

Jasper Police Department holds 2nd Annual Hometown Heroes 5K Fun

What a Great Day at the Hometown Heroes 5K! The Jasper Police Department's 2nd Annual Hometown Heroes 5K Fun Run was a huge success, and we had a great time seeing so many members of our community come out and be a part of it! From the starting line to the finish, the energy and support made for an outstanding event, and we're thankful for everyone who participated, volunteered, and helped make the day run smoothly. A big thank you to our sponsors for their continued support: Baptist Health Walker Hospital, Carbon Hill Coca-Cola Bottling Company, and the Walker County Chamber of Commerce. We couldn't do it without you. We'll be posting photos and video from the race throughout the week, so keep an eye out, you might just see yourself crossing the finish line! Thank you again to everyone who helped make this event a success. It goes a long way for a great cause! We're already looking forward to doing it again next year!

VICTORIOUS Living ...in a troubled world

Where to find the good therapy

Teresa LeNeave –
leneave2@comcast.net

If you don't like the harvest, pay attention to the seed

Teresa LeNeave
Success and prosperity aren't just about luck or hard work. According to the Bible, they come from God. In Malachi, God promises to open the "windows of heaven" and pour out blessings if we are faithful with our tithes. (Malachi 3:10). It also says, "Every good and every perfect gift, comes from God, the "Father of lights." (paraphrase James 1:17).

My understanding of "good and perfect" includes good health, sound mind, and wholeness, but most people suffer with failing health or trouble in family or bad jobs or just trials of life. In spite of that, I still believe God desires for us to be in good health. According to Psalm 42, this wholeness is a blessing from God. No where is it clearer than when we read about King David when he talks about how his health and wellbeing come from God, even when life is difficult.

So why is there so much adverseness going on in life? Scripture says that humans are made up of three parts: body, soul, and spirit. With all the disease, anger and dis-rest in the world, it's not easy to keep those three in perfect alignment. The soul is the part of us that controls our thoughts, emotions, and actions ... those three we struggle with. Proverbs remind us to guard our hearts and minds because everything we do flows from them. What we see, hear, and think directly influences our lives, so we must be careful what we feed our souls.

Isaiah 55 says God's word waters the earth, causing it to grow and bring forth blessings. In the same way, when we fill our souls with God's truth and guidance, we will see blessing in our lives. Prosperity, as taught in the Bible, is not a life free from pain and suffering, but it is a life filled with God's strength that's given to sustain and get us through pain and suffering. Biblical prosperity reaches way deeper into life than money. If we get caught up on money alone, we'll miss the deeper promises of restoration and healing of body, soul, and spirit.

The Bible's message is clear: God wants us to prosper, be in good health, and have our souls grow in wisdom and peace. As our souls are nourished and prosper in God's ways, the rest of our lives; our finances, health, and emotions will follow. (3 John 1-2).

If you're struggling, remember: "If you don't like the harvest, pay attention to the seed you're planting." What we feed our soul is what will grow in our life. A preacher recently reminded me that some things change, only by much prayer and fasting. It takes time for seed to grow and very it's hard to pull up something that's grown deep and hardened. That's one reason we need God. Like an old song said, "He can calm the troubled waters of our soul".

Three good verses to memorize are: "I can do all things through him (Christ) who strengthens me" (Phil 4:13). "God gives strength to the weary" (Isa. 40:29). And, "Fear not, for I am with you" (Isa 41:10).

The Best of Both Worlds

By Brandon Bramlett

Odysseus wanted the best of both worlds, and he paid dearly for it. His tale is told in The Odyssey, the world-famous poetic book written by Homer in the eighth century. The narrative centers on his ten-year journey back to the kingdom of Ithaca after the end of the Trojan War, and every reader of The Odyssey knows that his return-voyage was not easy. One hazardous threat he faced on his return trip were the Sirens, two ghastly monsters disguised as beautiful women who enchanted travelers with their lovely melodies in an attempt to lure and devour them. Odysseus and his crew were thus instructed to deafen their ears with wax and chain themselves to their ship so they would not be swayed by the seductive tune.

But Odysseus paid no attention. He ordered his men to bind him hand and foot to their ship, but leave his ears open so he might hear the splendid song of the Sirens without being slain. The magical melody soon danced upon the waters, and Odysseus demanded to be released immediately. Then he started straining against the chains, until they dug deeply into his skin and caused fatal bleeding. And it wasn't until their ship sailed far away from the Sirens that Odysseus understood the shameful and agonizing cost of having things both ways.

Wanting the best of both worlds might be a theme of an eighth-century poetic novel, but it is a timeless problem that exists for believers in the twenty-first century, too. The duplicitous desire to indulge in the sinful pleasures of the world while concurrently savoring the Lord's goodness is a tricky temptation that all of the Lord's saints experience. That is why the Scripture is replete with warnings about trying to hold hands with God and the wicked world at the same time. As James said, "Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? Whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God" (James 4:4, KJV). And as Jesus taught, "No one can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other" (Matt. 6:24a).

Love for the world is simply incompatible with love for God (cf. 1 John 2:15-17). Moreover, the Lord will not settle for such divided allegiance, spiritual adultery, half-hearted worship, or the "leftovers" of our love. He detests lukewarm love and delights in wholehearted devotion (Rev. 3:15-16). And most importantly, only the Lord is worthy of all the love and worship we can give (Psalm 96:4; Rev. 4:11); that is why believers are commanded to love the Lord with all of their heart, soul, mind, and strength, and not some of it (Luke 10:27). Living a best-of-both-worlds life might sound appealing, but it is simply not worth it—just ask Odysseus.

Being an enjoying Christian not just an enduring one

The toms are gobbling all around. Their call is one of the most recognizable in all of nature. Whether one is a turkey hunter or not, everyone knows this familiar sound. And even though a tom turkey will gobble the entire year, he is especially vocal during the spring mating season. The turkey is an amazing bird.

Just a few decades ago there were so few that most hunters turned into fishermen during the spring. Now, the turkey is in every state except Alaska. And not only are they surviving, they are also thriving. The reintroduction of the turkey has been a great success story for fish and game commissions all over the country.

There has been a concerted effort between them, some conservation groups like the NWTf, and the turkey themselves. Yes, the turkey has really done its part in this process as well. They have adapted. It seems no matter what type of terrain the turkey is placed in, it survives. And not only does it survive, but it seems to accept its environment and make it its own.

It doesn't care if it is placed in the mountains or the flatlands, in the cold or hot temperatures. It is going to not only endure its situation; it is going to enjoy it.

That's how I want to be. I want to be an enjoying Christian and not just an enduring one. And it's really not up to anyone or anything but me.

All of my life, my circumstances have changed. I have noticed as I have gotten older that nothing stays the same. It seems just as I get a grasp on some new thing, it is replaced by a newer thing. I could grumble, complain, long for the good ole days, refuse to change, and endure the rest of my life as a cantankerous old man. Or I can choose to relish the opportunity to learn, be thankful for the opportunity to live in this new arena, adapt, and enjoy every minute I am blessed to be here. That is an easy decision for me. I hope it will be for you. When I think about this, I'm always reminded of Apostle Paul's reminder of what the Holy Spirit is trying to produce in me. He writes this. "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, forbearance, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control." This means, if I mature in my faith, my old age will not be characterized by cranky or cantankerous, or even just enduring. It will instead be seen as one that is characterized by these nine flavors of this fruit. Because while society, culture, and circumstances change, what the Spirit wants to produce in me, will not. It will fit in every generation. This means if I'm looking for stability, I don't need to look at what world I'm in, but what world is in me.

How it Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle! Good Luck! ANSWERS ON THE CLASSIFIED PAGE

Indiana Laborers' District Council highlights National Work Zone Awareness Week 2026 "Safe Actions Save Lives"

Terre Haute — Today marks the beginning of National Work Zone Awareness Week (NWZAW) 2026, a nationwide initiative dedicated to raising awareness about the importance of safety in roadway work zones. This year's theme, "Safe Actions Save Lives," underscores the critical role that every driver and worker plays in preventing accidents and protecting lives. As construction season gets underway across Indiana, members of the Indiana Laborers' District Council (INLDC) are once again on the front lines —repairing roads, rebuilding infrastructure, and strengthening communities. These essential projects help keep Indiana moving forward, but they also place workers in high-risk environments where a single moment of distraction can lead to serious injury or worse. The INLDC urges all motorists, construction workers, and community members to take simple, responsible actions to improve safety in work zones. Slow down and obey posted speed limits Stay alert and eliminate distractions Watch for workers, vehicles, and changing traffic patterns

"Every action behind the wheel matters," said Brian Short, Business Manager of the INLDC. "Our members are out there every day doing critical work to improve our infrastructure, and they rely on drivers to do their part. When drivers make safe choices, lives are saved." Work zone safety is a shared responsibility. Through continued training, strong safety standards, and partnerships with contractors and the state, the Indiana Laborers remain committed to protecting their members on all job sites. Initiatives like the Indiana SafeZone program continue to play an important role by combining enforcement, education, and technology to reduce dangerous driving behaviors in active work zones. Throughout the week, the INLDC will join partners across the state and country to promote awareness through outreach efforts, safety events, and community engagement. The message is simple: Safe Actions Save Lives. The INLDC encourages everyone to slow down, stay focused, and help ensure that every worker makes it home safely.

JUST A REMINDER

Spring Medication Take Back Day set for Saturday

Be a part of the addiction and pollution solution by bringing your expired, unused, and unwanted pharmaceuticals and disposing of them at the Dubois County Medication Collection on Saturday, April 25 in collaboration with the DEA National Pharmaceutical Drug Take Back Event. The Jasper State Police Post, located at 2209 Newton Street, will host a collection from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. ET while the Dubois Fire Station located at 4199 N. State Road 545, Dubois and the Ireland Fire Station located at 5053 W Main St. will host the two county collection sites from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. The Jasper State Police Post site is a drive through event, while the two county sites are walk up, with drive up available as needed. Medications are accepted anonymously and either the resident or volunteer places them in the box for proper disposal immediately after they are received. The Jasper Police Station located 309 E. 6th St also accept pharmaceuticals 24/7 year round in their drop box. Dubois County residents are asked to rid their homes of expired, unwanted, and unused medications. Unused drugs are a common household health threat that can be lessened when you clean the old and unused meds out of your home. No sharps (auto-injectors, needles, syringes, IV catheters, blades, lancets, auto-injectors, infusion sets, connection needle/sets, and glass), infectious materials, (anything containing bodily fluids) or waste will be collected. This collection is for private citizens only. No collections will be accepted from businesses or health facilities.

The partners of this event remind residents that correct disposal of medications creates a safer and cleaner environment, and greater public awareness reduces illegal activities and scavenging of personal property and public waste receptacles. Pharmaceuticals should never be poured down the drain or flushed down the toilet. Doing so potentially pollutes our waterways, ground water and drinking water. Some drugs may kill the beneficial bacteria in sewage treatment plants and septic systems and may produce resistant infectious bacteria. Keeping old medications in the home is unsafe as children or adults may confuse the medication and it creates the potential for theft of certain medications. This collection event is the perfect opportunity to clean out the medicine cabinet and dispose of medications properly. The Dubois County Sheriff's Department will attend to the collection at the county collection sites, while the Indiana State Police will attend the Jasper Post site. This project impacts the substance abuse and environmental stewardship of Dubois County communities and requires collaboration. The partners that make this successful are Dubois County CARES, Dubois County Solid Waste Management District, Dubois County Advocacy for Recovery and Prevention Council, Dubois and Ireland Fire Departments, Dubois County Sheriff's Department, Indiana State Police, and Drug Enforcement Administration. For general information or if you have questions, contact: Carla Striegel-Winner, Dubois County Solid Waste Management District; 812-482-7865, swmd@duboiscountyin.org

Begle family gift launches new era of Aces Athletics with Sports Performance Center

EVANSVILLE, IND. — The University of Evansville (UE) is proud to announce that its renovated athletics facility will be named the Begle Family Sports Performance Center in recognition of the leadership giving of Trustee Curt Begle '99 and his wife, Kelley Begle '00. The Board of Trustees approved the recognition unanimously during their February meeting and the Begle's along with University leaders officially cut the ribbon during a ceremony on Friday.

The Begle family's long-standing support has culminated in a major investment that will directly enhance the student-athlete experience. This project, funded entirely through private gifts, has already surpassed $800,000. The new facility will provide space for training, recovery, and development, serving all 300 student-athletes across UE's 17 NCAA Division I programs.

Further enhancements to the space will focus on the holistic well-being of student-athletes, with an emphasis on nutrition and opportunities for engagement that strengthen community and team connections.

"When I first arrived at UE, it was clear to me that the greatest facility need for our entire department was a new sports performance center that could serve all 300 of our student-athletes," said Director of Athletics Dr. Kenneth "Ziggy" Siegfried. "The Begle Family Sports Performance Center will transform the student-athlete experience at UE and provide our coaches with a first-class tool for recruiting the brightest and best. We are deeply grateful to the Begle family and to all of our supporters who stepped forward to make this vision a reality."

"This project will give all student-athletes the resources they need to grow physically and mentally, supporting their overall well-being and helping them perform at their best in every aspect of their college experience," said Head Men's Basketball Coach David Ragland.

Curt Begle knows the impact this project will have firsthand. A forward on the Purple Aces men's basketball team, he was part of the 1999 squad, the last UE team to compete in the NCAA Tournament. Since graduating from UE, Begle has become Chief Executive Officer of Magnera Corporation. He has served as a member of the Board of Trustees since 2019, is co-chair of the 50th Anniversary Plane Crash Task Force and is a highly involved member of the Athletic Director's Council.

Kelley Meisler-Begle '00, a former member of the cheer team and Acettes, has also been devoted to UE. She has hosted University events, supported multiple sports, and attended games courtside for years with Curt and their son, Crue. Together, Curt and Kelley have encouraged other donors to support the project and provided input on its design to ensure it meets the needs of student-athletes.

"Kelley and I know the lessons athletics instill last a lifetime, including teamwork, perseverance, and resilience," said Begle. "UE made those lessons real for me, and it has been our privilege to give back. We are proud that this support will help every student-athlete pursue excellence here and step into the world ready to lead."

Curt and Kelley Begle have shown how generosity can shape lives and strengthen community. Their legacy reflects a strong future for the University of Evansville, where ideas are launched and meaningful change takes root.

The University of Evansville is a private, comprehensive university with a solid foundation in the arts and sciences and professional schools in business, engineering, education, and health sciences. Established in 1854, UE is recognized across the globe for its rich tradition of innovative, academic excellence and dynamic campus community of #Changemakers.

Home of the Purple Aces, UE is located in the southwestern region of Indiana and offers over 75 majors, 17 Division I sports, and a unique study abroad experience at Harlaxton, the University's very own Victorian manor located in the countryside of England. For more information, please visit evansville.edu.

From L to R: Director of Athletics Dr. Kenneth "Ziggy" Siegfried, UE Trustee Curt Begle '99, Kelley Begle '00, Crue Begle, and UE President Christopher M. Pietruszkiewicz

Motorists: stay alert and share the road with farm equipment this spring

INDIANAPOLIS — Planting season has officially arrived for Hoosier farmers. With the warm weather and sunshine, Hoosier motorists will also see more large slow-moving farm equipment traveling Indiana’s rural roads and highways.

The Indiana State Department of Agriculture, Indiana Department of Transportation, and the Indiana State Police want to encourage motorists to slow down, be alert and be patient on roadways this spring.

“Ensuring a safe planting season is a shared responsibility for all motorists,” said Don Lamb, director of the Indiana State Department of Agriculture. “As a farmer, I know firsthand the dangers of transporting farm equipment on roads, and I encourage all Hoosiers to be patient while approaching large farm equipment so we all can get home safely to our families.”

From 2020-2023, 20 occupants were involved in crashes with farm equipment in Indiana which resulted in six deaths, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration*.

“Safety remains top priority at INDOT, and we are proud to partner with the Department of Agriculture this planting season,” said INDOT Commissioner Lyndsay Quist. “I encourage all drivers to buckle up, put the phone down, and share the road as you encounter farm equipment over the next several months. We all have jobs to do and places to be, and we want everyone to reach their destinations safely.”

While the term “farm equipment” encompasses a wide range of vehicles, the most common types motorists will encounter during planting season include sprayers, tractors pulling planters or tillage equipment, and large trucks hauling agricultural products. These vehicles are wide, sometimes taking up most of the road, and often travel at speeds no greater than 25 mph.

“With the onset of warmer weather, we will begin to see more and more farm machinery on our rural roads and highways,” said Anthony Scott, Indiana State Police Superintendent. “

Patience, courtesy, undivided attention, and understanding will help everyone get to where they need to be safely. Let’s all do our part to ensure our farmers enjoy a safe planting season.”

The following list includes several safety tips for motorists approaching large farm equipment:

Farmers will pull over when they are able to let motorists pass, but it may take time for them to get to a safe place to do so.

Be patient. Farm equipment is wide, sometimes taking up most of the road.

Be careful when passing. Do not pass in a designated “No Passing Zone” or within 100 feet of any intersection, railroad grade crossing, bridge, elevation structure or tunnel.

Do not try to pass slow-moving farm equipment on the left without ensuring that the farmer driving is not planning a left turn. It may appear that the driver is pulling over to allow a vehicle to pass when the farmer is actually preparing to turn. You will drive right into its path, endangering yourself and the farmer.

Additionally, avoid tailgating as some farm equipment might have to make sudden stops along the road. Allow plenty of time to get to a destination, be aware of alternate routes and avoid distractions.
