for the Hilltoppers, Heath earned All-America honors as a senior in 1968. Also a two-time first-team pick on the All-OVC Team (1967 and 1968), he started at defensive tackle four straight years, ranking in the top three on the club in tackles every season. He earned a reputation as “the most dependable defensive lineman in the OVC.” Heath narrowly missed league Defensive Player of the Year honors as a junior, finishing a close second in the balloting. He recorded 93 tackles (49 main stops/44 assists) as a freshman, 66 (44/25) as a sophomore, 69 (40/29) as a junior and 78 (53/25) his senior season, totaling 306 tackles for his career (183 main tackles/123 assists). His freshman-dominated team struggled in 1965, improved considerably in 1966 and then enjoyed outstanding seasons his last two years, going 7-1-1 (5-1-1 in the OVC) in 1967 and 7-2-1 (5-2 in the league) in 1968 – 14-3-2 overall and 10-3-1 in the OVC. He captained the Toppers as a senior.

KSP Arrests Calloway County Man on Multiple Felony Charges Following Kirksey Collision

By Wilbur Jackson
KPI Writer

KIRKSEY, Ky. – The Kentucky State Police (KSP) Post 1 has arrested a Calloway County man on multiple felony charges following a two-vehicle collision in the Kirksey community on Tuesday afternoon.

According to KSP, troopers were dispatched around 4:00 p.m. on November 4 to the intersection of Backusburg Road and Marigold Drive for a report of a non-injury collision involving two vehicles. Trooper Underhill responded to investigate the incident. During the investigation, it was determined that one of the drivers involved, identified as Justun Wallmann, 48, of Kirksey, was operating his vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating substances.

When Trooper Underhill informed Wallmann that he was being placed under arrest, he allegedly resisted and attempted to flee the scene on foot. Trooper Underhill deployed her Taser to subdue Wallmann, successfully taking him into custody without further incident.

A subsequent search of Wallmann’s vehicle revealed evidence of drug trafficking and firearm possession. Troopers located a handgun, approximately 70 grams of methamphetamine, and 25 pills that have been sent to a state laboratory for identification. Investigators believe the amount of methamphetamine indicates intent to distribute, rather than personal use. As a result of the investigation, Justun Wallmann was arrested and charged with multiple offenses, including Trafficking in Controlled Substance (1st Degree), Possession of a Handgun by a Convicted Felon, Possession of Controlled Substance (3rd Degree), Illegal Possession of a Legend Drug, Prescription Controlled Substance Not in Proper Container, Operating a Motor Vehicle Under the Influence of Substances, Resisting Arrest, Fleeing or Evading Police (2nd Degree on Foot), and Reckless Driving.

Wallmann was medically evaluated following his arrest and subsequently lodged in the Calloway County Jail.

The Kentucky State Police expressed appreciation for the assistance provided by the Calloway County Sheriff’s Office and Murray-Calloway County EMS during the response and investigation.

This incident remains under investigation by Trooper Underhill of KSP Post 1, which continues to emphasize its commitment to keeping Kentucky’s roadways and communities safe from impaired and criminal driving activity. The agency reminds motorists that driving under the influence endangers not only the driver but everyone sharing the road, and urges residents to report suspicious or impaired drivers immediately to law enforcement.

Deputies Arrest Paducah Man After Armed Disturbance in Reidland

McCracken County Sheriff’s deputies responded to a residence in the Fisher Road area of Reidland following a report of a disturbance involving a firearm. Upon arrival, deputies located a male and female who stated they had been involved in a verbal altercation.

During the investigation, deputies learned the female victim had previously been assaulted by the male suspect on scene. Deputies also determined that the suspect had engaged in a separate verbal confrontation with another male victim, during which he brandished an AR-style pistol and made threats to harm the man while pointing the weapon in his direction.

The suspect, identified as 21-year-old Brian Liverman of Paducah, Kentucky, was taken into custody without incident. Multiple firearms and items of drug paraphernalia were seized during the arrest.

While deputies served an Emergency Protection Order at the McCracken County Jail, Liverman allegedly made additional statements threatening serious harm or death toward the female victim. He was subsequently charged with Terroristic Threatening 3rd Degree.

Liverman faces multiple charges, including Wanton Endangerment 1st Degree, Strangulation 1st Degree (Domestic Violence Related), Menacing, Disorderly Conduct, Possession of Marijuana, and Possession of Drug Paraphernalia.

Bomber Football Season Ends In Muhlenberg

By Tim Taylor
KPI Writer

A disappointing won-loss season for Ballard Memorial football came to an end as Muhlenberg County defeated the Bombers 42-0 in the season finale. The 5A Mustangs scored a late first half touchdown to go ahead 21-0 at the break and pulled away for a decisive win in the last game of the season. It was the third consecutive shutout for the Bomber offense that struggled putting points on the scoreboard this season. After scoring 28 points in the season opener, the Bombers managed only 26 points in the remaining 9 games and were shutout in 6 of their 10 games. Ballard Memorial was able to move the ball offensively at times in their final game of the season, but 5 turnovers stopped any progress and prevented the Bombers from putting points on the scoreboard.

The Bombers defensively had problems preventing big plays throughout the season, but limited those chunk plays for much of the night against Muhlenberg. The Mustangs had a 14 play drive that ate up over 7 minutes of playing time to take the 14 point lead in the 2nd quarter. Late in the half they struck gold on a 31 yard TD pass with 1:10 remaining on a drive that went 93 yards in 9-plays to put the game away. Muhlenberg put 21 more points on the scoreboard in the 3rd quarter including a 50-yard punt return touchdown to conclude the quarter for the 42-0 lead. “We played hard and I am proud of these seniors,” said Coach Jon Hedges following the final game. He added, “I am ready to put this season behind us and move on to the next season. We are going to get back to the drawing board get our kids ready for the next season.”

Solomon Earns 1st Region Coach Of Year

By Tim Taylor
KPI Writer

For the 5th time since 2012, Ballard Memorial volleyball Coach Adam Solomon has been selected by the Kentucky Volleyball Coaches Association 1st Region Coach of the Year. In a storied high school coaching career, Solomon this season earned his 400th career victory, led the Lady Bombers to a regular season 3rd District title, the team’s 5th 1st Region All A title, their 4th ever All A State Elite 8 appearance. He did this, finishing the 2025 season with only one senior on the team as they ended 24-9 on the year. Solomon earned the 1st Region Coach of the Year honors in 2012, 2014, 2020, 2021, and now 2025. In his 18th season as the Lady Bomber volleyball coach, Solomon said of the 2025 award, “It’s great to be recognized by other region 1 coaches again, but I would trade the award for another win for the team.” The winningest coach in Ballard Memorial sports added, “Personal recognition is flattering, but I contribute a huge part of this award to our deep, talented, and committed players this season. We had a great year this season. One we can all be proud of.” Another successful season next year in 2026 could make Solomon a favorite for the award again next year. It would make him the only coach with multiple back-to-back 1st Region Coach of the Year recipients.

Farmers cautiously optimistic on China’s commitment to purchase U.S. soybeans

By Rae Wagoner
Kentucky Soybean Association

The Kentucky Soybean Association (KSA) welcomes the Trump administration’s latest actions to prioritize Kentucky and U.S. soybean farmers in the recent announcement regarding U.S. – China trade. Following months of uncertainty around Chinese purchases of U.S. soybeans and other agricultural products, this positive development is encouraging news for Kentucky farm families who rely on open market access to drive soybean demand.

While details are still emerging, over the weekend the White House released a fact sheet indicating that China has agreed to purchase a minimum of 12 million metric tons (MMT) of U.S. soybeans during the last two months of 2025. That translates to about 441 million bushels, and KSA is pleased to see the number framed as a minimum. While this is a large number, it represents less than half of China’s most recent annual purchase levels.

The White House release further indicated China’s agreement to purchase at least 25 MMT of U.S. soybeans in each of 2026, 2027, and 2028. China also agreed to resume purchasing U.S. sorghum and hardwood logs. In addition, China will take significant measures to end the flow of fentanyl to the United States. Specifically, China will stop the shipment of certain designated chemicals to North America and strictly control exports of certain other chemicals to all destinations in the world.

China will suspend all of the retaliatory tariffs that it has announced since March 4, 2025. This includes tariffs on a vast swath of U.S. agricultural products: chicken, wheat, corn, cotton, sorghum, soybeans, pork, beef, aquatic products, fruits, vegetables, and dairy products.

“We need China as a market, and we are thankful that they’re buying U.S. beans again,” said KSA

President Jonathan Reynolds, who farms near Clinton. “But this purchase, or any one purchase, isn’t the magic bullet that will end the farm economy crisis. Purchase commitments don’t necessarily mean real sales, like we have seen with China not meeting the purchase minimums they agreed to in the Phase One deal. We have to diversify our markets, and I for one think that keeping more U.S. soybeans here and increasing our domestic crush for uses in the biofuels market is another step in the right direction.”

Biofuels include not only biodiesel, but also renewable diesel and sustainable/synthetic aviation fuel (SAF), all of which can be made with soybean oil. As airlines continue to work on reducing their carbon footprints, biofuels like SAF are receiving a great deal of attention globally. Strengthening biofuels policy to grow reliable domestic demand for soy is a high priority for the American Soybean Association, as is removing tariffs on inputs to reduce production costs. The high price of inputs, (seed, chemistries, and fertilizer) on top of the price of buying and repairing equipment, on top of land costs whether you own or rent – there are many variables that can affect a farmer’s bottom line.

“We knew when we planted our crops that soybeans would likely be on the front lines again, and I think most of us knew it would be a rough year,” Reynolds said. “No farmer I know wants to make his payments by getting a check from the government – we all want to make our money fair and square. But when the crop we grow is being used as a tool in a much larger battle to correct trade imbalances, we don’t really have much of a choice.”

“We appreciate the Administration’s work to rectify the trade situation and are looking forward to having harvest 2025 wrapped up so that we can turn our attention to a better 2026 crop and marketing year,” Reynolds concluded.

Livestock exposition coming to Kentucky Expo Center next week

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — The North American International Livestock Exposition (NAILE) begins next week at the Kentucky Exposition Center.

Showcasing a record-breaking number of entries, the internationally attended event runs through Nov. 20. With 1,800 more entries than 2024, NAILE will feature nearly 27,000 livestock entries across a variety of species, including cattle, goats, sheep, swine and more.

“Today, we welcome thousands of exhibitors, their livestock, and their competitive spirit to Louisville, Kentucky,” said David S. Beck, president and CEO of Kentucky Venues. “We’re thankful to see record growth and interest in our exposition. At this cornerstone event, we will showcase the best of the breeds on our iconic green shavings, recognize individuals in the industry who dedicate their livelihood to the betterment of agriculture and others, while facilitating our mission of developing the next generation of leaders who will shape our future.”

While NAILE remains rooted in tradition, the show continues to evolve. Visitors will notice Kentucky Venues is in the midst of a major expansion and renovation project, which included the demolition of Newmarket Hall, long known for hosting livestock sales during NAILE. This year, sales will be moved throughout the facility, including at the Hitching Post, which will also serve as an entertainment tent featuring live music and food on select days.

The North American Championship Rodeo will be at Freedom Hall Nov. 13-15. Before and after the rodeo, visitors can explore the North American Country Store, featuring more than 100 vendors. Live country music and Kentucky cooking will be at the Hitching Post. Headlining acts include Chancey Williams, Alex Miller, Kentucky Headhunters, Soul Circus and more, taking the stage Nov. 13–18.

Sudoku Puzzle

How it Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle! Good Luck! ANSWERS ON CLASSIFIED PAGE IN B SECTION.

Bandana Baptist celebrating 125th anniversary

BY: CHIP HUTCHESON
Kentucky Today

BANDANA, Ky. (KT) — Bandana Baptist Church — located in a community with about 100 people — will celebrate its 125th anniversary Sunday. Even though in a small town, “the church has remained strong and is still thriving,” said Pastor Brandon Bramlett.

“We have a couple of churches, a post office that is still operational and a Dollar General,” said Bramlett, who has pastored the church since April 2024. “The same fundamental principles that marked the church when it was founded still marks the church today.”

He said church records shown that on Nov. 14, 1900, 19 members from eight churches in Ballard and McCracken counties in Kentucky and Massac County (Ill.) met in Bandana, to “organize a Missionary Baptist Church.”

“Those churches sent a few of their members to plant a church. All of those probably thought differently on secondary issues, but they put that aside because they knew Bandana needed a church, Bandana especially needed the gospel.” Bramlett said that concern for lost souls has been the dominant mark of the church.

“We are still going door to door in the community, preaching the gospel to people, just like they did 125 years ago.”

Until 1922, the church was known as First Baptist Church of Bandana. The current church name was adopted on Nov. 15, 1922, when there was a fire that destroyed the building. The church was rebuilt and subsequently renamed the same year.

The turn of the 20th century saw rapid growth of the church. Much of that growth was from members of surrounding churches who sought to unite with the newly formed church in Bandana.

The first pastor was a founding member from the First Baptist Church of Metropolis, Ill., Elder L. B. Duncan. At the turn of the century, churches on both sides of the Ohio River were cooperating to plant churches and proclaim the gospel in the Heartland.

Sunday’s service starts at 9:30 a.m. Preaching will be by Neil Eidson and “For Heaven’s Sake” will provide special music. A fellowship meal will follow the anniversary service.

Eidson was called into the ministry at a young age at the church, and his family has been part of the church for generations. “You’ll find several Eidsons through the years in church records — as Sunday school teachers, piano players, deacons,” Bramlett said. “Neil used to pastor at Providence Baptist Church in Monkey’s Eyebrow and has pastored out of state. After he retired, he became an active member at Bandana Baptist and became a deacon. He does a lot. He teaches Sunday school and is a regular encourager to me. He has given me basically his pastoral library.”

“We are going to light candles in memory of all members we’ve lost since 2000-25 — about 60 have gone home to be with Lord, including many former pastors,” Bramlett noted. There are plans to “honor the honorable,” which will include presenting a certificate to the oldest living member, Pauline Owsley, who still attends church at age 99. Also honored will be the longest serving deacon. The church will present a founding family descendant award to Creo Christian, whose husband’s family can be traced back to the church’s founding. “Generations of the Christian family have been members here,” Bramlett said.

Bramlett said a major milestone in the church’s history occurred in the early 1990s. When the school in Bandana was consolidated into the Ballard County school system, there was consideration given to making the Bandana school a museum. But Larry Purcell was the pastor at that time and led the way for Bandana Baptist to purchase the building to be used as a life center. “We still use it today,” Bramlett said. “It’s an incredible facility — probably 14 rooms, a cafeteria and gym. The church had a dedication service December 1993 — and I wasn’t born yet. Our church is better off for having that facility. We use it all the time, and we’re excited how the Lord might use it in the future.” It also serves the community, as evidenced by the 2009 ice storm where National Guard troops were housed in that building.

A letter from the White House when Bandana Baptist celebrated its 100th anniversary. The message was from President Bill Clinton.

When Bandana Baptist celebrated its 100th anniversary, the White House sent its congratulations. Former President Bill Clinton sent a signed letter that read:

“Greetings to everyone gathered to celebrate the 100th anniversary of Bandana Baptist Church.

“The anniversary of a place of worship is a testament to the lasting faith of a community. This faith is a covenant that binds members of a congregation together in a spirit of fellowship.

“Our country was founded on a great tradition of religious liberty. This freedom helps to unite our nation of diverse faiths and creeds and gives us common ground for tolerance and understanding of others.

“Your precious faith and freedom come with great responsibilities. This celebration is a reminder of the ways that God’s gifts can be used to fulfill obligation to others.

“Best wishes for a memorable ceremony and for great success in the future.”

Say THANK YOU for serving our country!

BY: Greg LeNeave
Publisher, KPI

I want to encourage everyone to do something easy. Say you're talking to someone, and while you're speaking with them, you find out they've served in the military. Tell them "THANK YOU for SERVING OUR COUNTRY."

for SERVING OUR COUNTRY."

It's easy to do. Several years ago during Thanksgiving, my son, Rob LeNeave, (who was a Petty Officer 3rd Class, U.S. Navy at the time), came home for his holiday break. Since our family wouldn't have another chance to do Christmas with him before his leave was up, we all got together for an early Christmas party. My wife, Teresa, wanted everyone to say what they were thankful for after we'd opened our presents. Bobby really put it all in perspective when he said, "I'm proud of our country." After traveling around the world, he said, "There is no place else like the United States of America."

Coming from a military man, you have to really be proud of how good we have it here in America. What's amazing is the fact we have the right to worship as we choose, the right to free speech and many more privileges; far too numerous to mention, far more than any other country in the world.

So take time and acknowledge those who put their life on the line for you and this country. Many have gone before and have served our great nation. They deserve our praise and gratitude.

Marvin Downing Shares Memoir of Circuit Riding Minister at Jackson Purchase Historical Society Meeting November 15

The Jackson Purchase Historical Society will host a program at 10:30 on Saturday, November 15 in the events center at the Martin Public Library at 410 South Lindell Street, Martin, Tennessee. Marvin Downing will discuss the memoir of Weakley County native Hope Hart, briefly summarizing Hart’s life, sketching the book’s content, and reading short selections from Hart’s early life in the Purchase region. Dr. Marvin Downing is professor emeritus of history at the University of Tennessee, Martin. He received his PhD from the University of Oklahoma and has published in the West Tennessee Historical Society Papers, Journal of the Jackson Purchase Historical Society, and Tennessee Historical Quarterly. A Thousand Weddings: The Memoir of Hope Hart of West Tennessee, edited with an introduction by Downing, was published earlier this year by the University of Tennessee Press. The book follows the family of Sterling Hart, a traveling Methodist minister from Weakley County, as he preaches and performs wedding ceremonies across Tennessee, Kentucky, Mississippi, and Arkansas. Throughout her childhood, Hope Hart witnessed the last days of the nineteenth- century Methodist circuit riders and the rapid evolution of the post-Civil War South. Hart’s reminiscences offer firsthand accounts of a rapidly changing West Tennessee and its surrounding regions during the early twentieth century. Through a blend of personal anecdotes and historical context, she paints a vivid picture of life during this time, including rich descriptions of clothing, food, transportation, and attitudes toward religion, race, education, and marriage. The memoir provides a personal and heartwarming journey through Jackson Purchase history. In 1958, a group of historians met in Murray, Kentucky led by faculty from Murray State University and University of Tennessee- Martin and formed the Jackson Purchase Historical Society to promote interest, study, and preservation of the regional history of the territory encompassed in the Treaty of Tuscaloosa, known as the Jackson Purchase. The society holds several meetings each year with a speaker on Jackson Purchase history and publishes an award- winning journal on regional history. Members include a wide range of people who simply share a love of history and a love of the Jackson future Purchase area.

Fiscal Court Reviews Aid, Rescue, and Bridge Projects

By: Kelsey Edwards
Editor

The Marshall County Fiscal Court held its regular meeting on October 21, 2025, where members heard reports from West Kentucky Allied Services, the county Rescue Squad, and the Road Department, along with other regular business. West Kentucky Allied Services CEO Uppinder Mehan opened the meeting with a presentation on the organization’s programs that serve low-income households across the Purchase region. The nonprofit offers both short- and long-term assistance, including help with rent, utilities, healthcare, housing, and job training. Mehan shared that approximately 11.7% of Marshall County residents live below the poverty line, with about 16% of seniors and 28% of children affected. He added that in addition to utility assistance, West Kentucky Allied provides weatherization upgrades for qualifying homes. While the organization does not currently build housing, Mehan said they are working with the Kentucky Housing Corporation to become a community housing development organization. “Our goal is to help increase affordable housing stock,” he said. “For the next few years, our focus will be on single-family homes, but we hope to expand to multi-family developments as we grow.” Judge/Executive Kevin Spraggs, who serves on the organization’s board, encouraged anyone needing assistance to contact the local Allied Services office located in the courthouse, open weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Rescue Squad Chief and Emergency Management Director Curt Curtner then gave a quarterly update. He reported 21 callouts so far in the 2025 fiscal year, totaling over 230 volunteer hours on calls and more than 300 hours in training. The squad also purchased a new vehicle, nearly fully funded through the sale of the old one, and is upgrading sonar systems on all rescue boats, with completion expected by year’s end. Curtner emphasized that the Rescue Squad receives no direct county funding and operates entirely through grants, donations, and fundraisers. Next, Road Department Superintendent Roy Wadkins reported that a major bridge replacement on New Hope Road has been completed. A previous state inspection had reduced the bridge’s weight limit from 18 tons to just 3 tons, restricting access for school buses, emergency vehicles, and farm equipment. Funded through the County-City Bridge Program, the new bridge was largely built by county crews and took about three weeks to finish. The bridge is now open for all traffic. The court also approved the monthly treasurer’s report and budget transfers before entering executive session to discuss litigation and personnel matters. No action was taken following the closed session. The Marshall County Fiscal Court meets regularly at 9 a.m. on the first and third Tuesday of each month at the courthouse.

KYDR provides 350 hot meals for first responders to UPS plane crash

By MARK MAYNARD
Kentucky Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (KT) – Kentucky Baptist Disaster Relief responded quickly to the tragic UPS plane crash Tuesday at Louisville’s international airport. KYDR volunteers prepared 350 hot meals for first responders who came to the scene.

KYDR Director Ron Crow reached out to state and local emergency management officials for ways it could assist in the aftermath of the horrific plane crash. Disaster Relief was asked to prepare meals for the command post.

That was at 8:15 p.m., less than two hours after the crash. Within minutes, KYDR had secured the necessary volunteers, and Crow rushed to Walmart to purchase enough food for 350 meals.

In another spirit of cooperation, Parkland Baptist opened its doors and allowed KYDR to use their kitchen and facility to prepare the meals. “We are thankful for Chris Heading and Susan Althaus for opening their church and kitchen for this response,” Crow said.

The Salvation Army, a longtime partner with KYDR, delivered the meals to the command post.

“Before midnight, our team had 350 hot meals, hot coffee and water loaded on the way to the command post,” Crow said. “Less than four hours from call to food out the door. This is totally incredible.”

Mike and Barb Bastin made the last trip late Tuesday night to bring the small feeding support trailer.

Crow said KYDR will be supplying another 300 meals today for lunch and dinner.

“This response is a testament to the power of community partnerships and the amazing dedication of our KYDR volunteers,” Crow said. “I am so grateful for so many who were ready to respond at a moment’s notice to meet this need during a critical time. I’m reminded of the words of Paul in Titus 3:14, “And let our people learn to devote themselves to good works, so as to help cases of urgent need, and not be unfruitful.”

Higdon to introduce legislation shoring up state’s distracted driving laws

By Tom Latek
Kentucky Today

FRANKFORT, Ky. (KT) – State Senate Transportation Chair Jimmy Higdon, R-Lebanon, says he plans to introduce his proposed Phone Down Kentucky Act during the 2026 session of the General Assembly.

The legislation aims to address key gaps in Kentucky’s distracted driving laws, by requiring the use of hands-free technology when operating a motor vehicle.

The Phone Down Kentucky Act

would update Kentucky’s current statute by extending the existing texting-while-driving ban to cover nearly all uses of a personal communication device unless it is operated hands-free. The bill preserves current exemptions for emergency situations, GPS navigation and law enforcement use, but closes a broad loophole that allows other forms of distracted driving to go unaddressed.

“We have a responsibility to act,” Higdon stated. “If something as simple as putting the phone down can save a life, we owe it to Kentuckians to make that change.”

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, distracted driving crashes killed 3,308 people and injured nearly 290,000 more in 2022 alone. In 2019, the economic cost of those crashes was estimated at $98 billion.

Higdon says Kentucky is falling behind the national trend. As of 2024, 29 states have enacted hand-held phone bans for drivers, up from 18 in 2019. All seven of Kentucky’s neighboring states now have some form of hand-held phone restriction in place.

“Distracted driving has taken far too many lives in our state, but Kentucky still has not caught up with the common sense laws already and roadway safety advocates who have pushed for reforms. The final draft is expected to be introduced in the upcoming session, pending additional feedback from the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet.

A draft of Higdon’s proposed legislation can be found at <https://apps.legislature.ky.gov/CommitteeDocuments/34/35690/26%20RS%20BR%20238.pdf>.

The 2026 General Assembly session is scheduled to begin on Jan. 6.

VICTORIOUS Living ...in a troubled world

Good life and longevity

By Teresa LeNeave
Leneave2@comcast.net

Every generation has desired “the good life” and longevity. Since the beginning of time man has imagined and sought for the fountain of youth. Not an actual fountain, but an herb, a root, a tea, a lotion, a peptide, or a hormone that extends life or at least postpones the effects of aging. But, who wants longevity in this life without the connection of the good days attached to it?

I Peter 3:10-11 says good days are the result of the words we speak, how we treat people and the choices we make. Peter said, “Whoever desires to love life and see good days, let him keep his tongue from evil and his lips from speaking deceit; let him turn away from evil and do good; let him seek peace and pursue it” (ESV). That is more than a mouthful, but it’s clearly a recipe for a better life, if not a healthier life. The good life is not comprised in the neighborhood we live in, the car we drive or even the job we have. In every survey I read that describes what most people want out of life, the overwhelming consensus is peace and happiness. Those things start in the heart. My belief is that peace and happiness come from a relationship with God and knowing he loves you. Even then, I don’t believe a person can be truly happy unless they have healthy relationships with people around them. Research has determined the well-established fact that social people are happier and healthier. On average, they live longer and enjoy life more. Jesus himself said the most important commandment is to love the Lord your God with all your heart, your mind, and your strength and the second commandment is like unto it: love your neighbor as yourself. To me that equates to relationships that are meaningful. People caring about people. Not taking the opportunity to say something negative about another just because the opportunity arises. It means, bridling our tongues. In the Bible, James says the tongue “sets on fire the entire course of life, and is set on fire by hell” (James 3:2 ESV). We are not getting any younger. Who knows how long we will live? None of us know, but one thing is certain: we should live our lives well. Experts tell us that the future is here. We will live longer and longer. We may even live to be 120 or more, but what good will that do without peace and health? Getting older is interesting, but it holds many challenges. Most of us have concerns about getting dementia. Cancer. Heart attack. Stroke. The list goes on and on. Health guru’s tell us genes most definitely play a role in the longevity of our lives, but so does attitude, a healthy diet, a spiritual relationship and exercise. The good life does not mean a life without problems, because in the very same chapter Peter said we will suffer and have trials in this life, but not to be afraid or fearful. People will age very different. All people will have good and bad days, but we are more than overcomers through Christ Jesus. Everything in the universe ages in different ways. It is the way of life. It’s the natural order of things. But we have a lot to do with our own health and happiness. Adding Jesus to it will make a big difference. When Peter tells us, “For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil and his lips that they speak no guile; let him eschew evil (turn from evil) and do good; seek peace and pursue it”, then maybe he’s giving us a tip on the concept of aging well. One of my favorite scriptures is “A merry heart doeth good like a medicine,” (Prov 17:22).

During the early archery season I arrowed a nice doe. I calculated that I was in my tree stand about seven minutes. Before I went to search for my deer, I gathered my equipment, loaded it on my four-wheeler, and took it to my truck. By the time I was back at my tree stand, about forty minutes had passed. I knew I had made a good clean shot and there shouldn’t be any trouble finding my deer. I had tried to mark where I took the shot, but by the time I was back on the trail I was confused. I looked for my arrow and any sign of blood but could not find either. I decided to climb back up into the tree stand to look again at where the doe had stood. I recalculated and shortly thereafter found my arrow and a few minutes later, the deer. Later, I thought about how difficult I had made a simple procedure simply by forgetting where I had made my shot. I was reminded of a spiritual truth

SEEING IT AGAIN

I had learned a few months earlier. All through the Old Testament, when man had an encounter with God, God commanded him to build an altar. Abraham was the first that is recorded. God had told him that he would have a son. This was a real stretch for Abraham to believe since he was about seventy-five years old at that time and his wife was barren. God told him to build an altar. Jacob was another. He physically wrestled with the angel of the Lord one day. Jacob was given a lasting limp, but his encounter was followed by him building an altar. We have the significance of this in another example. The Children of Israel were crossing through the river Jordan. They were now in the land that was promised to them. God told them to take twelve stones, one for every tribe, and stack them up, so that when their children pass by, they could tell them how God had delivered them. These stones would be a remembrance of their encounters with God. Many times, God has encounters with us. There may have been a time that He called you into a certain ministry, or He may have spoken to your heart about a particular matter so clearly that it was undeniably Him.

Since then, time has passed. You have not forgotten about that moment, but it seems distant and it has caused you to doubt. But what if you had built an altar at the time and place that God had spoken to you? You would be able to go back and remember exactly what transpired there. And your faith would be renewed. It’s not too late. Maybe you need to take a trip back in time, to that place where you had your encounter with God. While you’re there, build an altar. An altar is anything that will cause you to remember what happened. One time, I scratched an “A” in a tree, so that each time I passed by that tree

I would be reminded of that moment with God. When I see that tree, doubt and discouragement leave and faith is restored. It’s just like getting back up in that tree stand and seeing it all over again. It will make the path clear, once again. Can we explain what we believe?

By William F Holland Jr.

The foundation of the Christian faith, along with the hope of eternal salvation in the next life, is based on the torturous death and glorified resurrection of the only perfect individual we know as Jesus Christ. When we trust that His sacrificial blood is the only payment for our forgiveness and our hope for redemption, we become reborn, a new spiritual creation within His family and kingdom. Do you believe that trusting in this God-man is the greatest demonstration of love the world has ever known? Since this miraculous event happened over 2000 years ago, do you know why you believe these promises are true?

Let's go a little further. Have you ever had a life-changing encounter with the person called the Son of God? Did you know that just believing there is a God, or that Jesus is real, is NOT the same thing as giving all of your heart, mind, and soul to Him? Pastors are not the only ones who are called to explain and teach God's word; every person who has invited Christ to be their Lord and Savior should spend every available moment focusing on Him and getting to know Him more intimately through prayer and study. This is how His children become His fearless, wise, mighty, and overcoming warriors.

Over the last 100 years, the number of people interested in researching the Bible has increased. I'm not referring to those who want to draw closer to God, but rather the progressive intellectual critics who try to refute and disprove what is written. These are not your casual readers who accept what someone says on the surface or are satisfied with the idea of just believing by faith. Similar to how those who must prove everything according to science, these individuals are intense and seek more difficult answers than are discussed in church classes. In fact, if one of these agnostics were to present their views in church, most would be considered a heretic or worse.

I have several friends around the country, and we have interesting discussions about God and the Bible. As I mentioned, we have many questions about Christianity that are often left to speculation. I've read some of the textual critics who take pride in being able to pin a preacher against the wall who has been in Christian leadership most of his life. I'm writing this small article not to discourage you who are followers of Christ, but to blow the trumpet of warning about how important it is to know what we believe. Especially in the last 60 years, while the nominal Christians have been spiritually asleep, these scholars have been hard at work trying to see if what the text says is actually correct. I know that many will say, That's a huge waste of time and is offensive to those who trust God, but how can we condemn those who have sincerely given their lives to researching every jot and tittle of the Bible?

It's one thing to know what something says, and it's another thing to explain what it means. This is true with the Bible, as there are individuals who have memorized what is written, but do they know how to translate the original languages into our modern English? For example, I'm not saying that I agree with what Bart Ehrman teaches, but he is recognized as a highly respected Biblical scholar who focuses on the textual criticism of the New Testament, the historical

Jesus, and the origins and development of early Christianity. For anyone to debate him on Biblical topics, they would need to bring their A-game of theological research, and not just answers like, “I believe this because that’s what my grandmother said.”

My point is that all Christians should not only stand for their convictions, but have the ability to prove why they accept and trust them. The reason why all Christians are not dedicated theologians is that it's much easier to accept a meal than to cook one. Most people say I do not have time to study the Bible, while spending several hours a day watching TV and playing on their phones. I encourage every follower to take a scholarly approach to understanding religious texts, including their faith-based views so they can be instant in season and out of season to give an answer. II Timothy 2:15 is not only about gaining knowledge, it's taking the time to rightly divide His word and be enlightened by God's divine revelation.

HIS WORKMANSHIP

Bro. Brandon G. Bramlett
Bandana Baptist Church

Repairing the rusting russet-colored sedan seemed like a waste of time to me. If you searched for “clunker” in Webster’s Dictionary, you’d see a picture of this car. It was in terrible shape: the tires were ashy from wear, the paint was chipped from weather, and the engine sputtered from sitting idle for so long. Despite its sorry state, it was my father’s restoration project for a few weeks. He took a hunk of junk, and burned time, broke sweat, and battered tools to make it run like new.

Likewise, you are the heavenly Father's "restoration project" if you have been saved by grace. The Scripture says, "For we are His workmanship" (Eph. 2:10a). The Lord bought you from sin's junkyard, and He is always working on you to make you run like new (cf. Eph. 4:22-24; Col. 3:9-10). You are in His workshop of sanctification, but not for self-improvement. God is working on you to make you more like Christ: “And we all, with unveiled face, beholding the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from one degree of glory to another. For this comes from the Lord who is the Spirit” (2 Cor. 3:18).

Like any good mechanic, the Father uses many tools to fix you up. The Bible is a hammer that God uses to flatten out the dents in your theology (Jer. 23:29). The local church is the place where God gives you a weekly “engine tune up” in order to run effectively for Him throughout the week. Trials and tribulations are the buff pads God uses to polish the scuffs on your faith (James 1:2-4). And prayer is the “jump” that cranks your engine for righteous living, since it is through prayer that we receive God’s own power to obey Him (James 5:16).

God isn't finished with you yet, but He will finish what He started. The Scripture assures us, "And I am sure of this, that he who began a good work in you will bring it to completion at the day of Jesus Christ" (Phil. 1:6). Until then, we must humbly submit to His means and methods of making us what we ought to be. And, we may exuberantly resound the words of He's Still Workin' on Me, the gospel classic which says:

“He’s still workin’ on me

To make me what I ought to be;

It took Him just a week to make the moon and stars,

The sun and the earth and Jupiter and Mars.

How loving and patient He must be!

He's still workin' on me!"

Cats start slow, finish fast to topple Nicholls in opener

By KEITH TAYLOR
Kentucky Today

LEXINGTON, Ky. (KT) – Kentucky coach Mark Pope watched as his ninth-ranked team struggled to get into an offensive rhythm in the first half of a 77-51 win over Nicholls in the season opener for both teams on Tuesday night. Instead of getting frustrated by Kentucky’s inability to hit shots and opening the first half tentative and tight on the offensive end, he found joy in watching the Wildcats stop the Colonels possession after possession on the defensive end of the court.

Pope admitted it wasn’t easy for his team to gather energy on defense.

“We were so excited, and we’ve been building on this for a while now,” Pope said. “I think we were a little lost in the weeds a little bit on the offensive side.”

The Wildcats held the Colonels to 12 percent shooting and just 15 points in the first 20 minutes, the best defensive showing in a half in the Pope era at Kentucky. For the players, it was a struggle as shots failed to drop, including making only 2 of 17 3-pointers. But for Pope, it was a thing of beauty.

Collin Chandler tapped into his “elite” defensive performance in the first half and put on an offensive display in the second half and led four players in double figures with 15 points. Chandler drained a pair of 3-pointers back-to-back and threw down an impressive one-handed dunk in one sequence in the second half.

“I thought he made great defensive plays early in the game,” Pope said. “It was nice to see him find some comfort level on the offensive end.”

Chander admitted it wasn’t easy struggling to make shots against the Colonels, especially in the first half.

“It’s so frustrating, and they did a great job,” he said. “We felt a little bit of that (frustration) at the beginning of the game. It just feels like we’re just out of sorts a little bit. But we know we’re pounding the rock. We’re just going continue to shoot it, even if shots aren’t falling.”

Despite the offensive struggles, the Wildcats came to life, scoring 49 points in the second half. Four players tallied double figures: Otega Oweh followed Chandler with 13 points, Jasper Johnson had 11 and Denzel Aberdeen finished with 10 in his Kentucky debut.

“First half was a little shaky, but we bounced back in second half,” said

Aberdeen, who missed Kentucky’s exhibition finale against Georgetown last Thursday. “I just feel like I just try to give 110 percent every time I get in the game, no matter what the circumstances, I’m always trying to bring energy on the defensive side and offensive side, just doing anything we can to get a win.”

As Pope and his players know, the offense isn’t going to be clicking on all cylinders each game. That’s when the Wildcats will have to lean on the defense to carry the offense, just as it did in the opener.

“Our defense is going to carry us at some points this season,” Pope said. “That can be a real strength of ours and that’s going to be a fun piece of this game for us.”

Trent Noah left the game after turning his ankle in the first half and didn’t return. Pope said the injury didn’t appear to be serious.

Barr wants Palestinian group declared terrorist organization

By TOM LATEK
Kentucky Today

WASHINGTON (KT) – Sixth District Rep. Andy Barr of Lexington and Indiana’s Jefferson Shreve, sent a letter to U.S. Treasury Secretary Scott Bessent, urging them to designate the Palestinian Conference for Palestinians Abroad (PCPA) as a terrorist organization.

The two Republican Congressmen, who are members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, say documents published in recent news reports show the role that the PCPA working with Hamas to organize a flotilla of illicit resources sent to Gaza that bypassed a blockade of shipments coming into the area.

They note that Israel designated the PCPA as a terrorist organization in January of 2022.

“We write to encourage the Treasury Department to designate the Palestinian Conference for Palestinians Abroad (PCPA) as an affiliate of Hamas and a Specially Designated Terrorist Group under Executive Order 13224,” their letter read in-part.

It continued, “Now, new documents uncovered by Israeli forces in Gaza, and released by the Israeli Foreign Ministry, offer new insight into the group’s terrorist ties. These documents include an official letter from Hamas Political Bureau Chief Ismail Haniyeh and a roster of senior PCPA operatives, conclusively establishing the organization’s ties to Hamas.”

The letter concluded, “Most recently, the PCPA helped fund a flotilla of propaganda ships to violate Israel’s legal naval blockade of Gaza. While the flotilla claims its effort is to deliver humanitarian aid to Gaza, it has rejected multiple offers by Israeli officials to provide the aid via established channels. We urge you to act swiftly to designate the PCPA and its affiliates, impose targeted sanctions, and hold accountable those who facilitate terrorism under the guise of civil society.”

Barr is one of several people actively campaigning for the U.S. Senate seat being given up by Mitch McConnell, R-Louisville, who is not seeking re-election when his term expires at the end of next year.

Say THANK YOU for serving our country!

By Greg LeNeave

Publisher, KPI Newspaper Group

I want to encourage everyone to do something easy. Say you're talking to someone, and while you're speaking with them, you find out they've served in the military. Tell them "THANK YOU for SERVING OUR COUNTRY."

Additionally, when you see a person in a military uniform, go out of your way and take a few minutes of your time and tell them "THANK YOU for SERVING OUR COUNTRY."

It's easy to do.

Several years ago

during Thanksgiving, my son, Rob LeNeave, (who was a Petty Officer 3rd Class, U.S. Navy at the time), came home for his holiday break.

Since our family wouldn't have another chance to do Christmas with him before his leave was up, we all got together for an early Christmas party. My wife, Teresa, wanted everyone to say what they were thankful for after we'd opened our presents.

Bobby really put it all in perspective when he said, "I'm proud of our country." After traveling around the world, he said, "There is no place else like the United States of America."

Coming from a military man, you have to really be proud of how good we have it here in America.

What's amazing is the fact we have the right to worship as we choose, the right to free speech and many more privileges; far too numerous to mention, far more than any other country in the world.

So take time and acknowledge those who put their life on the line for you and this country. Many have gone before and have served our great nation. They deserve our praise and gratitude.

Milner & Orr Funeral Homes honor veterans in special ways

By Mary Beth Orr

Paducah, KY—Everyday, locally owned Milner & Orr Funeral Homes strive to honor lives—especially the lives of Veterans. There are special ways to honor these men and women in order to pay tribute to the lives of those who have made a positive impact on both our communities and nation. Regardless of the military branch, years of service, or wars fought, Milner & Orr provides these services to every Veteran’s family. “We appreciate the service, time and sacrifice these men and women have made for our country,” says Brandon Orr. “Our hope is that we can provide funeral services that honor the sacrifice these veterans have made both on the battle field and at home.” Milner & Orr Funeral Homes offers special items to honor veterans. Some of the options available to Veterans and their families are caskets that represent their specific branch of service, special patriotic corners and unique military medallions for caskets and burial vaults that honor their service. Each veteran family receives a folded flag in honor of their loved one on behalf of The Office of Veteran Affairs. To preserve the flag, Milner & Orr provides a protective case for each family. For every Veteran funeral service, per the approval of the family, Milner & Orr arranges for affiliated service groups such as the Patriot Guard, Fort Campbell, the VFW and American Legion to participate in their funeral service.

These groups provide each veteran’s family with options such as standing guard the day of the service, folding and presenting of the flag to the veteran’s family, playing of taps at the burial site or at the funeral home, and even a 21-gun salute when approved by VA. . Each veteran is entitled to certain VA benefits like a VA marker to be placed at the cemetery, a presidential memorial certificate and VA burial benefits. Milner & Orr helps each family complete each of these forms and submits it to the VA on their behalf. Logan Orr explains, “It’s an honor for us to share a veteran’s story and pay respect for all they have given our country. Providing military rites for veterans and their families is the least we can do to honor their life.”

Tomb of the Unknown Soldier

By Teresa Pearson
KPI Staff

The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier is a historic monument dedicated to deceased U.S. service members whose remains have not been identified. An unknown World War I American soldier was buried in Arlington National Cemetery in 1921. This site, on a hillside overlooking the Potomac River and the city of Washington, D.C., became the focal point of reverence for America’s veterans. Similar ceremonies occurred earlier in England and France, where an unknown soldier was buried in each nation’s highest place of honor (in England, Westminster Abbey; in France, the Arc de Triomphe). These memorial gestures all took place on November 11. On Memorial Day 1958, two more unidentified American war dead were brought from overseas and interred in the plaza beside the unknown soldier of World War I. One was killed in World War II, the other in the Korean War. In 1984, an unknown serviceman from the Vietnam War was placed alongside the others. The remains from Vietnam were exhumed May 14, 1998, identified as Air Force 1st Lt. Michael Joseph Blassie, and removed for burial. To honor these men, symbolic of all Americans who gave their lives in all wars, an Army honor guard, the 3rd U.S. Infantry (The Old Guard), keeps day and night vigil.

PADUCAH, KY - Coming to Paducah on May 15-17, 2026 will be a very patriotic event. The local post VFW 1191 will help spearhead this event. Many exciting things will take place during the 3-day event. For starters there will be an opportunity for folks to view a replica of the Vietnam Wall Memorial. In addition, many veteran survivors will be on hand. People can enjoy local bands, a parade, a motorcycle rally and a visit from dignitaries from Fort Campbell. The VA in Marion, Illinois will be involved as well. Local members of the VFW Post 1191 mentioned that either the Region Director or the National Director for the VFW will be present to speak at the event. Many local institutions are expected to help during the event, such as the Market House Theater, along with locally elected officials. Anyone interested in helping serve our veterans can get in touch with the new commander at the Paducah post. Jennifer Berggren, is a Navy veteran and would be glad to speak with anybody that would like to get involved with serving our veterans. She can be reached at 270-442-6783. The address for the VFW Post 1191 is 1727 Washington Street, Paducah, KY.

Armistice Day History

By Teresa Pearson
KPI Staff

Recognition to the celebrated ending of World War I became known as Armistice Day.

An armistice was declared between the Allied nations and Germany in World War I at 11 a.m., November 11, 1918 (the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month) which is why Armistice Day was celebrated on November 11. Just over 116,000 Americans died in World War I, defending the lives and freedom of our European allies.

Armistice Day officially received its name in America in 1926 through a Congressional resolution. November 11 became a federal holiday in the United States in 1938. On the first Armistice Day, the nationwide celebration included parades, public meetings and a two-minute suspension of business at 11 a.m.

A few years after the holiday was proclaimed, war broke out in Europe. Sixteen and one-half million Americans took part. Four hundred seven thousand of them died in service, more than 292,000 in battle.

In Birmingham, Alabama, in 1947, Raymond Weeks, a World War II veteran, organized “National Veterans Day,” which included a parade and other festivities, to honor all veterans.

The event was held on November 11, then designated Armistice Day. Later, U.S. Representative Edward Rees of Kansas proposed a bill that would change Armistice Day to Veterans Day. In 1954, Congress passed the bill that President Eisenhower signed proclaiming November 11 as Veterans Day. Raymond Weeks received the Presidential Citizens Medal from President Reagan in November 1982.

Weeks’ local parade and ceremonies are now an annual event celebrated nationwide.

A law passed in 1968

changed the national commemoration of Veterans Day to the fourth Monday in October.

It soon became apparent, however, that November 11 was a date of historic significance to many Americans.

Therefore, in 1978 Congress returned the observance to its traditional date. Today we still celebrate the national holiday on November 11 with ceremonies honoring military veterans with parades, celebrations and special discounts for veterans.

The story of “Taps”

The 24-note melancholy bugle call known as “taps” is thought to be a revision of a French bugle signal, called “tattoo,” that notified soldiers to cease an evening’s drinking and return to their garrisons. It was sounded an hour before the final bugle call to end the day by extinguishing fires and lights. The last five measures of the tattoo resemble taps.

The word “taps” is an alteration of the obsolete word “taptoo,” derived from the Dutch “taptoe.” Taptoe was the command — “Tap toe!” — to shut (“toe to”) the “tap” of a keg.

The revision that gave us present-day taps was made during America’s Civil War by Union Gen. Daniel Adams Butterfield, heading a brigade camped at Harrison Landing, Va., near Richmond. Up to that time, the U.S. Army’s infantry call to end the day was the French final call, music was too formal to signal the day’s end. One day in July 1862 he recalled the tattoo music and hummed a version of it to an aide, who wrote it down in music.

“L’Extinction des feux.” Gen. Butterfield decided the “lights out”

Butterfield then asked the brigade bugler, Oliver W. Norton, to play the notes and, after listening, lengthened and shortened them while keeping his original melody.

He ordered Norton to play this new call at the end of each day thereafter, instead of the regulation call. The music was heard and appreciated by other brigades, who asked for copies and adopted this bugle call. It was even adopted by Confederate buglers.

This music was made the official Army bugle call after the war, but not given the name “taps” until 1874.

The first time taps was played at a military funeral may also have been in Virginia soon after Butterfield composed it. Union Capt. John Tidball, head of an artillery battery, ordered it played for the burial of a cannoneer killed in action. Not wanting to reveal the battery’s position in the woods to the enemy nearby, Tidball substituted taps for the traditional three rifle volleys fired over the grave. Taps was played at the funeral of Confederate Gen. Stonewall Jackson 10 months after it was composed. Army infantry regulations by 1891 required taps to be played at military funeral ceremonies.

Taps now is played by the military at burial and memorial services, to accompany the lowering of the flag and to signal the “lights out” command at day’s end.

The Battle of Paducah

By Jimmy Hank
Civil War Historian

It was over 160 years’ ago that Paducah was attacked by the Confederate Army during the Civil War. Paducah was a major objective in the western theater during the war because the rivers were a major source of transportation, and Paducah is at the confluence of the Ohio and Tennessee Rivers.

Kentucky tried to remain neutral during the Civil War but it was captured in September 1861 by General U.S. Grant. He had a fort built around the Marine Hospital to defend any attacks. Grant also had a pontoon bridge built across the Ohio River to bring the rest of his army into the south. This was the first bridge ever built across the Ohio River. This is where the “war for the Western rivers began.”

The bastion of earthen fort was built right on the bank of the Ohio River. It was a large “star shaped” fort. Fort Anderson was named after Major Robert Anderson, a Kentuckian and a hero of the Battle of Fort Sumner, April 12, 1861, the first battle of the American Civil War.

In 1864, Paducah had about 7,000 residents and was put under Marshall Law and was completely controlled by the Union Army. The 7,000 residents were made up of a large group of German immigrants, a large Jewish population and about 1,200 blacks, some free and some slaves. Kentucky was still a slave state. The Emancipation Proclamation, in 1863 freed the slaves in succeeding states only, not Kentucky.

They were not all freed until the 13th Amendment in December 1865.

In 1864, President Abraham Lincoln decided to allow blacks to serve in the Union Military. This was an untapped resource Lincoln needed to help win the war. Paducah became the “First City” in Kentucky to open recruiting stations for black men. If a black man signed up , or made his mark “X” he immediately became a free man, plus his immediate family also became free.

Thousands of black men migrated from slave farms to sign up in downtown Paducah. It was here, in Paducah, that parts of the United States Colored Heavy Artillery were formed including the 8th USCHA.

Paducah was now defended by 600 African American soldiers in Ft. Anderson. The city was also protected by 6 redoubts, or outposts, that were built to protect all the major roads coming into the city.

On March 24,1864 Confederate Major General Nathan Bedford Forrest and his army of over 4,000 men spent the night in Mayfield, Kentucky. His army had just recently captured a garrison of Union troops in Union City, Tennessee. Forrest decided to take part of his army of mounted infantry and move further into Western Kentucky with the purpose of a raid to get medical supplies, food and horses. General Forrest has

A Grateful Commonwealth: Honoring Our Veterans

By Sen. Danny Carroll

Each November 11, we pause to honor those who have stepped forward to serve our country in uniform. Veterans Day is a time for gratitude, reflection, and recognition. It is more than a date on the calendar or a patriotic tradition. It is a moment to consider the deep cost of service and the quiet courage that defines our veterans.

The roots of Veterans Day go back to 1919, when the first anniversary of the end of World War I was marked as Armistice Day. Over time, this observance became a national holiday honoring all veterans, not only those who served in war, but also those who stood watch in times of peace. Today, it remains one of the few national holidays focused on people rather than events. That matters. Here in Kentucky, we carry a long and proud legacy of military service. Even before we became a state, Kentuckians were stepping up to defend liberty. The final battle of the Revolutionary War, the Battle of Blue Licks, happened right here on our soil. Since then, generations of been called “the wizard in the saddle,” because he was so good on a horse and had fought in so many battles. He had over a dozen horses shot out from under him while engaging the enemy.

So, on March 25, 1864, Good Friday morning Forrest’s army came into Paducah on the Mayfield Road. His men had ridden over 100 miles in 50 hours. The fort in Paducah was under the command of Colonel Stephen Hicks. The 665 men inside the fort were made up of the 127th Illinois Infantry, the 16th KY Cavalry and the 8th USCHA. There were also two Union gunboats protecting the fort, the USS Peosta and the USS Pawpaw.

At 3:00 pm Forrest and his forces of over 2,800 men reached 15th and Broadway. It was here he decided to split his forces. Half his forces went down Broadway th the riverfront while the other half went over to the fort to hold the Union army in the fort. After Forrest took control of the town he decided to send over a message to the fort under a flag of truce, saying he had a force strong enough to capture the structure, so surrender.

Colonel Hicks refused to surrender so the Confederate army decided to attack.

An article in the Paducah News Democrat was published on March 25, 1927. A local resident, Louis Kolb, Sr. said he witnessed three unsuccessful attacks on the fort. He wrote, “the dismounted Cavalry men advanced upon the breastworks around Fort Anderson.” Meanwhile another eyewitness, James H. Linn on the USS Pawpaw said the two gunboats shot lots of grapeshot and canister at the southern forces as they stormed the fort. He also said that there were three unsuccessful efforts made to tear down the ramparts.

During the battle, Forrest was also raiding the town for supplies. He burned a steamer in dry dock, burned 60 bales of cotton, captured 50 prisoners and found a considerable amount of supplies. Shelling the city did considerable damage to many buildings. The men inside the fort fired over 27,000 rounds of ammunition and were running low. Hicks ordered his men to fix bayonets to receive the confederates on the point of bayonet.

Fortunately, Forrest had achieved his objective so late in the afternoon that the confederate army left the city and the Battle of Paducah was over. There were approximately 200 men killed and wounded and both sides declared victory.

The next day Col. Hicks ordered the houses immediately around the fort to be burned. Confederate sharpshooters were using the houses to shoot from second story windows. Six houses were set afire, however the fire spread and engulfed 62 homes.

As a result of this deliberate destruction of private dwellings, there are very few of the houses in Lowertown Historic District dating older than 1864.

GRATEFUL,

Kentuckians have served in every major conflict, and today more than 295,000 veterans call the commonwealth home. Their courage has reached from the forests of Europe to the mountains of Korea, from Vietnam’s jungles to the deserts of the Middle East.

Veterans Day is not just about remembering where our veterans have served, but about understanding what that service cost them. It means months and years away from family, birthdays and holidays missed, jobs left behind, and futures put on hold. Some carry visible scars. Others carry burdens you cannot see. And yet they serve. Not for attention, not for reward, but because they believed in protecting something greater than themselves.

When we honor our veterans, we also honor their families. The spouses who hold everything together during deployments, the children who wait and worry, the parents who send off sons and daughters with pride and prayer. These families may not wear the uniform, but their sacrifices are every bit a part of the story.

This Veterans Day, I encourage you to look beyond the ceremonies. Say thank you, yes—but also ask questions. Listen to stories. Visit with someone who served. Most of all, remember that respect for our veterans should not begin and end on November 11. It should be lived out in how we support them in our communities, how we teach our children about them, and how we uphold the freedoms they fought to defend.

To every veteran in Kentucky and across this nation, thank you. You represent the very best of us. We are safer, freer, and better because of your service. May God bless you, your families, and the United States of America.

Sen. Danny Carroll, R-Paducah, represents the 2nd Senate District, including Ballard, Carlisle, Livingston, Marshall, and McCracken Counties. He serves as co-chair of the Interim

Joint Committee on Families and Children and is a member of the Interim Joint Committees on Education; Judiciary; and Health Services. He serves on the Legislative Oversight and Investigations Committee and is a non-voting ex officio member of the Juvenile Justice Oversight Council. Carroll is also a member of the Medicaid Oversight and Advisory Board. He is also a member of the Governor’s Early Childhood Education Advisory Council and the Child Fatality and Near Fatality Review Panel. Finally, he serves on the National Conference of State Legislatures’ Nuclear Legislative Working Group.

In 2017, Carroll and former Sen. Dennis Parrett worked together to establish the treasured Sunny Page Program as a part of the Senate’s Page Program, which includes full-time constitutional pages, daily pages, and Military Kids Day. The Sunny Page Program was created especially for children with special needs. It allows them to participate in the legislative process where they are invited to the Kentucky state Capitol and are recognized as they assist their respective state senator in the Senate chamber.

Carroll has been a leading voice in Kentucky’s nuclear energy development efforts. In 2017, he sponsored Senate Bill 11 to lift Kentucky’s moratorium on nuclear energy development. In 2023, he sponsored Senate Joint Resolution 79, which created the Kentucky Nuclear Energy Development Working Group to form a permanent Nuclear Energy Commission within the Kentucky Energy and Environment Cabinet. Most recently, he sponsored Senate Bill 179, which established the Nuclear Energy Development Grant Program within the Kentucky Nuclear Energy Development Authority (KNEDA). The legislation allocated $10 million from existing University of Kentucky funds to support fuel processing, component manufacturing, supply chain development, facility siting, and waste management. The grant program will be administered by a five-member KNEDA subcommittee and positions Kentucky as a serious competitor in the national nuclear economy.

Senator Danny Carroll

Carroll also led major reforms of Kentucky’s Department of Juvenile Justice through Senate Bill 162 in 2023, which provided $50 million to improve staff pay and facility safety across the system.

CADA honors local heroes with Military Tribute signs at Memorial Park

In honor of Veterans Day, the Calvert Area Development Association (CADA) invites the community to visit Memorial Park and experience a touching display of Military Tribute Signs recognizing local service members who have bravely served our nation. The tribute will be on display from November 11 through November 16 at the Calvert City Fountain at Memorial Park.

Residents and visitors are encouraged to come out and walk through the park’s fountain area, where each sign proudly displays the name and branch of a local hero. The tribute serves as a heartfelt reminder of the courage, dedication, and sacrifice of the men and women who have fought for our freedom.

“This display is a special way for our community to pause and reflect on the service and sacrifice of those who protect our country,” said Brittany Story, president of CADA. “CADA is proud to recognize these brave individuals and their families who have given so much in service to our nation.”

The Military Tribute Signs will remain on display throughout the week, offering the perfect opportunity for families, friends, and visitors to honor veterans past and present.

Calvert City Hall will be closed in observance of Veterans Day, November 11. Calvert City Memorial Park is open to the public seven days a week.

For more information about the tribute or other community events, visit calvertcityky.gov or contact info@calvertcityky.gov.

NQM offers free admission to veterans in November

As November kicks off and we finalize preparations for our Veterans Day program, we are reminded of the unwavering service the men and women in the armed forces provide for us each and every day.

To show our appreciation for their sacrifice and dedication, we couldn’t think of a better way than to honor our veterans and active-duty military personnel with free admission to The National Quilt Museum for the entire month of November.

If you know a veteran or a service member, please spread the word, as we can’t wait to welcome them to our galleries filled with the world’s best quilts, and now through December 30, the Quilts of Valor: Countdown to America250 exhibition. Read on to learn more about this special exhibition debuting at The National Quilt Museum.

On Veterans Day, November 11, at 4:30 p.m., we will host a Quilts of Valor Award Ceremony. Eleven service members and veterans will be presented with a quilt from the Quilts of Valor Foundation, led by representative Nancy Cann. The Paducah Police Department Honor Guard will present the colors. The program is free and open to the public, and we hope that you will join us.

We’re also thrilled to announce that Charles Cameron will be at the museum for three days in November for two meet and greets and an artist talk about his exhibition A Curious Modern Quilter. See the article about Charles’s visit and his upcoming workshop for more details.

One last reminder, don’t forget to enter our Fall Sweepstakes before it ends on November 30th. You could win At Home in the Woods, a beautiful quilt designed by McKenna Ryan, quilted by Lori Marvel in 2000, and donated by Martha Martyn. It’s free to enter (no purchase necessary), thanks to one of our newest sponsors, AARP Kentucky. Enter For a Chance to Win at <https://quiltmuseum.org/The-National-Quilt-Museum-Fall-Sweepstakes/>

Skyhawk Veteran’s Association to host 2025 Veterans Week events November 10-14

MARTIN, Tenn. – Veterans Week at the University of Tennessee at Martin is taking place Nov. 10-14, and various events are being hosted to honor military veterans. These events will be hosted by UT Martin’s Army ROTC program and Veteran Services, along with the nonprofit organization Rolling Thunder, which works to spread awareness of the POW/MIA issue.

The official Veterans Day observance is Nov. 11.

Rolling Thunder is hosting a Veterans Day Parade at 10 a.m. on Sat., Nov. 8, which will begin at the corner of Lovelace and University Street and continue through downtown Martin. Lineup will begin at 9 a.m. in the UT Martin Business Administration Building parking lot. The Missing Man ceremony will be held immediately following the parade at the Martin Public Library stage, followed by a veterans luncheon at American Legion Post 55 located at 221 Central Street in Martin.

In other activities:

- At 6 a.m., Monday, Nov. 10, the Skyhawk Battalion cadets will lead the UT Martin Veterans Week 5K Walk/Run along the Brian Brown Memorial Greenway. The event will honor those who have served in the military and to show pride and unity between and among the ROTC cadets and the UT Martin and local community.
- The Skyhawk Battalion cadets have also organized the UT Martin Veterans

Day Ceremony, which will take place at 11 a.m., Thursday, Nov. 11 in the Watkins Auditorium. The ceremony will include comments from Dr. Stephanie Kolitsch, provost and senior vice chancellor for academic affairs, and Lt. Col. Robert Hawkins, UT Martin and Murray State University professor of military science, along with a color guard presentation and performances of the national anthem and military branch music.

- At 1 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 12, the Veterans Walk will begin at the Boling University Center military memorial and will end at the Capt. Brent L. Morel Memorial Bridge along the Brian Brown Greenway. This walk is to honor HONORING VETERANS – Veterans Week at UT Martin is taking place Nov. 10-14, and various events are being hosted to honor military veterans. Participants in the 2024 UT Martin veterans walk are pictured. This year’s walk is set for 1-2 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 12, and will begin at the Boling University Center. The public is invited to participate.

current service members as well as UT Martin alumnus Marine Capt. Brent L. Morel, who was killed in combat in Iraq in 2004.

- The Skyhawk Battalion will host the annual Veterans Bowl flag football game at 6 a.m., Thursday, Nov. 13, at Hardy M. Graham Stadium. The game will highlight the values of teamwork, discipline and resilience that unite soldiers and veterans, and reinforce community connection and morale.
- At 1 p.m., Friday, Nov. 14, the Skyhawk

Battalion will visit the W.D. Manning Tennessee State Veterans Home in Humboldt to recognize and engage with veterans in the local community. ROTC cadets will serve cake and refreshments, distribute appreciation items, and exchange stories with those who served before them, emphasizing the Skyhawk Battalion’s dedication to respect, service and community outreach as they learn from military veterans from previous generations.

Also, part of Veterans Week observances, on Saturday, Nov. 15, the UT Martin Skyhawks will host Charleston Southern in a Military Appreciation football game at 1 p.m. in Hardy M. Graham Stadium. Admission for active duty military and veterans is free.

The university will also reveal a POW/MIA Chair during the game, which is a symbolic display of an empty chair to honor service members who are prisoners of war, missing or killed in action.

Life insurance products to consider

Life insurance is an important component of wealth management and financial planning. Life insurance is designed to lessen the financial burden on loved ones in the event of a policy holder’s death. Life insurance typically is cheaper to purchase when someone is young and gets more expensive as a person ages. Health history, life choices (like smoking) and additional factors play key roles in determining the cost of a policy, according to the Office of the Insurance Commissioner of Washington State.

Life insurance policies are not all the same, and generally are categorized as term life insurance and permanent life insurance. With term life insurance, a person gets coverage for a defined length of time. If the insured dies during that time, money is paid to the person’s beneficiaries. When the term expires, no money is paid out and the person must get new coverage or go without life insurance. With a permanent life insurance policy, the coverage is lifelong and also includes a “cash value” component that can help with other financial objectives, such as saving for retirement. A deep dive into life insurance can help consumers determine which policy is best for them.

Term life insurance
This type of policy is sold in periods of one, five, 10, 15, 20, 25, or 30 years. Coverage amounts vary and people buy term life insurance for a length long enough to cover their prime working years, according to NerdWallet. This is often the least expensive life insurance product, but if a person outlives the policy, beneficiaries won’t receive a payout.

Permanent life insurance
Permanent life insurance is designed to cover a person’s entire life. The cash value component grows over time and can be borrowed against to pay for various needs. There are specific types of permanent life insurance.

- Whole life insurance: Whole life insurance will last a person’s entire life if premiums are maintained. In general, premiums stay the same and the insured gets the guaranteed rate of return on the policy’s cash value. The death benefit also will not change. Premiums are more expensive than term life, so this is best for people who want a basic permanent policy who can afford the higher premiums.
- Universal life insurance: This coverage is cheaper than whole life insurance, but still more expensive than term life. With this type of policy, the insured can raise or lower the amount they pay within the limits of the policy.

However, premiums typically increase over time, and individuals may subtract these increased costs against their cash value account component or death benefit. That cash value component grows based on market interest rates, says NerdWallet, and is not guaranteed.

- Variable universal life insurance: This type of insurance allows the cash value component to be invested in stocks, bonds and other investment products. Premiums are flexible, but a higher risk tolerance is necessary. While there is potential for greater growth, there also is the risk that comes with investing these funds, says Guardian.
- Indexed universal life insurance: Balancing risk with reward, an indexed universal life insurance policy can have the cash value growth linked to the performance of a stock market index like the S&P 500. Guardian says these policies use downside protection and upside caps. This means that during a bad market year, the insured’s cash value will not decline, but in a good year, the cash value won’t grow as much as the index itself. This policy is good for people who want to invest their money but risk little.
- Burial/final expense insurance: This is a very small policy designed to cover the costs of final expenses, but may not qualify for other life insurance. The death benefit is guaranteed but is often limited to between $5,000 and $25,000. Since a medical exam is not needed, it is an option for seniors and those with preexisting conditions. Individuals can explore various life insurance policy options to provide peace of mind that beneficiaries are provided for in the event of their death.

Tips to make a home more accommodating for holiday guests

Millions of people host family and friends during the holiday season. According to a recent report from the travel and finance experts at Upgraded Points, 57 percent of adults surveyed planned to host a holiday gathering in 2024, while 70 percent of respondents indicated they planned to attend such celebrations.

Hosting is a significant responsibility, but it's also a fun way to catch up with loved ones in a laid back environment. Chances to catch up are even stronger when hosting overnight guests, whose comfort should be a priority as hosts ready their homes for holiday celebrations. Hosts preparing to welcome loved ones into their homes this holiday season can take various steps to make their homes as accommodating as possible for overnight guests.

- Offer a secluded spot to sleep. The holiday season can be hectic, and it can be hard to keep things calm and quiet when returning home. That's especially true in homes with young children. Overnight guests who might be a little weary from traveling will undoubtedly appreciate a place away from the hustle and bustle to rest their heads. Though hosts must make due with the space they have, make a concerted effort to ensure residents remain quiet around guest rooms or other areas where overnight guests will be sleeping. If possible, choose a secluded spot away from areas of the home that tend to be noisy, such as the kitchen and living room/game room.
- Offer some in-room entertainment. Access to the internet and streaming services is nonstop in the modern world, and it can be a nice gesture to ensure overnight guests can stream their favorite content and stay connected during their stay. Hosts can outfit guest rooms with a smart TV for as little as $100 and load it up with popular streaming apps so guests can watch an episode or two of their favorite show in private before calling it a night.

- Offer kid-friendly creature comforts. Adults may be accustomed to sleeping outside their own homes, but younger guests might not be as familiar or comfortable sleeping somewhere other than their own bedrooms. If young children will be staying overnight, hosts can consider putting them up in the same bedrooms as their own children, which can be especially fun when kids are roughly the same age. Additional kid-friendly creature comforts include a stuffed animal or two, an in-room night light and some storybooks on a bedside nightstand.
- Include guests in fun traditions. Tradition is a big part of the appeal of the holiday season, and hosts can make guests feel more welcome by inviting them to participate in their own family traditions. Expand family baking sessions to include overnight guests, encourage willing loved ones to pitch in when preparing family meals and let guests pick their favorite holiday film for a family movie night.

Millions of people will host overnight guests this holiday season. Hosts can employ various strategies to ensure overnight guests feel welcome and comfortable during their stay.

Budget-friendly holiday shopping tips

Holiday shopping and entertaining involve a whirlwind of activity to round out the end of the year. The holiday season also tends to be an expensive time of year. According to Capital One Shopping, the average spending for holiday travel, gifts and entertainment expenses is $1,638. The National Retail Federation says American consumers spend an average of $997.73 on gifts and other holiday items each Christmas.

For some people, adding an additional $1,000 to their November or December budgets can be challenging, and many individuals

Thoughtful gifts for seniors

Gifts from friends and loved ones can make people feel cherished and valued. When these people are the older adults in one’s life, such as parents or grandparents, gifts take on additional meaning because they can warm the hearts of very special people.

Finding unique gifts for seniors can be challenging because these individuals have been receiving gifts for many years, and many may already have everything they need. Inspiration is everything when shopping for the ideal gifts for the older adults in one’s life, and the following are some categories that can serve as a springboard for what to get seniors this holiday season.

Comfort and mobility
Although people like to say, “age is just a number,” getting older may come with a few aches and pains and even some limitations. Gifts like seat cushions that correct posture or easy on/off sock helpers can be helpful. Cloud foam slippers or even a grab bar that attaches into the hood of the car door can be great gifts.

Fitness and fun
Gifts that cater to interests, well-being and more can be ideal. Active seniors may appreciate a fitness tracker or exercise equipment (yoga mat, light dumbbells, resistance bands) to facilitate fitness goals. Storage solutions for hobbies and craft items also can be fitting. See-through containers to store paints or beads or an organizer for fishing tackle can make seniors’ hobbies even more enjoyable. A roll-up puzzle mat is great for puzzle enthusiasts to protect their work until completion.

Family gifts
Seniors also may appreciate gifts that touch the heart. A custom recipe cutting board that features a treasured family recipe may become a cherished item. A customized photo calendar that features family members’ birthdays and other key events also is thoughtful. A photo jewelry locket makes a nice gift for a special senior woman.

Travel gifts
Seniors typically have more time to devote to travel than younger adults, and gifts that cater to their wanderlust are a perfect fit. Digital GPS-based devices that connect to keys or luggage can help prevent lost items while traveling. Bright luggage that won’t get mixed up at the baggage carousel or ergonomic neck pillows that facilitate napping on a flight also can be appreciated.

Those who know destinations the seniors in their lives may want to visit can purchase plane or cruise tickets as a generous gift for someone special. Various categories can provide ample inspiration when shopping for gifts for seniors this holiday season.

seek budget-friendly solutions for their holiday celebrations. The following guidelines can help corral spending this year.

Set a budget
It’s impossible to keep a budget if one is never established in the first place. Determine how much you can comfortably spend on gifts, travel and entertaining, as well as any other holiday expenses. Once the number is calculated, divvy up spending accordingly.

Plan your list
Make a list of everyone you need to purchase gifts for, along with gift ideas and estimated costs. Set a dollar amount for each individual, particularly if you will not be spending the same amount on each person. Having numbers in black and white, and comparing them to what you have allocated for gifts, will enable you to see whether you are overspending or on budget.

Shop early
Begin holiday shopping as early as possible, even months before the holidays arrive. Such an approach enables you to take advantage of sales as they come up. Also, you will not fall victim to impulse buys or last-minute purchases because you are under a time crunch.

Track spending
Utilize whatever method works for you to keep apprised of spending. It may be jotting down numbers on a piece of paper or using a budgeting app on a smartphone. Having a clear idea of what you have spent and any dollars remaining will help you keep your overall spending in line with your budgeted amount.

Get coupons
Signing up for stores’ loyalty programs can enable you to receive members-only coupons or digital codes to your phone or email. Compare the discounted final price with other stores’ offers to make sure that you are getting the best deals. Browser extensions also can search automatically for coupons and apply them to the checkout when online shopping.

Use credit cards wisely
Credit cards come with various perks, many of which are points or cash back accumulated with each purchase. Utilize a card that works best for your needs, whether it’s to get airline miles or score extra spending money for a particular retailer. Only charge what you can pay in full when the bill arrives; otherwise, the benefits may be negated by high interest rates.

Holiday spending can derail financial plans for those who do not establish a firm budget and commit to spending wisely towards the end of the year.

Thanksgiving weekend travel tips

Thanksgiving is consistently one of the busiest travel holidays of the year. In fact, AAA indicates that, in the United States, it may be the most traveled of all the holidays, with record numbers of both drivers and air travelers. In 2024, nearly 80 million Americans were expected to travel over Thanksgiving weekend. The Wednesday before Thanksgiving is a particularly busy day on the roads, but high volumes continue throughout the weekend.

A high demand for travel during this time of year means individuals wanting to see friends or family for Thanksgiving should plan accordingly. These tips, courtesy of AAA and the Transportation Safety Administration (TSA), can make Thanksgiving travel go more smoothly.

- Book flights early. If you are able, secure flights early in the day and use personal time off from work to fly in to a destination at the beginning of the week. The propensity for flights to be delayed or canceled increases as the day and week goes on. An early departure may increase the chances of a flight leaving on time. Also, the TSA reports that the Tuesday and Wednesday before Thanksgiving, as well as the Sunday after, are the busiest days for Thanksgiving air travel. Choosing an alternative day to fly may mean smaller crowds and less stress.

- Consider TSA PreCheck®. TSA PreCheck is a paid program that enables you to get through security lines faster. Interested parties must verify their identities through a third-party service that handles PreCheck applications, and await confirmation of approval. A TSA PreCheck membership lasts for five years. This membership offers consistent time savings at the airport with dedicated PreCheck lanes, and the benefit of keeping items like laptops and liquids in your bag.
- Consider traveling by train. If Amtrak services your destination, taking the train may be the least stressful way to travel over Thanksgiving. In addition to not having to navigate roadways or sit in traffic, you won't face security screening like you will at the airport. Once on the train, there is Wi-Fi, nice views and efficient travel. Trips booked in advance are more affordable than booking closer to the holiday.

- Pack light. Avoiding the baggage carousel can shave much time off of travel. Plus, there's no risk of luggage getting diverted or not making it to your final destination. A carry-on bag is the way to go for ease, particularly if you must get on a different flight if the original one is delayed or canceled.
- Service your car. If road travel is planned for Thanksgiving, make sure your car is in good condition for a road trip. Be up-to-date on oil changes, make sure the tires are properly inflated and double-check your emergency preparedness kit prior to leaving. It also may be a good idea to invest in AAA benefits, which afford extra peace of mind in the event of a breakdown as well as savings on travel-related expenses, such as lodging.

- Pack your patience.

In addition to your holiday essentials, it is wise to also pack some patience this Thanksgiving travel season. Leave extra time so you're not racing to your destination and can calmly contend with people also looking to get home for the holidays.

Thanksgiving means turkey and trimmings, but also millions of people traveling to give thanks alongside those they love.

What to get the sports fanatic on your holiday shopping list this year

Diehard sports fans are a passionate lot. That passion is something to keep in mind come the holiday season, when shoppers typically must find the right fit for everyone on their list. Such an undertaking is no small task, as veteran shoppers know that the right gift for one person on their list rarely aligns with the perfect fit for another loved one. But when it comes to finding gifts for sports fans, the options are endless.

- Gear: Some sports fans are spectators, while others can't wait to compete. Some new gear can be just what fans in the latter group are hoping to find under the tree this holiday season. Avid golfers may love a new driver or golf bag, while loved ones who can't wait for softball season to start each spring may consider a new bat the best gift they receive this holiday season. Whatever sport sparks your favorite athlete's passion, there's sure to be some gear that can help them take their game to the next level.

- Tickets: Perhaps nothing sparks sports fans' passion more strongly than seeing their favorite team in person, and that's even more true in a post-pandemic sports landscape. Popular sports like football, baseball and basketball have traditionally sold lots of tickets, but even sports like college volleyball and Major League Soccer have set attendance records since fans were allowed to return to stadiums after the removal of pandemic-related restrictions. The demand for tickets to live sporting events has spiked as a result, and Team Marketing Report noted National Football League tickets increased by nearly 9 percent in 2023 and Major League Baseball tickets increased by 3.5 percent in that same year. Such increases have priced some fans out of the market, which is why tickets can make for such a great gift this holiday season. The gift of attending a game in person is something a loved one won't soon forget.

- Apparel: Proud sports fans want to show their true colors, and nothing makes it easier to

Notable monuments to veterans across the United States

Veterans Day honors the millions of men and women who have sacrificed much to serve in the United States military. Veterans Day is commemorated each year on November 11 because it was that day in 1918 when an armistice was reached between combatants in World War I, which estimates suggest claimed the lives of as many as 22 million people.

There are many ways for Americans to celebrate veterans on Veterans Day. Visiting war memorials can instill a greater sense of appreciation for the men and women who have served in the United States military. The following are some notable war memorials honoring veterans across the United States.

Tomb of the Unknown Soldier
The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier is an iconic memorial located in Arlington National Cemetery in Arlington, Virginia. Cemetery officials note New York Congressman and World War I veteran Hamilton Fish, Jr., played an integral role in establishing the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier by proposing legislation that provided for the internment of one unknown American soldier killed during WWI. Guards are now present at the tomb 24/7, and visitors, including U.S. presidents and foreign dignitaries, typically lay a wreath at the tomb to honor the sacrifices of all U.S. veterans.

Korean War Veterans Memorial
The Korean War Veterans Memorial in Washington, D.C. honors the roughly 1.5 million American veterans who fought alongside forces from the United Nations in a conflict that lasted from 1950 to 1953. Nineteen sculptures depicting U.S. servicemen on patrol during the conflict are among the many notable components of this moving memorial, which also features a wall and pool of remembrance that display the names of the more than 36,000 Americans killed during the Korean War.

Liberty Memorial
The Liberty Memorial in Kansas City, Missouri, was built in 1926 to honor the brave American service members who lost their lives in World War I. The Liberty Memorial, which is now known as the National World War I Museum and Memorial, is an iconic landmark in Kansas City that features the Liberty Memorial Tower, which rises 217 feet about Memorial Courtyard and 268 feet above the North Lawn. The top of the tower emits a flame at night to create a stunning visual. Memory Hall on the east side of the Liberty Memorial Tower containing a portion of the Panthéon de la Guerre, an iconic French painting that depicts the Allied nations of World War I.

USS Arizona Memorial
The USS Arizona Memorial in Honolulu, Hawaii, is dedicated to preserving the memories of the sacrifices of servicemen who fought in the Pacific theater throughout World War II. The memorial marks the resting place of more than 1,100 sailors during the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, an event that led to U.S. involvement in World War II. The memorial is accessible exclusively by boat and the sunken remains of the battleship USS Arizona straddle the site.

These are just four of the many notable landmarks that commemorate the sacrifice and service of U.S. military members over the course of the nation's history.

do so than team apparel. According to Statista, the global sports apparel market generated roughly $213 billion USD in revenue in 2023. A jersey with the name and number of a loved one's favorite player can make for the ultimate apparel gift, but don't overlook T-shirts, hats, outerwear, or other options this holiday season.

- Television: The popularity of watching sports is undeniable and the proof is in the financial pudding. For example, Statista reports the annual value of the NFL's deal with ABC/

ESPN/Disney to broadcast "Monday Night Football" was approximately $2.7 billion in 2023. That figure underscores how much fans love watching their favorite teams, and they need somewhere to do so. There may be no quicker route to a sports fan's heart than through a new television to make the viewing experience that much better. The prices on 4K UHD televisions have dropped considerably in recent years, so a new TV can make the perfect gift for the sports fan in your life. Split the cost with fellow loved ones and then enjoy watching your favorite sports fan react upon seeing his or her new television under the tree.

These are just a few of the many gifts to consider for the diehard sports fan on your shopping list this holiday season.

Four Rivers Behavioral Health launches new Mental Health Care Program for seniors

PADUCAH, KY – Four Rivers Behavioral Health has created SilverCare, a new comprehensive program for geriatric patients. SilverCare is part of the agency’s Center for Medical Services and is led by Dr. Laurie Ballew, D.O. ED.D. DLFAPA, who specializes in geriatric psychiatry. The program takes individual services offered at Four Rivers Behavioral Health and bundles them with a focus on seniors. Psychiatric care is the primary offering of SilverCare. The organization’s medical team includes providers who specialize in geriatric psychiatry and are well-versed in caring for seniors and addressing the unique challenges of geriatric patients, including concerns like dementia, early-onset Alzheimer’s Disease, social isolation and home safety. Other concerns for seniors include substance abuse, nutritional counseling, depression, anxiety and grief.

I’m so pleased we offer a care plan tailored for older patients. For seniors, it means they can take advantage of a variety of mental health care services all in one place.”

Four Rivers Behavioral Health is a private, not-for-profit community mental health agency that provides comprehensive mental health, substance use disorder and developmental/intellectual disability services in western Kentucky. The agency is an Inlet Health company.

Inlet Health is a partnership between Communicare, Inc. of Elizabethtown, Kentucky and Four Rivers Behavioral Health which is headquartered in Paducah, Kentucky. As Inlet Health, the combined agencies serve 17 counties in central and western Kentucky. Inlet Health provides in-school clinicians to more than 75 schools in western and central Kentucky and offers more than 70 specific programs and specialized services. Jointly, Communicare, Inc. and Four Rivers Behavioral Health employ about 1,000 Inlet Health staff members. Nearly 100 of those employees are licensed behavioral health clinicians with the remainder being doctors, nurses, nurse-practitioners, peer support specialists, clinical associates and business support staff.

Dr. Ballew is a Board-Certified Psychiatrist with the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology: Psychiatry, the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology: Psychosomatic Medicine and the American Board of Addiction Medicine. She is a Distinguished Life Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association. In 2024, she was named as one of the 100 Best Doctors in Kentucky and was named one of the Top 100 Addiction Psychiatrists in the U.S. in 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023 and 2024.

Details can be found at 4rbh.org.

In addition to psychiatric care, SilverCare offers case management assistance as well as outpatient and group therapy sessions, focusing on issues important to the elderly, like grief counseling and coping with dementia or depression. Therapists at Four Rivers Behavioral Health employee many different, evidence-based treatment models such as Cognitive Behavioral Therapy, Eye Movement Desensitization and Reprocessing or trauma-focused treatments when working with seniors.

Dr. Ballew said, “Oftentimes, as we age, our emotional well-being takes a backseat to physical health. While this phenomenon is understandable, and physical health is certainly important - especially for older people - mental health plays an important role in the overall well-being of seniors.”

Seniors struggling with anxiety or depression could develop physical manifestations of those conditions. For example, if an older person is suffering from anxiety, they could find it difficult to participate in social activities or may even struggle with leaving the house. This could lead to a lack of exercise with physical health consequences like heart disease, high blood pressure or arthritis. And, by not socializing with others, seniors lessen their mental stimulation, which could worsen early symptoms of dementia.

Dr. Ballew added, “Psychiatry is an important part of treating older people’s overall health which is why I chose to complete additional training in the field of geriatric psychiatry.
