FNB Donates over $21,800 back to local schools through 'spirit' debit card program

By: Brooke Wiles
VP & Chief Marketing Officer
FNB Bank Inc.

(Mayfield, KY) FNB Bank is proud to announce that they have donated over $21,800 back to Mayfield, Graves County, Trigg County, and Marshall County Schools through their Spirit Debit Card Program. These donations to the school systems are a result of FNB's 1st quarter 2026 Spirit Debit Card Program.

"We are proud to offer our exclusive FNB Spirit Debit Card Program to our local schools," stated Brooke Wiles, FNB's Chief Marketing Officer. "Our customers have pride in knowing that they are making a difference in the lives of our youth by simply swiping their Spirit Debit Cards at the checkout. The donated funds allow the school systems the opportunity to do more for their students and staff, which is an invaluable asset to our community."

The FNB Spirit Debit Card Program allows FNB and their customers the opportunity to give back to their local schools when they use their FNB debit card. FNB currently offers Spirit Debit Cards for Mayfield, Graves County, Trigg County, and Marshall County Schools. The Spirit Card works like a traditional debit card and for each signature-based transaction (not using your PIN), FNB donates $0.10 to the corresponding school. The tracking process is hassle free for the card holder, as FNB does all the tracking and submits the check to each school on a quarterly basis. The donated funds are utilized at the school's discretion.

In 2025, FNB donated over $87,000 to their participating schools through the Spirit Debit Card Program. To learn more about the Spirit Debit Card Program, stop by your nearest FNB Office or visit www.GrowWithFNB.com.

GCED Receives $2 Million KY Development Initiative Grant

Graves County Economic Development (GCED) is pleased to announce it has received a $2 million grant from the Kentucky Product Development Initiative (KPDI) to construct two speculative (spec) buildings in Mayfield in partnership with Youngblood Excavating & Contracting Company (YEC).

Economic development organizations and local governments across the commonwealth compete for the KPDI grants, made possible through a partnership between the Kentucky Cabinet for Economic Development (KCED), the Kentucky Association for Economic Development (KAED), and a product development fund created by the state in 2022.

"It is a privilege to partner with GCED on this project and bring to life our shared vision for the light industrial expansion of Grace Commercial Park," said YEC owner Brad Youngblood.

"Without GCED and the support from KCED and KAED, we couldn't have completed this project. These spec buildings will result in a large increase in the community tax base, create many new jobs, and build a foundation for even more sustainable future growth," Youngblood added. "We at YEC are excited to see our work and that of others generate such lasting growth and change for all," Youngblood said.

The Murray Bank is YEC's financial partner in the project. "This is the kind of investment that really makes a difference in our region," said Tony Ryan, President and CEO of The Murray Bank. "When you create space and opportunity for businesses to grow, you're also creating jobs and long-term stability for local families. We're proud to support efforts like this that continue moving our region forward."

Each of the two spec buildings will cover 60,000 square feet and can expand up to 100,000 square feet to accommodate tenant needs.

They will be located off Key Bottom Road, north of Mayfield. The 16.2-acre site will be the newest addition to the portfolio of industrial property available in Graves County. The site is less than a quarter mile from U.S. Highway 45 and less than two miles from Interstate 69. This property will be fully served with utilities available on the property line.

"We are excited to be adding more opportunities for new and existing businesses here in Graves County," said Judge Executive Jesse Perry. "We appreciate the Cabinet for Economic Development and KAED and the con-

Rain may have washed out the game, but it also gave Mayfield High School baseball a chance to reflect on a memorable Senior Night celebration honoring seniors Kyler, Luke and Malachi for their dedication and contributions to the Cardinals program.

Mayfield High School softball honored its lone senior, #7 Jaidyn Hendley, during Senior Day festivities. Hendley, a second baseman for the Lady Cardinals, was recognized before the game for her dedication and contributions to the program.

AG UPDATE Poison Hemlock Just Becoming Noticeable

for Ag and Natural Resources

Tom Miller,
Ballard County Ext. Agent

A very famous, dangerous weed is showing up all over our area and just starting to bloom right now. I noticed it while driving down the road the other day and now it is everywhere I look. Mentioned several times in Shakespeare's plays and according to Plato it was the poison that was used to kill Socrates. That weed is poison Hemlock. Not really known in our area until the last 4 or 5 years, I can remember 20 years ago, learning about this weed as it spread across eastern and central Kentucky.

It is well established in our area now. You will notice it on the roadsides, in waste areas, old railroad tracks, around the ditches in fields. The plant is very poisonous if it is ingested, that means don't eat it. Don't let your animals eat it or children at play. It is also dangerous if you were to handle a lot of it without gloves. It is not like poison ivy, just brushing against it won't hurt you but if you were to handle a large amount of it, it could be dangerous. The plant is in the parsnip or carrot family. Its cousin, Queen Anne's lace or wild carrot is also in bloom now and while similar, they are easily distinguishable. Hemlock is a much bigger plant, the stems are much bigger, hollow and often have blotches of purple on them. All parts of the plant are poisonous with the seeds often being the most deadly. Animals and humans can die after eating a very small quantity. Fortunately, it is usually unpalatable to most animals and they would only eat it in times of extreme hunger. However, be extremely careful of controlling it in pastures that contain animals. After the plant has been treated and is starting to deteriorate, the animals are much more likely to eat it for some reason and it can still kill them. You also need to be careful of getting this weed in with your hay when harvesting. The poison degrades as the hay dries. If the animals do not ingest enough to kill them, just a small amount can lead to severe birth defects in growing fetuses. Humans are most often poisoned when they mistake the root for wild parsnips and eat it. This plant is a biennial, meaning it takes 2 years to complete its lifecycle. It was brought into this country in the 1800's as an ornamental plant. It is now an invasive species. It can be controlled in the early growing season with 2, 4-D and a mixture of dicamba. Once the plant blooms, it is very hard to control with chemicals and needs to be hand removed before it goes to seed. Just be sure to wear gloves if you are going to be handling these plants at all. Do not burn the plants as breathing the smoke could be dangerous. If you need help with plant or weed identification, just call my office and I will be glad to come out and help.

Woman Charged After False Assault Report Investigation in Bardwell

By Laurna Todd
KPI Writer

A Bardwell woman was arrested Tuesday after allegedly admitting to fabricating a sexual assault report during an investigation by the Carlisle County Sheriff's Office.

According to the sheriff's office, deputies were dispatched May 12 to the Bardwell Post Office after a woman requested employees contact law enforcement to report an alleged sexual assault.

Officers met with Courtney Link at the post office and transported her to the sheriff's office, where she was interviewed by Chief Deputy Ben Green.

During the investigation, Link reportedly described an alleged sexual assault that she claimed occurred the previous day at her Bardwell residence. Authorities said Link also consented to allowing investigators to inspect her cellphone.

While reviewing the phone, Chief Deputy Green allegedly discovered deleted text messages that contradicted the statement given to law enforcement. According to the sheriff's office, Link was advised of her Miranda rights and later admitted she fabricated the report because she was upset over an impending eviction from her residence.

Link was arrested and charged with falsely reporting an incident to law enforcement, a misdemeanor, and tampering with physical evidence, a Class D felony.

She was transported to the Ballard County Jail.

Myatt Farms Looks Ahead After Successful First Strawberry Festival in Barlow

By Laurna Todd
KPI Writer

BARLOW — What started as a new farming venture for one Ballard County family quickly turned into a community celebration as Myatt Farms hosted its 1st Annual Strawberry Festival in Barlow.

Myatt Farms, owned and operated by Deena and Charlie Myatt along with Chad and Alysia Myatt, welcomed visitors from across the region to the family farm at 6764 Sallie Crice Road for a day filled with food, music, shopping and family fun.

The family-owned farm primarily specializes in row crops, including corn and soybeans, along with operating six chicken barns. This past summer, the family decided to expand into specialty crops by planting approximately 2,000 strawberry plants and opening the patch for a public U-pick experience.

To celebrate their first strawberry harvest and introduce the community to the new strawberry patch, the Myatt family organized the Strawberry Festival.

Festivalgoers enjoyed shopping with several local vendors including Baby Bugs Boutique, Homemade by Hannah, Strangers in the Night Apothecary, Mila's Creations Kettle Corn, Pampered Chef by Stephanie Kendall, Sellin with Sara Jean, Mama Kelly's Dirty Pop Soda Shop, Cure in Every Knot and a bake sale benefiting St. Jude.

Guests also enjoyed breakfast from Mama Dee's Waffles with Myatt Farms, barbecue from Chris Hargrove BBQ and live entertainment from Kentucky Crossroads. Children had the opportunity to enjoy bounce houses, yard games and even explore a fire truck as the Barlow Fire Department conducted fire dues drawings during the event.

Alysia Myatt said seeing families come together was one of the most rewarding parts of the festival. "It was a great turnout for our first year," Myatt said.

"We loved watching the kids enjoy the bouncy houses and yard games. It was great to provide the community and surrounding communities with a family-friendly atmosphere and a day of fun."

The Myatt family said they hope to continue growing the event each year and already have plans to expand the strawberry operation significantly before next season.

"We will add at least 3,000 additional strawberry plants to our U-pick field," Myatt said. "We plan to have more activities for the kids and invite Kentucky Crossroads back, along with other local musicians, to provide entertainment throughout the day."

While no additional events are currently finalized, the family said they are discussing future festival ideas and encouraged the public to follow the farm's Facebook page for updates and announcements.

The Myatt family expressed appreciation to everyone who attended and helped make the first festival a success, saying they look forward to welcoming even more visitors back to the farm next year.

Sudoku Puzzle

How it Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle! Good Luck!

Staff Report

PADUCAH — Three Paducah Tilghman High School seniors signed athletic scholarships during a signing ceremony held at PTHS on Monday, May 11. Taveus TK Jackson signed a scholarship to play football for the University of Rio Grande (Ohio).

During Jackson's four years at PTHS, the football team had a 46-10 overall record, winning one state championship and three region titles. "We didn't always think that we were going to get here," said PTHS football head coach Sean Thompson, "but for TK to have this opportunity to continue his playing career and be wanted outside of Paducah for his skills and ability on the field is special." Blane Kolb signed a scholarship to play soccer for Asbury University. Kolb was a multi-sport athlete, playing soccer, football, and track & field. "I'm thankful for a player like Blane," said PTHS boys' soccer head coach Tanner Reed. "Blane has all the talent that he needs in the world. He knows how to train. He knows how to work hard. We've instilled him with a work ethic where he's not just willing to settle but will want to get into the program and start playing, and then will want to start, and then will want to be captain. The sky is the limit for Blane." Myiesha Smith signed a scholarship to play basketball for Culver Stockton College (Missouri). Smith was a multi-sport athlete, competing in basketball, track and field, and soccer. "As your coach, it's a blessing to see one of my own (players) sign," said PTHS girls' basketball head coach Howard Dillard. "Myiesha, I want you to remember where you came from, how you got here, and how much work you put in. By doing this today, you are showing an example for your sisters, so they know what they need to do as well."

Lady Bomber Softball Peaking?

By Tim Taylor
KPI Sports Writer

Are the Ballard Memorial Lady Bombers peaking at the right time? Lady Bomber softball Coach Scott Alexander sure hopes they are. The Lady Bombers begin the final week of the regular season on a 3 game winning streak. It is the first time this season they have won more than 2 consecutive games. Achieving that with backup players stepping up makes the accomplishment even more rewarding.

Winning the River Rivalry Invitational at Massac County in dramatic fashion may be the momentum the Lady Bombers needed. They held a 5-1 lead in the 3rd inning to only see Johnston City, IL rally back to claim the 7-5 advantage heading into the 7th inning. Ballard Memorial scored 6 times win the championship game 11-7. Gracie Gliss and Peyton Phelps pitched the team to victory while several players made timely plays to secure the victory.

Heading into the 3rd District Tournament on a winning streak is exactly what the team needed. They won the title in 2023 before losing in 2024 by a pair of runs and lost the championship last year by one run. It is time to regain the top spot in the 3rd District as they play at Graves County on Monday the 18th against Mayfield at 5:30 with the winner advancing to the Wednesday, May 20th championship game against host Graves County.

CCHS Athletes Earn KHSAA Triple Threat Recognition

By Laurna Todd
KPI Writer

Four student-athletes from Carlisle County High School have earned recognition through the prestigious Triple Threat Award program presented by the Kentucky High School Athletic Association.

This year's Carlisle County recipients include Edy Bruer, Macee Hogancamp and Bella Hoskins, who each competed in volleyball, basketball and softball, along with Myles Fourshee, who participated in golf, basketball and baseball.

The KHSAA launched the Triple Threat Award program in 2018 as part of an effort to encourage multi-sport participation among student-athletes and help de-emphasize sports specialization. The award recognizes students who compete on the varsity level during all three athletic seasons — fall, winter and spring — within the same academic year.

To qualify, athletes must appear on official varsity rosters submitted through the KHSAA eligibility system for a sport or sport-activity in each season.

Carlisle County Athletic Director Brian O'Neil said having several athletes earn the award reflects positively on both the students and the school's athletic culture.

"Encouraging athletes to explore multiple sports can enhance their overall skills, teamwork, and enjoyment," O'Neil said. "Promoting a well-rounded athletic program with support from the AD and coaches can help athletes stay motivated and develop diverse talents, ultimately contributing to their peak performance and personal growth throughout the year."

O'Neil also emphasized the importance of athletes competing in more than one sport instead of specializing year-round.

"Taking breaks from one sport to play another is crucial for athletes as it helps work different muscle groups, preventing overuse injuries and promoting overall physical balance," he said. "Additionally, in small schools, where limited athlete numbers often require students to participate in multiple sports, this approach not only maximizes team success but also fosters diverse skills and reduces burnout, ultimately supporting the athletes' long-term health and development."

He added that balancing three varsity sports while maintaining academic responsibilities requires a tremendous level of commitment.

"Being a student athlete requires immense dedication, discipline, and time management, as they balance rigorous training, competitions, and academic responsibilities year-round," O'Neil said. "Their commitment to excelling in both academics and sports demonstrates remarkable perseverance and work ethic, making their achievements all the more impressive."

KHSAA officials say the program highlights the value of year-round participation, teamwork and overall student-athlete development while promoting a balanced athletic experience.

The Ballard Memorial Track and Field team finished in the top 10 at the Class A First Region Championships. The Lady Bombers finished 6th best and the boys recorded an 8th place finish. For the Lady Bombers who entered the season in hopes to contend for a regional title, injuries and scheduling conflicts prevented the team from making a serious run at the top 3 finish. Two Lady Bombers claimed 1st place in their respective events, and another was a middle school athlete that was runner up in the varsity Shot Put event. Senior Karley Veit ran away with the win in the 100M Hurdles to claim her first ever regional title. For sophomore Blakeley Shepherd, it was a repeat in the Discus regional championship. Her personal best throw enabled her to win the 1st Region Class A Discus Championship in back-to-back seasons. Then 7th grader Zoe McGlenon had the 2nd longest throw in the varsity Shot Put event. The runner up finished allows McGlenon to compete in the state tournament in both varsity and middle school competitions.

The trio will focus on fine tuning their skills to compete at the state level. A few athletes came up just shy of the automatic berth into state. Shepherd was 3rd in the Shot Put and will wait to see if she recorded high enough marks to get an at large bid and try and compete in multiple events. Jaxson Shackelford was 3rd in the High Jump and Brantley McDanel was 3rd in the Triple Jump. They will hold their breath in hopes of getting the at large bids that will be determined this weekend prior to the KHSAA State Class A Meet on Thursday, May 21st.

Baseball Bombers Still Battling

By Tim Taylor
KPI Sports Writer

Bomber Baseball Coach Scott Matlock is still encouraged by his team's competitive spirit but knows the lack of wins is weighing on the team. The 3rd District Tournament begins on Monday, May 18th at Graves County as the Bombers play Mayfield at 5:30. Heading into the final week of the regular season, Ballard Memorial has 8 wins on the season, and 3 of those victories are against the Cardinals. Beating the same team 3 times in a season is a tough task and making it 4 wins over the same opponent is what the Bombers are aiming for. To take down the Cardinals, timely hitting, good fielding, and pitching in the strike zone will be vital to the Ballard Memorial success. Issuing nearly 5 walks per game will be something the Bombers will need to limit. Ballard Memorial has advanced to the 1st Region Tournament 2 times in the last 3 years. Getting by Mayfield is the goal. Reed Duren, Carson Farmer, and Ike Miller have been the most consistent batters in the top of the lineup and Brayden Ballard has solidified the bottom portion of the batting order. The Bombers will need strong performances at the plate from those players and have some other players step up in key moments to deliver. Reaching double figure wins is not out of the question, but it will come down to execution. There is no better time to start making those plays than tournament time. It is time for the Bombers to deliver and advance to the 3rd District Championship game against Graves County on Tuesday the 19th at 5:30.

Ballard County Fairgrounds to Host Two Kentucky Proud Harness Racing Events

By Laurna Todd
KPI Writer

The Ballard County Fairgrounds will once again welcome harness racing fans this spring and summer as the Ballard County Fair Board Inc. prepares to host two events in the Kentucky Proud Series of Fair Horse Racing.

The first event, Ballard County Fair Racing, is scheduled for Friday, May 22, and Saturday, May 23, with races beginning at 12 p.m. each day. The second event, McCracken County Fair Racing, will take place Friday, June 5, and Saturday, June 6, also beginning at noon daily.

According to Ballard County Racing Coordinator Joni Jordan, another record-breaking year is expected for participation in the Kentucky Proud Series.

“This program has continued to grow each year with two and three-year-old colts and fillies eligible for the series,” Jordan said.

To qualify for the Kentucky Proud Series of Fair Racing, horses must be Kentucky-bred two or three-year-olds as defined by the Kentucky Horse Racing & Gaming Commission and KAR laws and regulations.

Purses for the races will be $1,500 per horse entered in each division, with a minimum purse of $6,000 per race. The series features eight different racing divisions. Horses advancing to the Fair Final races will compete for purses totaling $50,000 during the championship event scheduled July 26 at The Red Mile.

Jordan said organizers are excited to welcome McCracken County and Southside Kiwanis members back to the fair racing program this year.

“Plans are to have the McCracken County races back at Carson Park for 2027,” Jordan said.

Jordan also emphasized the importance of the Ballard County Fairgrounds to Kentucky’s fair harness racing tradition.

“We are very fortunate in Ballard County to still have a great track and fairgrounds to be able to participate in the growing industry,” Jordan said. “There are only four of the original fairgrounds with tracks in Kentucky that still participate in fair harness racing.”

Because the Ballard County Fairgrounds is privately owned by the fair board, Jordan said the facility relies heavily on volunteers, community support and fundraising efforts to maintain the property.

“Funds collected from events held at the fairgrounds, stall rental fees, grant funds received from the Kentucky Department of Agriculture fair funds, and donations and sponsors are how we fund fairground and track maintenance,” Jordan said. “All repairs, upkeep, insurance costs and regular bills are paid by these funds. We want to provide our community with a nice facility, but we also need the help of the community to see that it stays that way.”

Admission to both racing events is free to the public, and the concession stand will offer a variety of traditional fair food throughout the events.

English signs with Murray State women’s soccer program

MURRAY — In a ceremony held inside Murray High School’s Taylor Gymnasium on Wednesday, May 6, senior Kendyll English signed with the Murray State University women’s soccer program.

English was a four-year varsity starter for the Lady Tigers. During that time, her teams compiled a record of 53-25-3. English scored 44 goals and recorded 28 assists during high school career. During her four years, English led the Lady Tiger backline to 39 shutouts. She was an integral part of Murray High winning two All-A region titles, a 2-A section title, two district Championship and making two region finals appearances.

English was voted twice as the team’s Defensive Player of the Year and Most Valuable Player by her teammates

Region and state coaches named English to the All-District team twice, the All-Region teams four times, and tabbed her the Region 1 Player of the Year twice. In addition, English was named to the All-State First Team three times.

“There is no doubt that Kendyll’s achievements on the soccer field are arguably the most impressive this region has ever seen,” said Murray High girls’ soccer coach Michael Mangold. “But I am prouder of the young women she has grown into over the six years I have had the privilege of coaching her. She is one of the most dedicated and hardworking kids I have had the pleasure of coaching and certainly the most competitive. This program is going to miss Kendyll enormously both on and off the field. I am selfishly very excited that she will continue her soccer career here in Murray and congratulate her on her future as a Murray State Racer.”

Free mental wellness course for students now available on NFHS Learning Center

Staff Report

INDIANAPOLIS — In response to growing concerns around mental health issues among adolescents nationwide, the NFHS has launched a new online course for high school students that provides education and resources on mental wellness.

The course, “Student Mental Wellness,” went live last week on the NFHS Learning Center (www.nfhslearn.com) and is available free to the public. It offers a framework for positive mental health; defines stress, anxiety, depression and related issues; and provides strategies and resources for managing mental health concerns.

“The NFHS Learning Center is pleased to provide this course for students to create awareness and provide education on the importance of mental health,” said Dan Schuster, NFHS director of educational services. “It is our hope that this education can positively impact the overall interscholastic experience for students across the country.”

Research has shown that participation in high school athletics and activities has overall positive effects on students’ physical, mental and social-emotional well-being. At the same time, students face pressures from competition, academics and other aspects of life, which can negatively affect mental health.

Mental health issues are often linked with other health and behavioral risks, making it critical that prevention strategies and resources are available to high school students so they can have a positive, healthy experience.

In addition to outlining warning signs and providing prevention strategies, the course repeatedly encourages students who are struggling to speak with a parent, coach or other trusted adult to seek support from a counselor, psychologist or other professional.

People, including high school students, experiencing a mental health crisis should seek immediate help from a trusted adult or local emergency services.

Since its founding nearly 20 years ago, the NFHS Learning Center has developed online courses addressing key issues in high school sports and activities nationwide. More than 29 million courses have been delivered through the platform.

Murray State Athletics receives anonymous $2 Million gift as part of Leading The Pack campaign

Staff Report

MURRAY — Murray State Athletics has received a transformational investment of $2,000,000 from a generous family of Racer supporters, it was announced on Monday, May 11.

The gift counts towards the Leading The Pack campaign and will support numerous strategic initiatives, capital progress and revenue share throughout the department.

“I want to express my gratitude to this incredibly special family for their transformational investment into our bright future,” Murray State University President

Dr. Ron Patterson said. “We are continuing to lead the pack in everything that we do, something that would not be possible without the support of our generous donors and the support of all of Racer Nation.”

“We are thankful for this incredible family for stepping up and helping us transform our athletics department and community,” Director of Athletics Nico Yantko said. “Our investors continue to set the tone for our success as we march towards the $100 million goal of the Leading The Pack campaign and prioritize our race towards excellence.”

Over the last two years, Murray State has raised a school-record $40 million dollars in support of new facilities, initiatives and championship resources. That total was made possible by 14, seven-figure gifts, which also amounts to the most in department history.

The $40 million is committed towards the department’s bold, comprehensive $100 million fundraising campaign, Leading The Pack, which was created to further position itself for the future by investing in student-athlete success and wellness, revenue share and competitive resources and world-class facilities.

Students can earn national student credential through NFHS Learning Center

Staff Report

INDIANAPOLIS — Students across the country can now earn a nationally recognized credential that highlights their leadership skills, personal growth and positive contributions to interscholastic programs and school communities.

With the recent launch of the NFHS

Learning Center course “Student Mental Wellness,” students are now eligible to earn the new NFHS National Student Credential.

To earn the credential, students must complete the core online NFHS Learning Center courses “Student Leadership: Becoming a Leader,” “The Student Experience” and “Student Mental Wellness.” Students who complete the program will receive a certificate and an NFHS Learning Center badge.

In addition to helping students develop valuable life skills, the credential provides a nationally recognized achievement that can be included on resumes, college applications and scholarship submissions.

“The number of students taking coursework at the NFHS Learning Center continues to increase and we look forward to providing additional opportunities for young people to learn and grow,” said Dan Schuster, NFHS director of educational services. “We are excited to introduce this first-of-its-kind national student credential to students throughout the United States.”

The NFHS believes interscholastic programs play an important role in preparing students for life, and the NFHS National Student Credential supports that mission by helping students develop knowledge that will benefit them during their school years and beyond.

Since its founding nearly 20 years ago, the NFHS Learning Center has developed online courses addressing key issues in high school sports and activities nationwide. More than 29 million courses have been delivered through the platform.

Service, Scholarships & Storm Shelters Highlight Rotary Meeting

By: Laurna Todd
KPI Writer

The Mayfield Rotary Club welcomed special guest speaker Sherry Crose during its Monday, May 11 meeting, where members learned more about the charitable impact of the Kentucky Colonels across the Commonwealth.

Crose explained that the Kentucky Colonels is a voluntary philanthropic organization with 501(c)(3) status headquartered in Louisville. She shared that the first Kentucky Colonel was named in 1809, while the organization's charitable giving efforts began during the historic Great Flood of 1937 when assistance was provided to those in need. Since that time, the organization has donated more than $72 million to charitable causes throughout Kentucky. This year alone, more than $2.5 million has been distributed to over 300 nonprofit organizations across the state. Crose noted that 61% of donations supporting the organization come from out-of-state contributors.

She also highlighted the organization's disaster relief efforts, including assistance provided following the December 2021 tornado outbreak in Western Kentucky. Among those efforts was helping secure new pumper trucks for the City of Mayfield.

Additional meeting activities included Rotarian Stacy Overby leading members in a patriotic song, while Sergeant-at-Arms

Dale Usher conducted fines and accepted happy dollars. President Chris Kemp also introduced the club's final Rotary Students of the Month for May — Abbie Fowler, Aleric Waid and Kinsey Burgess — who each delivered speeches to the club. Members praised the students for their accomplishments, leadership and future plans as they prepare for the next chapter of their lives.

Kemp announced a board meeting scheduled for May 18 and invited all members to attend.

Rotarian Andy Elliott also provided an update on the community storm shelter project. The initiative recently received an additional $100,000 donation from the Mayfield Graves County

Tornado Relief Fund for storm shelters. Combined with a previous $100,000 contribution from the fund and a $10,000 grant from Rotary District 6710, the project has now secured a total of $210,000. Organizers estimate the funding will help provide 50 to 60 storm shelters for local citizens by the end of the year.

Pictured during the meeting were Rotarians who are also Kentucky Colonels, including Club President Chris Kemp, John Carrico, Don Barger, Sherry Crose, Kathy Stewart O'Nan, Greg Wilkerson and Fred Biggs tinuing support of our local legislators who work to fund programs that help our communities grow. These buildings, coupled with our location and infrastructure, will be a great incentive for companies looking to establish themselves in the region."

Mayfield Mayor Kathy O'Nan said she is enthusiastic about the future of Mayfield. "This KPDI grant is just one more building block for Mayfield and Graves County," said O'Nan. "We are grateful to Gov. Beshear for his continuing support and encouragement and for the economic development teams who put in the hard work necessary to help make growth and prosperity possible for our residents."

GCED President Jason Lemle said he is also excited about this project and what it will mean for Graves County's economy going forward. "Having two new flexible facilities sets us well ahead when it comes to meeting the needs of companies looking to relocate or expand in Graves County," said

Lemle. "We are grateful to the Kentucky Cabinet for Economic Development and the Kentucky Association for Economic Development for everything they do to help us build the economy and create jobs for Graves County families.

We appreciate the funding made possible by the General Assembly and Gov. Beshear's advocacy on behalf of our community." This is GCED's fourth KPDI grant since the program was funded in 2022. Previous grants were used to develop and expand the Hickory Industrial Park.

First Kentucky Bank Warns Customers About Scam Calls

By: Laurna Todd
KPI Writer

Customers are being urged to stay alert after a recent scam attempt targeting a business customer of First Kentucky Bank.

According to the bank, the customer received a phone call from someone pretending to be from the bank's Loan Operations team. Fortunately, the customer did not provide any personal information and questioned the caller, who quickly hung up.

The incident serves as an important reminder for customers and community members to be cautious of unexpected phone calls claiming to be from financial institutions. First Kentucky Bank encourages customers to never provide sensitive personal or banking information over the phone unless they initiated the call using a trusted, publicly listed phone number. Officials say scammers often use "spoofing" technology to make calls appear legitimate by displaying a bank's name or phone number on caller ID.

Customers are encouraged to watch for common warning signs, including requests for account numbers, passwords or security codes, callers using urgent or high-pressure tactics, refusal to provide verifiable information and callers discouraging customers from calling back through an official number.

If a call feels suspicious or unexpected, customers are encouraged to hang up and contact the bank directly using a verified public number.

First Kentucky Bank hopes sharing the incident will help raise awareness and prevent others from becoming victims as phone scams continue to increase nationwide.

At 95, Paducah vet grows 10+ types of fruits and veggies

By Ciro Astarita
KPI Writer

PADUCAH — Paul Carrico is a 95-year-old man who spends his days gardening a wide variety of produce on his roughly 7-acre property in Paducah. Depending on the season, he grows more than a dozen different types of fruits and vegetables. For fruits, Paul mainly grows strawberries and cantaloupes. For vegetables, he grows peas, beans, tomatoes, bell peppers, garlic, onions, cabbage, and more.

Paul is a Kentucky native who was born in 1935 and raised in Fancy Farm, KY.

Residents across Graves County and Western Kentucky are being urged to stay alert as scammers continue targeting elderly citizens through fake sweepstakes and gift card scams.

Graves County Sheriff Jon Hayden recently shared details about an elderly Mayfield couple who were contacted by scammers claiming they had won the Publishers Clearing House Sweepstakes. The scammers instructed the elderly man to go to Walgreens and purchase $500 worth of gift cards to claim the prize.

After receiving a call from the man's wife, Hayden went to Walgreens and found the victim still on the phone with the scammer. Hayden informed the man he was being scammed before any money was lost.

Authorities say the scammers later called the victim's wife and falsely claimed her husband had been killed in a crash after she contacted law enforcement.

Hayden said the scammers used fake screenshots and convincing information to gain the couple's trust and warned that scams like

Fort Jefferson Patriot Grave marking to honor early frontier settlers

By Laurna Todd
KPI Writer

The public is invited to attend the 3rd Annual Sons of the American Revolution Patriot Grave Marking ceremony on Saturday, June 6, at 2 p.m. at Fort Jefferson Memorial Park, located one mile south of Wickliffe.

The annual event honors the memory of the 63 men, women and children who died at Fort Jefferson between 1780 and 1781 during one of Kentucky's earliest frontier settlements. Organizers will recognize five additional patriots this year as part of the ongoing effort to preserve and share the history of the fort and those who lived there.

Fort Jefferson holds a unique place in Kentucky history as the only frontier fortification and settlement established in the state through legislative action by Virginia. The site served as an important military outpost and settlement during the Revolutionary War era.

Dr. Ken Carstens, Fort Jefferson researcher, said the annual memorial serves as an important reminder of the role Fort Jefferson played in the nation's earliest history. He noted the fort and civilian settlement of Clarksville, established April 19, 1780, represented the first and only Virginia-authorized settlement in what would later become Kentucky.

Carstens explained that Fort Jefferson and Clarksville were once home to more than 550 settlers, soldiers, enslaved individuals and Native American allies, making it the largest settlement in Kentucky at the time. He said the community played a major role in frontier military efforts during the American Revolution, serving as General George Rogers Clark's headquarters in the western campaign.

"Fort Jefferson and Clarksville represent this Nation's very beginning; our ancestors' blood was spilled here," Carstens said, emphasizing the importance of continuing to honor the patriots connected to the site.

The ceremony will feature a musket firing demonstration, parade of flags, patriotic singing and brief historical presentations honoring the sacrifices of the region's frontier forefathers and foremothers. Organizers say the event is designed to educate the public while celebrating the courage and perseverance of America's early settlers.

Carstens said younger generations attending the event will have the opportunity to experience living history through historical flags, military commands, musket demonstrations and conversations with descendants of those connected to Fort Jefferson and Clarksville. He said organizers hope visitors leave with a greater appreciation for the sacrifices made during America's fight for independence.

Sponsors for the free community event include the Colonel Stephen Trigg and Captain Virgil McCracken chapters of the Sons of the American Revolution, the Ballard-Carlisle Historical and Genealogical Society and the City of Wickliffe.

Before the ceremony, the Ballard-Carlisle Historical and Genealogical Society will open at 11 a.m. for visitors wishing to tour the facility and explore the Fort Jefferson Reading and Research Room, which houses one of the largest collections of historic documents related to the American Revolution in the western frontier.

Organizers encourage residents and visitors alike to attend and help celebrate America's 250th anniversary while honoring the legacy of the pioneers connected to Fort Jefferson.

Congressman Comer announces 2026 Congressional Art competition winners

The Great Comforter by Elyda Hicks

WASHINGTON— Today, Congressman James Comer (R-Ky.) proudly announces Elyda Hicks of Metcalfe County High School as the winner of the 2026 Congressional Art Competition for Kentucky's 1st Congressional District. Her drawing, titled "The Great Comforter," will be displayed in the U.S. Capitol alongside other artists from across the United States.

"The incredible

creativity, talent, and hard work of high school artists from across Kentucky's 1st Congressional District were on full display in this year's competition. With more than 50 original pieces submitted by students from high schools across the district, selecting this year's top artwork was more difficult than ever. I want to extend my congratulations to Elyda, Bailey, and Kendall for being selected as this

VICTORIOUS Living ...in a troubled world

What is more important than the return of Christ?

By William F Holland Jr.
billyhollandministries.com

Henry Allan “Harry” Ironside was a Canadian-American Bible teacher, preacher, theologian, pastor, and author who pastored Moody Church in Chicago from 1929 to 1948. It is said that Harry Ironside was one of the most prolific Christian writers of the 20th Century and published more than 100 books, booklets, and pamphlets, many of which are still in print. He also wrote several hymns, including “Overshadowed,” “His Grace Proclaim,” and “The Wonder of His Love to Me.” One editorial reviewer wrote in a 2005 republication that, “Ironside’s commentaries are a Christian standard and have stood the test of time.”

In his comments on Isaiah 57, Dr. Ironside shares this true account: “Years ago, before the First World War, Professor Stroeter, a well-known prophetic teacher in Germany, would travel through the country giving lectures, and using charts to explain the dispensations. His meetings attracted the attention of the German Emperor, Kaiser Wilhelm, who, despite his many idiosyncrasies, was quite a Bible student himself and would deliver sermons in the palace chapel on many occasions. One day, the emperor invited Professor Stroeter to his personal residence so that he could learn more about the information the professor had been teaching. The professor was escorted into the library and began to spread his charts out on a table, and as the emperor listened closely, Stroeter pointed out various prophetic stages that led up to the glorious Second Coming.

After a lengthy conversation, the emperor cautiously asked, “Are you saying that Christ is coming back literally, and when He returns, all the empires of the world are going to be destroyed, and He will set up His eternal kingdom upon their ruins?” Professor Stroeter said, “Exactly, your Majesty.” The emperor backed away with a look of sadness and disappointment and said, “Oh no, I can’t accept that! This would interfere with my plans!” What an honest but troubling admission from a man who professed to be a student and teacher of the Bible, and even more importantly, a personal disciple of Christ. There are indeed many interpretations and opinions about what the future may bring, but we can agree that there is coming a day when this earth will be cleansed and judged, and every knee will bow and know that Jesus is Lord and King of all.

We look around and notice that many are striving to build their dreams, but are these God’s ideas? I know individuals who are making plans 10, 20, and even 30 years from now, and hope these are divine blueprints that God has drawn. Have you known or heard about those who had their lives all mapped out, but were suddenly taken out of this world unexpectedly? It’s worth ensuring whose voice we are following, as the Bible declares that there is nothing more important than keeping our spiritual eyes and ears open to where God is leading us. “Many are the plans in a person’s heart, but it is the Lord’s purpose that prevails” Proverbs 19:21.

We might add Christ to our long list of things we are interested in, but if God’s will is not at the top, we need to rearrange our list. Yes, we all have responsibilities, but ignoring God and not being prepared to meet Him will have serious consequences. Jesus used the term “birth pains” to describe the signs of His return. Like the agony of childbirth, these warnings will become more intense and frequent as the day draws nearer. Can you see them today? Beware of those who mock and say, “It’s been 2000 years, so the Lord must not be coming back.” Remember the wise virgins in Matthew chapter 25. It simply comes down to who we will trust.

How often do Christians stop and consider that when they made a vow to surrender their heart to God, their lives were no longer their own? We promised God and the world going forward, we will only follow His voice. So, I ask today: Is there anything in this world that would cause us to wish Christ would postpone His return? Of course, we want to see our family be saved, which is why it’s so crucial to intercede and fast for their salvation. What about you, dear friend, are things like enjoying your wealth, building a house, seeing the world, graduating college, getting married, having children, getting that promotion, retiring, or completing a project you’ve been working on, more exciting and important than the return of your Savior? Maybe instead of wondering about His return, we should live as if He never left.

CLIMBING TOO HIGH

Bro. Brandon G. Bramlett
Bandana Baptist Church

“No matter what, I must reach the top,” he swore to himself, as salty sweat stung his eyes. Although dozens of climbers had died trying, the man was determined to breathe the air of victory at the peak of the ocean-encircled seamount. Halfway to the summit, the ledges began to crumble beneath his feet and the rocks he grasped disintegrated in his hands—but he daringly scrambled upward. Abruptly, his foot slipped, causing him to fall forcefully until his survival backpack became ensnared on a protruding limb. The “Do Not Climb” sign he brushed off at ground level resurfaced in his mind, but he regained his footing, cut his backpack loose with a knife, and watched it plummet to a watery grave hundreds of feet below.

At long last, he arrived at the top, where he exhaled in relief and became absorbed in the stunning sights of the golden horizon and the vast ocean.

But after ten minutes of celebration, panic set in: he could not get down. His climbing and survival supplies were in his long-gone backpack. He would die if he jumped, and only the birds would hear him if he screamed for help. Days and nights elapsed as he paced the peak, failing to devise an escape plan—until he succumbed to dehydration and starvation.

Sometimes, climbing too high is a bad idea—it may even kill you. Climbing too high in our hearts through pride is a bad idea, too. Pride manifests itself when we climb over the warnings in God’s word about sin—treating His commands like obstacles in our way rather than safeguards for our good. When we disobey His prohibitions, we pridefully believe that sin’s danger doesn’t apply to us and that we know better than God Himself. Pride also shows up when we think too highly of ourselves and climb over others in pursuit of selfish ambitions—pushing our way to the top to relish in applause and recognition

(Rom. 12:3).

But higher is not better. Those who soar as high as an eagle in pride will be brought down in shame (Jer. 49:16), and the greatly exalted will be gravely humbled (Luke 14:11). Did the builders of the Tower of Babel succeed in climbing above God? Did not Nebuchadnezzar crawl like a beast on the ground after exalting himself too highly? Was not Satan cast down from the heights of heaven for his boastful arrogance?

The way up is not up—the way up is down. This is why Peter assured, “Humble yourselves, therefore, under the mighty hand of God so that at the proper time he may exalt you” (1 Pet. 5:6). We must humbly obey God’s warnings about sin, trusting that He knows what is best for us. We must climb down from our pride-pedestals to become lowly servants of others—esteeming them higher than ourselves (Phil. 2:3-5). And when we walk low in humility, we need not fear a great fall (cf. Prov. 16:18).

Ballard County Cemetery Restoration

Pace “Lost” Cemetery Found

bettyjohnsonky@yahoo.com

Saturday, May 9th., was a beautiful and very surprising day, as our cemetery group found an old “Lost” Cemetery in a very wooded area. Landowner, Mr. Mike Souper, when asked if he knew where an old cemetery might be in the Hazelwood Area, he remembered the old “lost” cemetery. Mr. Souper and son David gave us directions, and off we went like gangbusters, or like good cemetery restoration workers do. Oh, the excitement as workers cut, dug, and dragged heavy limbs that had hidden away the many broken stones in the old cemetery. We will continue cleaning, and plan to dowse, and probe around the broken bases, that are partially above ground. Then, hopefully able to raise the missing sunken stones. Thank you Lord for a good day ... a real payday.

After a worker researched on his phone, we learned the “lost” cemetery name was Pace Cemetery. Pictured is the one stone easily identified as James Blackburn, and we are hoping to find a Blackburn descendant for more information. Mr. Souper believes the cemetery is at least 150 years old. Research will continue this coming Saturday, as we dowse and probe for more stones, along with a lot more research on this old cemetery. Any information sent to us will be greatly appreciated.

Can cataracts be prevented?

Vision should be cherished at every stage in life. However, as one ages and vision changes become more profound, it is even more important to stay abreast of what can be done to care for the eyes in the hopes of preventing certain conditions, including cataracts.

Cataracts are the clouding of the eye's natural lenses. The World Health Organization estimates that cataracts affect more than 94 million people globally. Cataracts also account for nearly 45 percent of all blindness cases.

Even though cataracts are considered an unavoidable part of the aging process, some people wonder if they can be prevented. Reedsburg Area Medical Center says that, while one cannot entirely stop the biological aging of the lens, delayed onset and reduced severity of cataracts is possible through targeted lifestyle choices.

According to EyeHealth Northwest, by age 80, more than 90 percent of adults will either have a cataract or have already undergone surgery for them. Technically cataracts cannot be prevented, but these steps can help push cataract development further into later life.

• Wear sunglasses with UV protection.

The consensus among experts is that prolonged exposure to ultraviolet B rays accelerates the breakdown of lens proteins. Consistent use of sunglasses that offer 100 percent UV protection can greatly slow this protein degradation. Wraparound frames will block light from the periphery as well as the front.

• Lower oxidative stress. Preventing oxidative stress, a primary driver of lens opacification, can be achieved through diets rich in antioxidants, says Premier Eye Care of Eastern Idaho. Lutein, and landscaping until 2010. Throughout all those years, he never stopped gardening.

Over the years, Paul has developed his own unique gardening methods.

Like many recreational farmers and gardeners, he rotates seasonal crops, but he also staggers his planting schedule—especially for peas—to optimize crop growth. He also creates his own compost. When preparing to plant, he lays down a bed of ‘green’, ‘brown’, a small amount of soil, and slow-release lime for pH balance, in that specific order. Because Paul does not use fertilizer, all of the crops in his garden are organic.

Paul says one of his favorite things to do is share his harvest with neighbors. At 95 years old, he remains healthier than many younger people today. He credits his good health and longevity to staying active, spending time gardening, and connecting with nature.

Paul also wanted to share a passage from a Living Faith prayer book that reflects his views on longevity and gardening:

“Recent studies have indicated that there are antidepressant microbes in soil. Essentially, dirt can help us to be happy!... What does it say about the generosity of God that, apparently, even the very earth we walk upon is good for us? Truly, God’s love is all around us!” — Terence Hegarty.

zeaxanthin and vitamin C act as shields for the eye. Eye Physicians of Long Beach says the risk of age-related cataracts reduces by around 26 percent for every additional 10 mg of carotenoids added to a person's diet.

• Manage diabetes. The National Institutes of Health says individuals with diabetes face a 63 percent higher likelihood of requiring cataract surgery compared to those without the condition. Managing high blood sugar will prevent sorbitol from depositing in the lenses and causing cloudiness earlier in life.

• Quit smoking: Smoking is a key factor in cataract development, says Optometrists.org.

Smokers have a 1.66 times greater risk of developing cataracts than non-smokers because the toxins in tobacco smoke can deplete the body's natural antioxidant stores.

Although it may not be possible to turn off aging and prevent cataracts entirely, cataracts can be delayed and made less impactful through lifestyle changes.

How to determine your financial needs to retirement

No one knows what the future holds. Despite the mystery shrouding the future, it's still vital that people plan for the years ahead, particularly in regard to saving for retirement.

Advice abounds regarding how much money retirees will need to live comfortably in retirement. One common approach suggests retirees should aspire to replace 70 to 80 percent of their pre-retirement income, while another strategy urges retirees to save twelve times their final pre-retirement income, meaning someone making $100,000 in the year they retire will need at least $1.2 million in retirement savings to maintain their lifestyle. Each of these approaches are just strategies, and how much a person actually needs in retirement will depend on a host of variables unique to each individual, including the age a person retires, his or her health status at the time of retirement and personal goals for their golden years. For example, those who hope to retire at 65 and travel extensively in retirement will likely need more savings than someone who hopes to retire at 70 and travel less frequently.

Though variables unique to each person will help to determine how much to save for retirement, there are some additional ways to identify how much you might need to live comfortably after calling it a career.

- Identify your ideal retirement age. Arguably the most significant variable related to saving for retirement is the age at which a person hopes to retire. Some may have the luxury of choosing their own retirement date, while others' personal health or employers may make that choice for them. But it's good to remember that the longer a person continues to work, the less retirement savings that person will need. When trying to determine how much to save for retirement, first identify your ideal retirement age and then go from there, recognizing that this important variable can change over time.

- Identify the lifestyle you hope to live. If the romanticized ideal of a jetsetting retirement lifestyle appeals to you, then you're likely going to need to save more for retirement than someone whose vision of life after working is less glamorous.

It's possible for many retirees to live their ideal lifestyle in retirement, but those whose ideal is marked by expensive pursuits like regular international travel will need to start earlier and save more than someone who envisions occasional trips but more time at home.

- Don't overlook health care costs. Health care costs for retirees are heavily dependent on individual health. But even the healthiest retiree might experience a sudden and potentially costly medical issue, so it's best for everyone to plan for sizable health care expenses in retirement. The Employee Benefit Research Institute estimates that couples will need to have saved at least $188,000 to have a 90 percent chance of covering their health care expenditures in retirement. That figure is subject to variables unique to each individual, but it can serve as a useful measuring stick as adults try to determine how much they need to save for retirement.

Financial needs in retirement depend on the individual. However, some key planning strategies can help individuals determine how much they might need to save to live comfortably in retirement.

The 7 stages of Alzheimer's disease

Alzheimer's disease is a progressive and debilitating condition that slowly robs a person of their memories and personality. Alzheimer's disease is a form of dementia that produces various symptoms that occur in stages, ultimately arriving at a point when a person can no longer live independently due to cognitive decline. The Fisher Center for Alzheimer's Research Foundation says there are seven clinical stages of Alzheimer's. Stages 1 through 3 are the pre-dementia stages, while stages 4 through 7 are the dementia stages. Here is a close look at what these stages entail, according to the Global Deterioration Scale.

Stage 1
 There is no cognitive decline, nor noticeable symptoms.
Stage 2
 A person may experience very mild cognitive decline. This can include one feeling like he or she is having memory lapses, but no symptoms of dementia can be detected by others, including medical professionals.

Stage 3
 During stage 3, mild cognitive decline begins to become noticeable. Friends, family or coworkers begin to notice difficulties, which

KFB president asks Congress for help with rising cost of fertilizer

By TOM LATEK
Kentucky Today

WASHINGTON (KT) – Kentucky Farm Bureau (KFB) President Eddie Melton testified Tuesday before the U.S. Senate Agriculture Committee, calling on Congress to take immediate action to address the rising cost of fertilizer and the sustained economic pressure affecting farm families across Kentucky and the nation.

The hearing examined fertilizer supply and affordability challenges facing U.S. farmers — pressures that have escalated in the wake of the ongoing conflict in the Middle East and resulting disruptions to global fertilizer markets.

Melton, a fifth-generation row crop and beef cattle farmer from Webster County, spoke on behalf of farm families in Kentucky and across the country. In his testimony, he drew a direct line from the hearing room to the fields of his own operation.

Melton noted that today's crisis did not emerge overnight. While disruptions at the Strait of Hormuz have compounded the problem, elevated costs for inputs like fuel and fertilizer have burdened producers for years.

“Since February, we have seen a 33 percent rise in anhydrous prices, a 55 percent rise in urea prices, and a 25 percent increase in liquid nitrogen,” he said. “All the while, corn prices have declined from $7 per bushel in 2022 to approximately $4.50 per bushel today.”

This year marks the fourth consecutive year of economic decline for the farm sector, driven by a combination of low commodity prices and high fertilizer costs. Melton described the cumulative toll on farm operations across the country: “Many farmers are operating with little to no working capital, limiting their ability to manage risk or invest in future production,” he said.

Melton cited findings from a recent American Farm Bureau Federation survey of more than 5,700 farmers and ranchers nationwide, highlighting what the numbers mean for Kentucky specifically.

In Kentucky, “just 29% of farmers reported being able to pre-book fertilizer with almost 72% stating they could not afford all the fertilizer they needed for this growing season,” he said.

“We know this is a direct result of rising fertilizer costs.”

Melton called for both immediate relief and long-term policy change. “For producers operating on thin margins, there is no flexibility to wait for longer-term solutions,” he said. “Congress should act now with additional economic assistance to help farmers manage today's cost pressures, prevent further financial strain and stabilize operations while longer-term fixes are put in place.”

ALZHEIMERS,

may include problems coming up with the right words or names; trouble remembering names; greater difficulty performing tasks; and losing or misplacing a valuable object.

Stage 4

A careful medical interview should reveal symptoms of moderate cognitive decline. Forgetfulness of recent events; difficulty performing complex tasks like planning a meal for guests or paying bills; forgetfulness about one's own personal history; and becoming moody or withdrawn are possible.

Stage 5

Cognitive decline continues to progress to where it becomes moderately severe. Gaps in memory are noticeable and individuals likely will need help with everyday activities. Some may be unable to recall their addresses or telephone numbers, while others may be confused about the day or where they are. Stage 5 is usually the stage when a person can no longer live without assistance.

Stage 6

Very severe memory loss, loss of communication skills and inability to recognize loved ones occurs during the severe cognitive decline stage. One will need total care.

Stage 7

This is the end-stage of the disease and is marked by profound cognitive impairment. Loss of mobility and effective communication typically occurs at this stage.

It's important to note that these stages are general guidelines of what can be expected as Alzheimer's disease progresses. Symptoms may vary among different people, and not everyone with Alzheimer's will progress through these stages at the same rate.

$1.3 million side aside for waste tire recycling grants

By TOM LATEK
Kentucky Today

FRANKFORT, Ky. (KT) – Gov. Beshear announced more than $1.3 million in funding has been awarded for projects that will transform recycled waste tires into safe, durable products for playgrounds and public parks.

Funding will go toward 36 projects in 30 counties and help produce benches, picnic tables, poured-in-place surface playgrounds and landscaping.

By repurposing these materials, Beshear says the state will be significantly reducing waste to support cleaner, healthier communities for all

Kentucky families. “These projects are a proactive way to turn a problem into a solution,” he noted. “By recycling tires into safe, durable resources for our parks, we are reducing waste while supporting active, healthy lifestyles for Kentucky families.”

Funding for the projects comes from the Waste Tire Trust Fund, which was established in 1998 by the Kentucky General Assembly to receive fees collected from new tire sales. The fund helps manage the approximately five million scrap tires generated in the state each year and promotes the development of markets for recycled scrap tire products.

“Projects funded by this grant program ultimately reduce pollution and keep tires out of landfills and other places they might otherwise end up, such as in our waterways or along roadways,” Energy and Environment Cabinet

Secretary John Lyons stated. “I’m pleased to see so many communities participating in the program.”

The grants, which range from $3,356 to $97,026, were awarded to projects in the following counties: Bell, Boone, Breathitt, Butler, Caldwell, Campbell (two projects), Gallatin, Harlan, Hart, Henderson (two projects), Henry, Jefferson, Jeassamine, Johnson (two projects), Knox, Letcher, Lincoln, Lyon, Marshall (two projects), Monroe, Montgomery, Muhlenberg, Nelson, Rockcastle Rowan, Scott, Trigg, Union, Webster (three projects) and Whitley.

CPE report shows Ky. students graduating on time, borrowing less

By TOM LATEK
Kentucky Today

FRANKFORT, Ky. (KT) – Kentucky’s students are more likely to graduate on time and pursue upper-level credentials, and fewer are borrowing to pay for college, according to a new report and data dashboard from the Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education (CPE).

The 2026 Progress Report: Progress Toward Kentucky’s Statewide Strategic Agenda Goals, details higher education performance based on the most recent data available and shows strong indicators of improvement:

--Total undergraduate enrollment increased by more than 10,000 students between the Fall 2024 and Fall 2025 semesters. This represents a 4.6 percent increase among Kentucky’s public institutions and the Association for Independent Kentucky Colleges and Universities (AIKCU) campuses.

--First-to-Second-

Year retention rates remained steady at both the public universities and the Kentucky Community and Technical College System (KCTCS) schools.

--Graduation rates increased nearly 4 percent at KCTCS between the 2023-24 and 2024-25 academic years. Also, on-time graduation (four-year) rates at Kentucky’s public universities showed strong gains, increasing 2.7 percent during the same time frame.

--The number of undergraduate degrees and credentials earned in 2024-25 reflected a strong one-year improvement, with a 1.4 percent increase in bachelor’s degrees awarded by Kentucky’s public and AIKCU institutions and a 4.2 rise in certificates, diplomas and associate degrees awarded by KCTCS.

--The number of graduate-level degrees and credentials earned from Kentucky’s public and AIKCU institutions surged by more than 1,800, a 9.5 percent increase.

“These results show that when institutions focus strategically on student success, it works,” said CPE President Aaron Thompson. “Our public universities, KCTCS and AIKCU campuses are making great strides in implementing innovative and holistic services that support both our students and state goals. That’s exactly what the strategic agenda is designed to drive.”

However, amounts of unmet financial need, the total cost of attendance minus all grants and scholarships, could threaten progress in student debt reduction. Amounts of unmet financial need increased by more than $1,600, a 29 percent jump. That is driven primarily by increasing inflation rates affecting costs, as well as a 3 percent drop in net General Fund appropriations per full-time enrollment when comparing FY25 to FY26.

The full report and dashboard can be seen on the Council’s website.
