SERVING DUBOIS COUNTY SINCE 1905 • IN GOD WE TRUST

Introducing the new Dubois County Chamber website and enhanced member directory

By Angie Sanchez-Hostetter

My name is Angie Sanchez-Hostetter, and I am honored to serve as the new Director of the Dubois County Chamber of Commerce. Having lived, worked, and raised my family here, I have always believed in—and truly loved—Dubois County. This community is built on hard work, innovation, and heart, and I am excited to help take the Chamber to the next level as we support and elevate the businesses that make our county thrive.

Each week in this article, I'll be sharing updates on upcoming events, exciting news from our chamber members, and helpful tips and tricks for local businesses. My goal is to keep our community informed, engaged, and connected as we continue growing together.

We're starting off with something big: the launch of our brand-new Dubois County Chamber of Commerce website. Designed in partnership with Indigo Webservices, the redesigned site offers a clean, modern look and improved navigation to better serve our members and the community.

A major highlight of the new website is our enhanced, fully customizable Member Directory powered by Membee. Members can now personalize their profiles with updated business information, photos, social media links, descriptions, and more. This upgrade was created with one goal in mind—helping our members market themselves more effectively.

By giving businesses greater control over their listings, directory becomes a more powerful tool for visibility, customer engagement, and community connection.

Look for Angie's column inside beginning next week.

Rotary Holiday Diaper Drive set for December; community encouraged to support local families

By: Laurna Todd
ING Writer

The Rotary Club of Dubois County will launch its 2nd annual Holiday Diaper Drive this December, offering much-needed support to local families through TRI-CAP.

From December 1-31, residents across the community are encouraged to donate diapers, pull-ups and unscented baby wipes. All donations will directly benefit low-income families in Dubois, Pike and Warrick counties, helping ensure that parents have access to essential childcare items during a season when financial strain is often at its highest.

Donations may be dropped off at any of the TRI-CAP offices during regular business hours, Monday–Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

- 607 3rd Avenue, Jasper
- 809 East Illinois Street,

Petersburg
• 499 West State Road 62, Boonville

(Offices will be closed December 24–25 for the Christmas holiday.)

Rotary leaders emphasize that the holiday season is a critical time for giving, as many families face increased expenses, heating costs, and year-end financial pressures. Something as simple as providing diapers—one of the most frequently needed but least donated items—can significantly ease a family's burden.

Founded in 1966, TRI-CAP focuses on addressing unmet community needs and is supported through state, federal, and local funding. The organization provides a wide range of services related to education, health, and housing.

For more information on the Holiday Diaper Drive, contact the Dubois County Rotary Club at 812-630-5581.

Indiana House approves new Republican-drawn congressional map

By OAN Staff Katherine Mosack

INDIANAPOLIS, IN — Indiana state House Republicans have passed a new congressional map that would add two opportunities for the GOP to pick up seats ahead of the 2026 elections.

Republicans introduced the new map draft on Monday, and it was approved by a 57-41 vote.

The map may favor Republicans in all nine of the state's congressional districts, weakening the Democrats' hold on the 1st Congressional District, represented by Representative Frank Mrvan (D-Ind.), and the 7th Congressional District, represented by Representative André Carson (D-Ind.).

The map would split the left-leaning city of Indianapolis into several districts and also divide the state's Democratic-leaning northwestern region into two districts.

The GOP currently holds the remaining seven districts in Indiana.

Democrat representatives in the state have balked at the new map, saying it would dilute the voting power of Black Hoosiers — the African American citizens of Indiana.

Carson, whose district includes Indianapolis and has represented the area for the past 17 years, is the state's only Black member of Congress, and could now lose his seat.

"What we're doing today with this proposed legislation is taking away the rights of Black and brown people in Indiana," said state Representative Greg Porter, who represents Indianapolis.

"This is a direct attack on the system, but more importantly, it's a blatant tell that you don't care what Hoosiers want," said state House Minority Leader Phil GiaQuinta

(D-Ind.).

Republican lawmakers have also warned that the new map may not garner enough support in the Indiana state Senate to fully pass.

Representative Ben Smaltz (R-Ind.), who introduced the legislation, said that it was drawn by the National Republican Redistricting Trust, the group that also drew the map in Texas that was recently approved by the Supreme Court.

"While the census anchors the process, nothing in the law prevents a legislature from revisiting maps when circumstances demand it," he said on Friday in defense of the House-approved districts.

President Donald Trump congratulated Indiana's Republican lawmakers for the vote in a Truth Social post on Friday.

"It was my Honor to win Indiana six times, including Primaries, in 2016, 2020, and 2024, and this new Map would give the incredible people of Indiana the opportunity to elect TWO additional Republicans in the 2026 Midterm Elections. The Indiana Senate must now pass this Map, AS IS, and get it to Governor Mike Braun's desk, ASAP, to deliver a gigantic Victory for Republicans in the 'Hoosier State,' and across the Country," Trump said, while encouraging state Senators to "make the right decision."

Congratulations IU!!

Christmas:

the wild holiday that was tamed

By Teresa LeNeave
leneave2@comcast.net

Did you know that there was a period of history when Christmas was outlawed because the people were too wild in their celebrating? According to history, in 1643, people in England partied and celebrated at Christmas so much that the holiday became too rowdy to allow.

We often complain about the commercialization of Christmas and that it has “lost its meaning”, but before we moan its demise we might be encouraged to know Christmas has only been a “Christian holiday” for a little over 200 years. According to Ace Collins, author of Stories Behind the Great Traditions of Christmas, in most of the world, especially in England and America, Christmas was not a time of worship, prayer, and reflection; rather, it was a day set aside to sing bawdy songs, drink rum, break into homes and riot in the streets. Collins described Christmas as a “combination holiday of Mardi Gras and Halloween”.

Collins said, “Those who attended church did so in wild costumes, and gambling was common during the services.” Christians decided to recapture the holiday.

Our present day celebration in America is a combination of several customs and traditions that come from different European countries. (The World Book Encyclopedia gives an in-depth description of these.) Christians knew God was not against celebration, but He wanted celebration toward Him and Him alone. As far back as history is recorded, festivals and celebrations were held. In the Old Testament, even God initiated days of feasting. For example, Biblical celebrations such as the one in Esther 9:22 are approved by God. “As the days wherein the Jews rested from their enemies, and the month which was turned unto them from sorrow to joy, and from mourning into a good day that they should make them days of feasting and joy, and of sending portions one to another, and gifts to the poor.”

While the Americans and the English celebrated Christmas by being anything but holy, the Germans eventually evolved Christmas into their second most holy day of the year followed only by Easter. While the first “good” Christmas was not about Christ birth, it had some very wonderful and lasting points that’s influenced the celebration to this day. The first Christmas, as we know it, was about family. The season has evolved into what we know as a day of giving and receiving gifts; a day to remind the world of Jesus’ birth; a day to spend with family and friends that often are only seen once a year. It has truly become a ‘Christian Holiday’. So is Christmas bad? No. It’s still the most wonderful time of the year because it’s the one time of year that most people are thinking not only of themselves, but others. But, never forget: the ONLY reason for Christmas is celebrating Christ and his arrival, in the flesh, here on earth. He probably wasn’t born in December, but it’s still a good time to remind ourselves, and the world, that Christmas is about Jesus and family. Whatever anyone thinks of Christmas, it should be a time to celebrate the birth of Jesus who was born to change the world ... and nobody can deny He changed it! That’s reason to celebrate.

A divided heart lives in denial and deception

By Billy Holland

I’m reminded again of the quote from Scott Fitzgerald, “You do not write because you want to say something; you write because you have something to say.” I can relate to those who are called to express the burdens within their hearts and thankful for the opportunity to share mine. These freedoms may not always be with us as the world is becoming aggressively opposed to God and His disciples. I write for many secular publications around the country and I’m often warned about toning it down with Jesus as it might offend those who disagree. I’m a editor and contributor for a couple of magazines, and was told the other day that my Christmas article was not family friendly. Too much Jesus. I often wonder if compromising would be better than having no platform at all, but at what point do we draw the line? The Living on Purpose column is recognized as a source of encouragement and faith, nevertheless, as a watchman I must never ignore His warnings. Pastors and teachers will agree it’s easier to talk about doctrines and Biblical history, but it’s a solemn responsibility and personal sacrifice to deliver a specific and urgent message from God Himself. In the Bible when He would choose a servant that He could trust, often their obedience brought persecution and for some, it cost them their lives. This is happening right now. I’m referring to those few individuals that are not afraid to speak divine truth about sin even if they are silenced with force. The religious “fluff” will continue adapting and ignoring as a part of their self-preservation, but sadly this fear of offending is causing many churches to reconsider their stand against sin as a solution to maintaining financial success. Along with most modern assemblies reinventing themselves, we notice a decline in the promotion of prayer. Why is this? Because the masses would rather be cozy and comfortable, to be entertained, and listen to short “feel good” devotions that are non-threatening. Spiritual warfare and serious prayer does not fit into this format, even though intercession generates the power of the Holy Spirit’s presence in the services and increases discernment, anointing, and maturity. When prayer was removed from the public education system, the enemy won a major battle, but why do we not hear more about how the absence of a praying church has caused a spiritually powerless nation? One reason is the average religious person only calls for prayer is when they need something. If prayer was a top priority of Christians, it would change the world. How often are we desperate for God? Do we anticipate Him whispering for us to go somewhere private and seek Him? I realize I talk about surrendering our will all the time, but I do not apologize as it is the key to accomplishing His. Our free will is the command center within the human experience that has everything to do with our spiritual connection with our Creator. Until the word of God convicts our will and mind, and then we obey His demands, how can we become transformed into His image? If we choose to fill our minds with the distractions of the world, we will not be convicted to pray or have a passion to walk in the awareness of His presence. So, why is the reverential fear of the Lord hardly mentioned anymore? Because the masses do not want to hear that lukewarmness is a result of being filled with more of the world than the Holy Spirit. We are what we think and when we refuse to protect our conscience, it becomes contaminated. When pleasure becomes more important than pleasing God, our dirty heart separates us from Him. However, if we allow God to purify us with His refining fire, there is no way we can continue being a hypocritical facade. We have two choices:

continue pledging allegiance to the darkness, or become a living sacrifice for Christ. We can’t love two masters at the same time, and being neutral is automatically serving the darkness. Beyond the motivational talks and inspirational stories, we must own all aspects of truth, we must demonstrate what we confess. If we really want to be holy, the only person stopping us is us. We’ve heard about being born-again, but when a person accepts Christ as their Savior and Lord, they no longer live for themselves. All control has been given over to their new Master, and to continue living exactly the same “after” we make our holy vow to Jesus is a fraud, denial, and a deception. Christmas Interruptions

By Brandon Bramlett
Pastor - Bandana Baptist Church

Joseph’s heart was lacerated when he discovered that his wife-to-be was pregnant. The woman he loved had apparently committed adultery. How else could you explain this pregnancy before their marriage? Therefore, he resolved to end their betrothal, albeit quietly, because he didn’t want to cause a public ruckus: “And her husband Joseph, being a just man and unwilling to put her to shame, resolved to divorce her quietly. But as he considered these things, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream” (Matthew 1:19-20a).” The Christmas story is now in jeopardy. All hopes of a Messiah will be dashed if Joseph goes through with the divorce.

Joseph was crucial for the fulfillment of the Old Testament prophecies about Christ descending from David’s royal lineage (2 Sam. 7:12-16; Isaiah 11:1; Jer. 23:5-6). If Joseph divorces Mary, then Jesus will never inherit all the rights and privileges of being in David’s family. God’s plan had come to an abrupt end—or so it seemed. And that is when God sovereignly stepped in and stopped him. The Lord intervened by sending an angel to Joseph in his sleep to explain the confounding situation and assure him that the child conceived in her was “from the Holy Spirit” (Matthew 1:20b). God’s plan was never in peril. The Lord did not panic. Joseph’s confusion was merely another page in God’s pre-orchestrated novel of events. And He supernaturally intervened to bring it to fulfillment. The Lord God still does this today. God may not send an angel when He wants to get you back on course, but He will interrupt your life and intervene in unexpected (and possibly unwanted) ways to accomplish His perfect purposes. Who knows how many times God has already done so in your life? Joseph would tell you to have faith in the good and sovereign Lord, trusting that He knows what He is doing. He does what He pleases and perfectly carries out His plan for His people (Psalm 115:3; Romans 8:28). Embrace interruptions and obstacles. They are just another page in your pre-written story.

Stay safe; always assume you are on ‘thin ice’

Every winter, thousands of Hoosiers safely enjoy fishing, skating, hiking, or just sliding around on frozen ponds and lakes. And every year, people drown after falling through ice.

Don’t let this happen to you or anyone around you.

Indiana Conservation Officers remind Hoosiers to be careful as they begin to participate in activities such as ice fishing, ice skating, or snowmobiling. Remember to put safety first. Take caution when going on frozen lakes, ponds, rivers, streams, and retention ponds. And watch for others who may venture out on frozen waterways and find themselves in trouble.

Similar to needing to drive differently on snowy versus clear roads, safely having fun on ice may require you to adjust from what you have done in the past. The rule of thumb is to believe all ice is thin ice unless proven otherwise.

Here are a few tips to remember when considering standing on or walking on a frozen body of water:

- Assume no ice is safe ice.
- Test the thickness of the ice with an ice

auger. At least 4 inches is recommended for ice fishing; 5 inches is recommended for snowmobiling.

- If you don’t know the thickness of the ice, don’t go on it.
- Wear a life jacket or flotation coat.
- Carry ice picks and rope gear.
- Before going on the ice, leave a note of your whereabouts with a friend or family member.
- Don’t test the thickness of the ice while alone.
- Wearing a life jacket is especially important when on ice. If you fall through, a life jacket will keep your head above the water until help arrives.

Remember that a new coating of snow, while perhaps beautiful, can make for treacherous ice conditions. Snow can serve as insulation, causing water to freeze at a slower rate. When snow and rain freeze into ice, it is not as strong as solid, clear ice.

Another potentially dangerous situation is when you see a pet or other animal in distress on the ice. If that happens, do not go after it. Instead, contact local emergency response personnel, who are equipped to make a rescue.

A few more tips:

Some bodies of water can appear to be frozen solid but still have thin ice in several unexpected areas.

Avoid flowing water, such as rivers and streams, when covered by a layer of ice.

Similarly, water surrounded by sand may freeze with inconsistencies in the thickness of the ice.

Underground springs, wind, waterfowl, and other animals can also keep areas of ice thin.

Enjoy the winter weather but make safety a priority.

FROM A PEN TO A BOAT: How local high school senior raised over $2,000 for Youth First

By Julie Hoon
Youth First, Inc.

Eighteen-year-old high school senior Wesley never expected that starting with a simple pen would lead to a $2,600 donation to Youth First. After launching a 72-hour challenge on his YouTube channel, he selected Youth First as the recipient of whatever funds he could raise through a creative trading mission. His effort quickly gained the attention of his family, friends, and his Youth First Mental Health Professional at Castle High School, Chasidy Lambert.

“He’s a student with a vision!” Lambert said. “I don’t know many people who could turn a pen into a boat... just by asking! I’m so proud of the growth I’ve seen in him. He’s made big steps in connecting with people and in his demeanor and responsibilities. He pushes himself to maintain a healthier mindset and form healthy relationships. Seeing him use his skills to achieve a fundraiser like this for Youth First is amazing.”

Wesley started his YouTube channel as a way to push himself beyond his social anxiety. Wanting to use the platform for something positive, he came up with the idea of trading a pen up to a high-value item, then donating the proceeds to a local nonprofit. To hold himself accountable, he set a 72-hour limit and created the challenge: “72-Hours to Trade a Pen for Charity.” With a friend filming, he committed to three days of trading, ending with whatever item he secured at the final deadline.

On day one, Wesley made his first trade when a couple swapped his pen for a Mother’s Day decoration. That small success fueled a huge second trade: a propane grill. Although the ignitor didn’t work, the grill could still be lit manually.

Day two brought another surprising turn. An individual offered to trade a subwoofer and amplifier for the grill. By the end of the day, Wesley and his friend decided to broaden their reach, posting the available items on Facebook Marketplace and Snapchat. Their social media outreach paid off; by day three, Wesley received an offer to trade the subwoofer and amplifier for a 12-foot jon boat—a flat-bottomed, lightweight fishing boat. After securing a truck to transport it, the trade was finalized.

Later that same day, Wesley found a buyer for the boat and announced that his chosen charity was Youth First. When the buyer learned the proceeds were being donated, he increased his offer to $1,500. Additional contributions from family and friends who followed the challenge brought Wesley’s total donation to an impressive $2,600.

“I’ve never seen anything like this!” said Julie Hoon, Youth First’s Vice President of Marketing & Communications. “Our donors are incredible and come in all ages and stages of life, but not many can say they turned a pen into $2,000. Wesley’s heart is big, and I’m so impressed with his charitable mindset. I hope he motivates other young people to see how one idea can support a mission and make a substantial impact.”

When asked why he chose Youth First, Wesley explained, “Other people need this money more than me. I wanted it to go to an organization that has helped me, and that’s Youth First. I want to make sure they’re always able to help students.”

If you are inspired by Wesley’s story and would like to consider a donation to Youth First this holiday season, please visit our website at youthfirstinc.org/donate. Write “Wesley’s Story” in the comment box.

Winners were encouraged to stop by the Jasper store to pick up their prizes. The event also highlighted the value of shopping local, where customers are known by name, not by a number. Disinger Jewelers provided personalized service and unique gift options, strengthening their connection with the community.

Even though the open house has passed, the store still offered a wide selection of beautiful pieces, perfect for last-minute Christmas gifts. The team welcomed shoppers, helping them find special gifts for their loved ones and making the holiday season brighter for the community.

Beta Gamma Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa holds monthly meeting

Beta Gamma Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa, an honorary sorority for women educators, met on Thursday, November 13, 2025, at Holy Family Fellowship Hall in Jasper. President Beth Meece welcomed all twenty-seven members. Instead of a guest speaker, members wrote messages of encouragement on pencils for eight graders to be given out in January by Dubois County Cares.

Chaplain Pat Seger gave devotions on “Reasons to be Thankful.” The minutes, sent out ahead of time, were approved with a motion from Clara Fromme and a second by Barb Kendall . Secretary Sue Ann Burns called roll and read a thank you note about Founders Day.

Treasurer Brooke Elrod announced she was still collecting dues. Altruistic Paula Peter reminded members that altruistic hours would be due at the end of February. Under Courtesy a sympathy card was sent to Paula Alles on the death of her father and a congratulatory card was sent to Kristy Dilger on the birth of a new granddaughter. For Fraternity Education Shelley Winzapfel passed out dice and sheets of paper for a gratitude game. Each member told for what she was grateful. Ways and Means Sandy Miller said members will have two different tote bags to sell. She also chose logos for the new shirts. Pat Seger passed out Necrology report forms for members to review and update.

The Dubois County Museum will have a cookie walk on December 13-14. The ADK Christmas party will be December 1 at the Huntingburg Country Club.

Brooke Elrod and Beth Meece decorated the ADK Christmas tree at the Dubois County Museum on November 11.

November birthdays are 10-Pat Seger and 20-Susan McGovren. Thank you to the November fellowship Committee of Shirley Messmer, Ruth Gehlhausen, Janet Kluemper, and Beth Meece. The next meeting will be the Christmas Party on December 11. The meeting closed with the singing of “The Lamp of Alpha Delta Kappa.”

Services Planned for 48th Anniversary Commemoration of 1977 UE Plane Crash

Evansville, Ind. — On December 13, 1977, a chartered DC-3 crashed just 90 seconds after takeoff from Evansville’s Dress Regional Airport. News quickly spread across the University of Evansville community that the plane carried men’s basketball Coach Bobby Watson, 14 players, 11 friends of the team, and a crew of five. For those who lived through that night, it will forever be remembered as “the night it rained tears.”

The crash was a staggering loss. At a memorial service held days later, Dr. Philip Ott, professor of philosophy and religion, reminded the community that “we do not choose to live. We do not choose to die. Life is a gift.” Former UE President Wallace Graves offered words of resolve, urging, “Out of the agony of this hour we will rise.”

Though the tragedy remains etched in UE’s history, the University came together with strength and unity, carrying forward in tribute to the 29 lives taken far too soon.

To commemorate the 48th anniversary, UE will hold a memorial service at 12 p.m. on Friday, December 12, open to the campus community and the public. The service is being held one day early this year, as December 13 falls on a Saturday.

The gathering will take place at Memorial Plaza, located behind Olmsted Hall. It will feature an invocation and message from Reverend Andy Payton, remarks from President Pietruszkiewicz, the reading of all 29 names, and a moment of silence.

Forty-eight years later, we honor each life taken too soon and remember the legacy they entrusted to us.

The University of Evansville is a private, comprehensive university with a solid foundation in the arts and sciences and professional schools in business, engineering, education, and health sciences. Established in 1854, UE is recognized across the globe for its rich tradition of innovative, academic excellence and dynamic campus community of #Changemakers.

Home of the Purple Aces, UE is located in the southwestern region of Indiana and offers over 75 majors, 17 Division I sports,

Introducing the new Dubois County Chamber website and enhanced member directory

By Angie Sanchez-Hostetter

My name is Angie Sanchez-Hostetter, and I am honored to serve as the new Director of the Dubois County Chamber of Commerce. Having lived, worked, and raised my family here, I have always believed in—and truly loved—Dubois County. This community is built on hard work, innovation, and heart, and I am excited to help take the Chamber to the next level as we support and elevate the businesses that make our county thrive.

Each week in this article, I'll be sharing updates on upcoming events, exciting news from our chamber members, and helpful tips and tricks for local businesses. My goal is to keep our community informed, engaged, and connected as we continue growing together.

We're starting off with something big: the launch of our brand-new Dubois County Chamber of Commerce website. Designed in partnership with Indigo Webservices, the redesigned site offers a clean, modern look and improved navigation to better serve our members and the community.

A major highlight of the new website is our enhanced, fully customizable Member Directory powered by Membee. Members can now personalize their profiles with updated business information, photos, social media links, descriptions, and more. This upgrade was created with one goal in mind—helping our members market themselves more effectively.

By giving businesses greater control over their listings, directory becomes a more powerful tool for visibility, customer engagement, and community connection.

Look for Angie's column inside beginning next week.

Indiana House approves new Republican-drawn congressional map

By OAN Staff
Katherine Mosack

INDIANAPOLIS, IN — Indiana state House Republicans have passed a new congressional map that would add two opportunities for the GOP to pick up seats ahead of the 2026 elections.

Republicans introduced the new map draft on Monday, and it was approved by a 57-41 vote.

The map may favor Republicans in all nine of the state's congressional districts, weakening the Democrats' hold on the 1st Congressional District, represented by Representative Frank Mrvan (D-Ind.), and the 7th Congressional District, represented by Representative André Carson (D-Ind.).

The map would split the left-leaning city of Indianapolis into several districts and also divide the state's Democratic-leaning northwestern region into two districts.

The GOP currently holds the remaining seven districts in Indiana.

Democrat representatives in the state have balked at the new map, saying it would dilute the voting power of Black Hoosiers — the African American citizens of Indiana.

Carson, whose district includes Indianapolis and has represented the area for the past 17 years, is the state's only Black member of Congress, and could now lose his seat.

"What we're doing today with this proposed legislation is taking away the rights of Black and brown people in Indiana," said state Representative Greg Porter, who represents Indianapolis.

"This is a direct attack on the system, but more importantly, it's a blatant tell that you don't care what Hoosiers want," said state House Minority Leader Phil GiaQuinta (D-Ind.).

Republican lawmakers have also warned that the new map may not garner enough support in the Indiana state Senate to fully pass. Representative Ben Smaltz (R-Ind.), who introduced the legislation, said that it was drawn by the National Republican Redistricting Trust, the group that also drew the map in Texas that was recently approved by the Supreme Court.

"While the census anchors the process, nothing in the law prevents a legislature from revisiting maps when circumstances demand it," he said on Friday in defense of the House-approved districts.

President Donald Trump congratulated Indiana's Republican lawmakers for the vote in a Truth Social post on Friday.

"It was my Honor to win Indiana six times, including Primaries, in 2016, 2020, and 2024, and this new Map would give the incredible people of Indiana the opportunity to elect TWO additional Republicans in the 2026 Midterm Elections. The Indiana Senate must now pass this Map, AS IS, and get it to Governor Mike Braun's desk, ASAP, to deliver a gigantic Victory for Republicans in the 'Hoosier State,' and across the Country," Trump said, while encouraging state Senators to "make the right decision."

Congratulations IU!!
